Argentina Grants Peron Opportunity For Escape

Paraguay To Grant Asylum To Ex-Dictator

Some Unrest At Rosario Reported Being Put Down

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 24 (AP)—Ex-dictator Juan D. Peron got Argentina's permission today to leave for asylum in Paraguay. And Provisional President Eduardo Lonardi named a Cabinet to pick up the governmental reins ripped from Peron's hands by revolt.

Lonardi's government, newly recognized by the Vatican and a half-dozen Latin-American republics, will have as its vice president Rear Adm. Isaac Rojas, the man who led the Argentine fleet in the armed services rebellion that toppled Peron Monday.

As promised yesterday by Lonardi, himself a major general and revolt leader, the Cabinet is made up largely of civilians. The Interior and Justice Ministry, a key post in the Argentine setup, went to Dr. Eduardo Busso.

Lonardi's government adhered to the Latin-American diplomatic code for losers in granting permission for Peron to leave freely the country he ruled with an iron hand for 10 years.

His office announced the new government respects the right of asylum and is giving full guarantees for Peron's safety.

Paraguayan Ambassador Juan Chaves announced Lonardi's government had issued a safe conduct pass permitting Peron to leave the country and travel to Asuncion to live.

Chaves said Peron, who sought protection of the Paraguayan Embassy and was placed aboard the Paraguayan gunboat Paraguay in Buenos Aires harbor after his forced resignation from the presidency, will leave for Asuncion tomorrow or Monday aboard another Paraguayan vessel. This is the gunboat Humaita, dispatched in midweek to carry Peron on the winding, five-day, 900-mile river trip to Asuncion. She anchored off Buenos Aires today.

Twenty or more Argentine soldiers armed with sub-machine guns guarded the gunboat on which Peron has been in refuge since Tuesday morning.

Under the Latin-American code, fleeing politicians who take refuge in a foreign embassy are granted the right to leave the country freely, without prosecution for political offenses.

Chaves said the government also gave safe conduct passes for Peron's last foreign minister, Ildefonso Cavagna Martinez, and for naval Capt. Enrique Noguera Isler and their wives, who took asylum in his embassy.

Peron's choice of Asuncion as a place to live in exile was to be expected. He had included Paraguay in his program of economic union of Argentina with various Latin-American nations. He visited Paraguay last year as an official guest of President Alfredo

Janet Rebuilding Power In Following Serpentine Course Across Caribbean

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 24 (AP)—Erratic Janet, the year's 10th tropical storm, skirted the oil fields of the Dutch West Indies and moved through the long, open corridor of the Caribbean Sea tonight.

The strangely pulsating storm blasted the British colonial islands in the Windward group earlier with 100-to-127-mile winds. Its force then dropped off to 75 to 85 miles an hour but late in the afternoon grew again to 90 miles an hour.

The storm was centered 320 miles south of Ciudad Trujillo, Dominican Republic, at 5 p.m. EST. It was on a westward course with gale winds 100 miles outward in the northern semicircle and 60 miles in the southern semicircle.

Storm warnings were up on the Paranagua peninsula of South America and at the islands of

Showers Forecast For Monroe Area

Partly cloudy with scattered thundershowers in the north and central portions today and tomorrow is the weather forecast for Louisiana.

A similar forecast is given for Arkansas.

The CAA weather station reported .05 of an inch of rain at Selman Field yesterday and maximum and minimum temperatures of 82 and 72 degrees.

Algerians Clash With French; 50 Insurgents Slain

ALGIERS, Algeria, Sept. 24—UP French troops and national police forces killed almost 50 black-clad members of the Algerian "National liberation army" and other rebels in clashes in the insurgent-infested Constantine department, army headquarters announced Saturday.

Across the border in Morocco tribal chiefs marched out of the hills to pledge their support to Sultan Mohammed Ben Moulay Arafa and to urge him to resist French efforts to ease him from his throne.

The fighting in Algeria highlighted developments in the past 24 hours in France's jittery North African holdings. The army headquarters said that security forces killed 10 known rebels and 11 "suspects" in two actions during the cleanup operations in Constantine.

Two Dynamite Trucks Smash Train; 65 Die

100 Injured In Mexico By 14-Ton Explosives Blast

GOMEZ PALACIO, Mexico, Sept. 12—UP—Hundreds of anguished relatives searched improvised morgues Saturday in efforts to identify fragments of bodies of those killed in a tremendous explosion when two dynamite-loaded trucks crashed into a train.

Fourteen tons of dynamite in the two trucks exploded when the speeding vehicles slammed into a three-car passenger and freight train at a crossing near here Friday night.

A check Saturday showed the preliminary report of at least 65 dead and 100 injured may be high, but the Red Cross and hospital doctors estimated the final toll could range from 20 to possibly 100.

Only 20 bodies have been identified thus far, Dr. Raul Guevara of the Gomez Palacio hospital said.

The improvised morgues resemble "butcher shops with pieces of bodies piled up in heaps," Dr. Guevara said.

Each truck was loaded with 300 boxes of dynamite weighing seven tons. The drivers apparently were racing when they struck the train about 8:15 p.m. cst Friday. The explosion tore a mighty gap in the ground and levelled nearby houses.

The truck drivers and crew of the train, a local operating between Torreon and Chihuahua, were among those killed.

The force of the explosion scattered bodies as far as 100 yards from the railroad crossing and one head was found one-half mile away in a cotton patch.

Dr. Guevara said there was "almost complete destruction of the bodies and this makes it impossible to tell how many dead we have found."

"We are trying to fit the bodies together but it is an impossible task. I have here in front of me," Dr. Guevara said as he talked by telephone to United Press, "a pile of human remains. It is difficult to say how many bodies could be in that pile."

A freak development of the accident involved a Torreon banker, Antonio Gilio, who was driving his car behind the second truck. When the explosion occurred, Gilio's car was smashed to pieces but he somehow escaped unhurt.

One important institution of Monroe, the Young Women's Christian Association, is in desperate need for support for the next few months. Directed by a highly capable and consecreted leader, Miss Bess Sharp, executive secretary, great progress has been made and many young women have been directed aright through this means. Also their home life, — in many cases in a home away from home — has been surrounded by careful, well - directed guidance.

Galveston Closes Up Its Vice Dens

GALVESTON, Tex., Sept. 24 (AP) They closed up the pleasure houses today in this island resort city where the visitor traditionally gets what he wants in the way of women, gambling and liquor.

The word went out from Police Commissioner Walter L. Johnston's office a day after Chamber of Commerce directors demanded "an end to the open flaunting of state and federal laws."

Johnston said his crackdown closed all prostitution, gambling and illegal liquor houses as of 6 a.m. "I mean tipbooks, punchboards," everything," he declared.

Tunnel Considered

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 24—UP—A request is expected to be made to the state highway board soon on how practical it would be to build a vehicular tunnel under the Mississippi River connecting Baton Rouge and Port Allen.

The East Baton Rouge city-parish council will consider next Wednesday asking the board to help finance a study of the project.

Big-3 Foreign Ministers To Meet, Plan Strategy

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 —UP— American, British and French foreign ministers meet in New York early next week in a major effort to crack Russia's stiffening policies on world disarmament and German reunification.

The meeting assumed new importance in the wake of Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin's letter to President Eisenhower on the East-West disarmament deadlock. Administration officials believed Bulganin tried to pin the disarmament deadlock on the United States.

They also believe the Russians are shifting their diplomatic guns to the disarmament issue to cover up their opposition to German reunification at next month's Big Four meeting at Geneva.

Disarmament and German reunification head the agenda at the Oct. 27 foreign ministers' meeting with Russia. But diplomats are pessimistic that any progress could be made on the two issues. Best hope for progress centers on reducing East-West cultural and trade barriers.

Advance Allied strategy is the job confronting Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay and British Foreign Secretary Harold McMillan in New York next Tuesday and Wednesday. German Foreign Minister Henrich von Brentano will sit in on the talks when the German problem is discussed.

Diplomats who met here this week in preparation for the New York meeting were reported to have recommended a series of Allied proposals on German unification and European security guarantees to put to the Russians at Geneva.

Agreement was reported on a basic point that a unified Germany must be included in any Allied-Communist agreement for European security.

ALLISON KOLB

Allison Kolb In Race For Auditor; Opposed By Dodd

BATON ROUGE, Sept. 24 (AP)—State Auditor Allison Kolb said today he will seek re-election in the January Democratic primary.

"I think I have earned the respect of the people of this state by conducting operations of my office on the highest possible level," he said.

The 40-year-old certified public accountant and attorney said he wanted to be known as the auditor who audits.

Kolb said he believes conscientious conduct in operations of the auditor's office during his first term has earned him the right to ask the electorate to return him another four years.

Kolb, running on Gov. Robert Kennon's ticket in the 1952 campaign, also was one of Kennon's chief political lieutenants.

He is opposed by former Lt. Gov. William J. Dodd, who announced for the auditor's office after considering running for governor a second time.

Kolb said his goal is 100 per cent accuracy and 100 per cent compliance with statutes in the handling of public money.

"When I took office in 1952, some 50 per cent of our audits contained some criticsm," he said. "Today, 95 per cent of our audits are completed with a word of praise instead of criticism."

Atomic Explosion Indicates Russia Continuing Tests

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 —UP— Russia set off another atomic explosion in "recent days, indicating a continuation of their tests of nuclear weapons," the Atomic Energy Commission announced Saturday.

AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss issued a terse statement that Russia had exploded another atomic weapon.

He said that further announcement "will be made only if some information of particular interest occurs."

The AEC had revealed previously that Russia was conducting a new test series.

That announcement in August was the first since early in 1954 that Russia was touching off more atomic weapons.

Saturday the commission merely said they were of "nuclear weapons." That could mean either atomic or hydrogen bombs.

The United States keeps tabs on atomic "shots" behind the Iron Curtain by detecting tell-tale radioactive particles in the air.

GOP In Chaos Over Prospects For '56 Race

Ike's Condition Puts Spotlight On Other Candidates

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24—UP—President Eisenhower's heart seizure Saturday shattered the confidence of Republican leaders that he will be a candidate for re-election in 1956.

Chaos and confusion was the only word to describe the situation in the Republican high command. The leaders were shocked. GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall had no adequate words to describe his feelings.

And aside from their personal, heartfelt feelings that the President would recover quickly from the attack, they began speculating about possible candidates for the Republican nomination.

Numbly, they began talking mainly about Vice President Richard M. Nixon. The youthful vice president was informed of the President's heart attack before it was announced in Denver.

Such precautions are necessary Although the seizure was described as mild—and there was no disposi-

Morrison Backs Dave L. Pearce For Re-Election

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 24 (Special) — Chep Morrison and Cap Barham today announced their endorsement of Commissioner of Agriculture Dave L. Pearce for re-election in the coming Democratic primary.

In his statement, Morrison said: "Due to my sincere desire to see the best qualified men available in all state offices, I take this means of endorsing Dave L. Pearce, our present Commissioner of Agriculture, as an independent candidate for that office and urge all other independent candidates to endorse him.

His selection for the 1954 award of outstanding State 4-H Alumnus and as "Man of the Year in Louisiana Agriculture" by a national farm magazine bears out the belief on the part of farm leaders that his administration of this important office has been outstanding, Morrison said.

"Not only has Dave Pearce distinquished himself in his profession, but his religious and civic activities have proven him to be a

Kanadys Await Arrival Of Son

HOUSTON, Sept. 24 —UP— The parents of Kilmus T. Kanady, Houston businessman, awaited further word Saturday from their son, just released by Communist China after long imprisonment.

The Kanadys said Saturday that Friday night was their first peaceful sleep in the nearly five years their son had been in Communist hands.

The father, Delbert T. Kanady, said he received a telephone call Friday night that his son was aboard a British freighter en route to Hong Kong.

For Ouachita Parish

Farm Development Plan Screening Panel Named

An Extension Service farm and home development program which was approved last June for Ouachita parish, yesterday moved a step nearer the operational phase with the appointment of a five-member committee to screen applications from families wishing to enroll.

Farm residents named to the panel were Arthur Sager, Ward Five; Mrs. Pearl Bower, Ward Two; J. B. Holley, Ward Four, chairman; W. E. Jones, Ward Nine, and Mrs. Marvin Shipp, Ward Four, secretary.

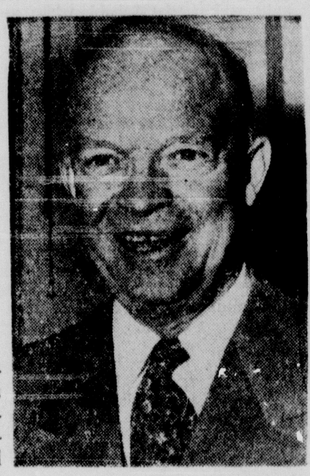

The committee was named by an advisory group composed of farmers, businessmen, and representatives from many phases of community life, to pass on applicants for participation in a program aimed at improving farm production and living standards.

The farm and home development plan is comparatively new to Louisiana where some 22 parishes are taking part in it, but it has been in operation under various names in some states for several years. Pioneering parishes in the northeast district are Franklin, Richland and Union where the program has been operating for a year or more.

In each parish details of policy for selection of participating families are decided locally because of varying circumstances, since one area might have a number of medium sized farms and productions problems not found in another section.

Because of the vast range of farm sizes in Ouachita parish—from a few acres to many large acreages—the advisory committee declined to set an initial policy on this requirement for program participation. Also left up to the screening committee will be the degree to

DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER

Doctors Report Prospects For Recovery Good

President Enters Denver Hospital After Seizure

DENVER, Sept. 24—UP—President Eisenhower suffered a heart attack early Saturday and was taken to Fitzsimons Army hospital here for treatment but the temporary White House said prospects for his recovery are good.

Assistant White House Press Secretary Murray Snyder said the President was taken to the hospital about 12 hours after he suffered the first stages of a coronary thrombosis attack early Saturday. Mr. Eisenhower had suffered an attack of "mild indigestion" Friday evening.

Maj. Gen. Howard Mc C. Snyder, the President's White House physician, reported less than an hour after Mr. Eisenhower reached the hospital that the President had been comfortable since the first attack of pain and that the "prognosis is good."

Meanwhile, Col. Thomas W. Mattingly, a heart specialist at Walter Reed Army hospital in Washington, was flying here Saturday to attend the President. He was accompanied by White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty.

The first announcement of Mr. Eisenhower's illness was made

Power Company To Double Plant Capacity By 1958

A 200,000 kilowatt steam-electric generating unit, which will be the largest in Louisiana and one of the largest in the South, will be constructed at Sterlington, near Monroe, by Louisiana Power & Light Company.

The announcement was made by W. O. Turner, president of Louisiana Power & Light Company.

Construction of the giant unit, which is sufficient in size to serve a city of approximately 350,000 population, will be started in the latter part of 1956, Turner said. He pointed out that the unit, scheduled to be completed in 1958, will bring Louisiana Power & Light Company's total generating capability to 675,000 kilowatts.

The Sterlington power plant, first placed in operation in 1927, already generates 147,000 kilowatts of the Company's present 475,000 kilowatts. The Company's other plant, located at Ninemile Point across the Mississippi River from New Orleans, has three units which together turn out 319,000 kilowatts.

Turner said the new unit, largest ever to be constructed in Lou-

Negro Witnesses In Murder Trial Leave Mississippi

SUMNER, Miss., Sept. 24 (AP) — A Michigan Negro congressman says he plans to find jobs in his state for two Mississippi Negroes who testified in the Emmett Till murder case.

James Featherston, in a copyrighted story in The Jackson Daily News today, said Rep. Charles Diggs (D-Mich.) told him he planned to find jobs for Willie Reed, 18, and Mandy Bradley, 50.

Both testified against Roy Milam and J. W. Bryant, who were acquitted yesterday of the murder of Till. The two Negroes planned to leave Mississippi today.

Diggs said Till's uncle, Mose Wright, also will leave Mississippi. The congressman said Wright, a small cotton farmer, has accepted a lifetime job at a nursery in Albany, N.Y.

Wright identified Bryant and Milam as the two men who took Till from his bed and drove off with him in a car.

Bryant and Milam were taken yesterday to the Leflore County jail in Greenwood. They still face charges of kidnaping in the Till case in Leflore County.

The two white men said they let Till go after they learned he was not the boy who had whistled at Bryant's pretty, 21-year-old wife.

A body identified as Till's was found Aug. 31 in the Tallahatchie River. The young boy was taken from his uncle's home early on the morning of Aug. 28.

Thousands Cheer Truman On Visit Into Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 24 (AP) —Thousands of people lined Little Rock's main street today to cheer former President Harry S. Truman as he paraded with fellow members of the 35th Division Assn.

Truman, who had said he would walk in the parade if his doctor would allow it, elected to ride in an automobile. When the association, which is composed of men who served in the Army's 35th Division during both world wars, last met here Truman marched at the head of the parade. He was an artillery captain with the division in World War I.

Nixon Informed Of Ike's Illness; Stays At Capital

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 —UP— Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the man who would become president in case of President Eisenhower's death, has no immediate plans to go to Denver, his office said Saturday night.

His secretary said Nixon was informed of Mr. Eisenhower's mild coronary attack even before it was announced in Denver. He is being kept constantly informed of the President's condition.

There was no immediate comment from the vice president on the President's attack. Nixon attended a wedding reception for a member of his office staff Saturday afternoon but arranged to keep in touch with Denver.

Nixon, 42-year-old former California senator and the GOP's top trouble - shooter during three years of Republican administration, would automatically become president with the death of the President.

Nixon and all of the members of the Cabinet are being informed of the President's condition by telephone from the summer White House in Denver.

Dorothy Cox, Nixon's secretary, said Nixon would not talk to reporters Saturday night. She said he had no plans to leave the city.

Under the law, the next in line of succession after the vice president is the speaker of the House —in this case, Rep. Sam Rayburn, Texas Democrat.

Seven presidents have died in office. The last was Franklin D. Roosevelt who succumbed suddenly to cerebral hemorrhage at Warm Springs, Ga., on April 12, 1945.

With his death, Vice President Harry S. Truman went into the White House where he remained until President Eisenhower became president Jan. 20, 1953.

West Texas Faces New Flood Threat

New flood warnings were issued Saturday night for the Uvalde-Crystal City area as rains measuring up to 10 inches were expected to cause "sharp rises" and extensive flooding of the Nueces River.

The Nueces flooding coincided with similar, but less dangerous, rises on the Rio Grande, which already was above flood stage at Del Rio and was expected to reach its highest level of the year at Laredo.

Numerous roads and low-level bridges were closed in South-Central Texas and the Corpus Christi Weather Bureau issued a new warning at 8 p.m. Saturday advising "ranchers and other interests" with livestock near the water to remove them immediately.

School Building Work Is Hinged On Bond Election

A number of parish school expansions and improvements are hinged on the outcome of bond election scheduled to be held soon.

The Ouachita Parish School board last week announced details of an expansion and renovation program to be financed by a bond issue on which the parish property owners will vote October 11. Included in the program will be the immediate construction of four new elementary schools and two junior high schools, the immediate construction of three vocational buildings, two shops, cafeteria building, four gymnasium-auditoriums, two athletic stadiums, and a number of additional classrooms. Funds will also be set aside for the expansion of existing schools when needed, including the purchase of sites.

The new schools will include a West Monroe Junior High School and another east of the Ouachita river. Also to be constructed are elementary schools in the Lake Shore area, White's Ferry, Swartz (Negro), and a new building to replace the present Ouachita Parish Grammar School. Funds will also be set aside for a new building at A. L. Smith School, to be built when the population justifies construction, and a new building at Ransom school, to be constructed when the present building has exhausted its usefulness.

A site will also be purchased for construction of a new school in the vicinity of the Brown Paper Mill.

Under the program, gymnasium-auditoriums are slated for construction at Swartz (white), Swayze, Woodlawn and Booker T. Washington schools. Both West Monroe High School and Ouachita Parish High School are scheduled to get athletic stadiums.

A cafeteria building is to be built at Logtown School, while vocational or industrial arts buildings are planned for Myles, Boley, Calhoun and Central High Schools.

In addition to the construction of new buildings, the program calls for the following renovations and improvements:

A. L. Smith School - purchasing building, and blacktopping of drives.

Fairbanks - repairing and renovating present building.

Myles - blacktopping drives.

Swartz (white) - applying brick veneer to building, painting existing building and cafeteria, landscaping campus, blacktopping drives.

Ouachita Parish High School—purchasing additional land, if possible, and a considerable amount of new furniture and equipment.

Ouachita Parish Grammar School - purchasing additional land, if possible.

Mt. Nebo - repairing and renovating building and the purchase of new furniture.

Swayze - Constructing four additional classrooms and plumbing, landscaping grounds and blacktopping drives.

Terzia — Constructing six additional classrooms (two specialized rooms), landscaping grounds and blacktopping drives.

Logtown — Constructing one classroom and a sick room, a pumphouse, improving grounds and purchasing furniture.

Union Baptist — Renovating building, constructing indoor toilets, puchasing new furniture and additional ground, if possible.

Crosley — Completely renovating present building, including installing a new heating system, repainting, replastering, installing asphalt tile floors and raising sidewalks.

Millsaps — repainting and replastering walls, adding tile floors, and a new lighting system, re-roofing and adding new heating system. Additional permanent class rooms will be constructed to replace temporary buildings as needed.

Lenwil—constructing eight classrooms, enlarging cafetorium, blacktopping drives and landscaping grounds.

Ransom - adding to cafetorium.

Tim Tippit - repainitng, adding asphalt tile floors, arcades and walks from the building to the cafeteria, repairing and renovating building and landscaping grounds.

Mitchell - Renovating present building, blacktopping drives and adding two additional classrooms.

Boley - purchasing additional property if possible, blacktopping drives, grading and landscaping the grounds.

Drew - bringing in natural gas lines and constructing additional classrooms when needed.

Claiborne - blacktopping drives, renovating old building and purchasing additional property, if possible.

Highland - adding four classrooms, enlarging cafetorium, purchasing additional land if possible and blacktopping drives.

West Monroe High School - adding to home economics department, improving drainage, improving physical education facilities, and clearing additional land.

Calhoun - renovating, repainting and replastering, adding asphalt tile floors, a new heating system, and lockers for gymnasium. Also planned is the moving of the gymnasium walls to increase seating capacity.

Eureka - repainting and renovating, adding asphalt tile floors and storm gutters.

Okaloosa - grading and landscaping, constructing arcades from the building to the cafeteria and gymnasium, adding classroom lockers, renovating cafeteria and blacktopping drives.

Central High - grading, landscaping, clearing additional land and blacktopping drives.

Woodlawn - repainting inside of the present building, landscaping and blacktopping drives.

Watson - renovating and painting building, installing tile floors and purchasing new furniture.

Cypress - refinishing floors, painting building, and purchasing new furniture.

Booker T. Washington - repainting building and blacktopping drives.

Accident Victim Here Is Reported As Resting Well

Clifton Gilliland, 39-year-old Monroe salesman who was injured Friday night in an alleged "hit and run" accident on Cypress St. in West Monroe, was resting well at St. Francis Hospital last night, a member of his family said.

His injuries were described as two punctures of the bladder, several broken ribs and a fracture of the pelvic bone. Physicians reportedly told members of his family that he should be past the crisis early today.

Wade D. Glover, 54-year-old Calhoun Negro, is being held by West Monroe authorities on charges of hit and run driving, reckless driving and doing personal injuries. A West Monroe officer said bond not been set in the case last night.

Witnesses told law enforcement officers that Gilliland was struck down by a truck as he started to re-enter his parked car at a curb market and that the truck didn't stop.

A short while later Glover was apprehended by state police west of Monroe on Highway 80 on a charge of driving without a tail light. A further check revealed that his truck jibed with the description witnesses gave of the 'hit and run' truck, law enforcement officers said.

Glover told officers that he didn't know he had hit anyone.

Gilliland, who has a wife and children, resides at Calhoun.

GINGER HENRY

BOBBY JOE ODEN

West Monroyan Is Named N. E. Yearbook Editor

Ginger Henry of West Monroe has been appointed editor of the 1956 Chacahoula, Northeast State yearbook. She is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High school, whee she was a member of both the yearbook and newspaper staffs. In her three years as a college journalism major, Miss Henry has been on the Pow Wow staff and was assistant editor of the 1955 Chacahoula.

According to the editor, this year's annual will have the school's 25th anniversary as a theme. The staff plans to produce a larger yearbook with a greater number of color pictures.

Bobby Joe Oden, a graduate of Neville High, Monroe, was named assistant editor of this year's book. He is a junior journalism major and college photographer. Oden, also a member of the Pow Wow staff, worked on both the yearbook and student paper last year.

Feature editor for the '56 edition of the Chacahoula is Melba Hill, West Monroe junior physical education major. Miss Hill worked with last year's yearbook staff and contributed articles to the Pow Wow.

Handling the sports section will be Danny Hoak. He is a sophomore elementary education major. Hoak is a member of the Indian football team and comes to Northeast from Hopwood, Pa.

Charlene Miller, a West Monroe sophomore, will fill the duties of class editor. Her journalistic experiences include work with the Pow Wow last semester and work on the yearbook at West Monroe High school before graduation.

A newcomer to the Northeast campus, Linda Daniels, will manage advertising for the yearbook. She comes from Missouri and Texas. Last year at Neville, she worked on the advertising and class sections of the annual. As a freshman, she plans to major in journalism and minor in art.

2 Soldiers Hurt In 3-Car Crash On Madison Road

DELHI, Sept. 24 (Special)—Two soldiers stationed in Alabama were enroute to Veterans Hospital in Shreveport tonight after suffering injuries in a three-car smash - up at 5:10 p.m. today on Highway 80 two miles east of here in Madison parish, state police revealed.

An investigating officer of the State Police force said a 1947 Chrysler driven by John Lee Nettles of Cameron, La., attempted to pass a 1955 Chevrolet operated by Mrs. Mary T. Thomas of Cullman, Ala. and smashed head - on into a 1950 Oldsmobile occupied by two soldiers. The impact knocked the Oldsmobile into the side of the Chevrolet, and the Chevrolet came to rest in the ditch on the right hand side and the Chrysler wound up in the ditch on the left hand side, the officer reported.

Both the Chrysler and Oldsmobile were reported to be total losses and damage to the Chevrolet was estimated at between $400 and $500.

Mrs. Thomas and her husband and small son who were accompanying her all escaped injury, and Nettles was not hurt, according to a physician, although he was thrown through the windshield of his car, the investigating officer said.

Nettles was given a check - up by a physician before being lodged in jail at Tallulah on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

State police had not learned the identities of the two soldiers because they were enroute to Shreveport. One, however, was reported to have suffered a fractured knee. They were enroute to their station when the smash - up occurred.

isiana, will fit into the general growth pattern of the Middle South Utilities system. Louisiana Power & Light Company is one of four operating companies of Middle South Utilities, Inc. Others include Arkansas Power & Light Company, Mississippi Power & Light Company, and New Orleans Public Service, Inc.

The utility president, in making the announcement of the unit's construction said:

"Sterlington was selected for the site of this new unit because it is well situated to take care of future expected power loads in the areas of North Louisiana, Mississippi and South Arkansas. It was also an attractive location with respect to fuel and water supplies.

"Besides these natural inducements, Louisiana Power & Light Company continues to place a deep faith in Louisiana's future growth. To permit the healthy, continuing growth of Louisiana's economy, it is necessary for our Company to have power ready when it is needed."

The new unit will be fired by natural gas, but its design will permit change-over to coal later if necessary, Turner said.

sincere Christian gentleman," according to Morrison.

Commissioner Pearce, accepting the endorsement, said he was "deeply grateful for Mayor Morrison's confidence," and pledged that he would continue to direct the work of his various divisions in a vigorous and efficient manner.

"I want to assure Mayor Morrison and the people of Louisiana that I am deeply grateful for their acceptance of my agricultural program for our state," Pearce said, "I have tried in the past to work for agriculture so that agriculture could, in turn, work for the betterment of all our people. I promise that I will work in the future toward the same end."

Pearce was the first state official to announce formally that he would seek his post again in the 1956 elections.

GOP In Chaos

tion in circles here to regard it as anything but that—the vice president would succeed Mr. Eisenhower should some unforeseen circumstance occur.

Others who were mentioned only faintly before as possible candidates were Senate GOP leader William F. Knowland of California, Gov. J. Goodwin Knight of California, Gov. Christian Herter of Massachusetts, and Gov. George N. Craig of Indiana. Now their names assume sudden new importance.

All of the President's Cabinet members were informed in telephone calls from the summer White House at Denver of the President's illness. Generally, they voiced belief the President was not in danger.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson took note of the political implications. He said he did not think the attack means the President definitely will not be a candidate in 1956.

"But, of course," Benson added, "It is too early to tell and I will await further reports."

Doctors Report

early Saturday when he failed to show up at his Lowry Air Force Base headquarters.

The assistant press secretary said then that the President was suffering from a "digestive upset," and later said that it was "indigestion."

The President was driven in his own automobile from the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. John S. Doud, to the hospital at about 2:35 p.m. MST (3:35 CST) Saturday. At that time the temporary White House announced that the President had suffered a "mild coronary thrombosis."

The President walked from the Doud house to his car and when he arrived at the hospital, he walked into the building and was taken by elevator to the eighth floor. There he was assigned a private room. His first callers were Maj. Gen. Martin Griffin, commanding general of the big Army installation, and the Rev. Robert S. Lutz, pastor of the Corona Presbyterian Church in Denver where the President and Mrs. Eisenhower regularly attend services when they are here.

But at 4:45 p.m. CST, the press spokesman disclosed that the President was originally stricken about 3:45 a.m. CST Saturday following the indigestion earlier Friday night.

Murray Snyder quoted Dr. Snyder as saying the President "had the first symptom of an occlusion, or thrombosis, at about 3:45 a.m."

Murray Snyder said "upon completion of his diagnosis, the general (Snyder) decided to move the President to the hospital where he could be given better treatment."

Dr. Snyder accompanied the chief executive on the seven-mile drive to the hospital.

Mrs. Eisenhower did not go with the President.

Webster's dictionary defines coronary thrombosis as the plugging of a blood vessel in the heart through the formation of a clot within its walls.

As soon as word of the attack first hit the radio airwaves, calls from various parts of the country, including members of the President's family, began pouring into the family home and the summer White House.

The assistant White House press secretary declined to speculate on the possibility that the President's stay in Colorado might be cut short.

The President had returned only Friday from a five-day fishing trip to the ranch of an old Denver friend, Aksel Nielsen, at Fraser, Colo.

He appeared tanned and hearty and well-rested by the trip, the second he has made to Fraser, 70 miles west of Denver in the Rockies, this summer.

Mr. Eisenhower played 27 holes of golf at Cherry Hills Country Club Friday afternoon and then went home to spend a quiet evening with Mrs. Eisenhower and her mother.

Mr. Eisenhower will be 65 years old on Oct. 14.

The new government now is recognized by Venezuela, Brazil, Uruguay, Peru, Chile and Ecuador.

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 24—UP—Troops with orders to shoot rioters on sight blocked off Rosario, Argentina's second largest city, Saturday and battled Peronist fanatics in its suburbs.

The new national government, pledged to a "regime of law" rushed in an infantry regiment to reinforce troops already in the city.

Officials reported 15 persons dead and 55 wounded in the central districts of Rosario during the last three days. At least seven civilians were reported dead in similar disorders in Cordoba and others were reported in Avellaneda, a suburb of Buenos Aires.

One flareup occurred in Buenos Aires, itself. Shocktroopers of the fanatically pro-Peron Alianza Nacionalista Libertadora occupied the Alea publishing building, tallest in Buenos Aires, facing the north basin of the harbor. A strong force of police, packing automatic weapons, surrounded the building and ordered the Peronists to surrender, and they filed out without a fight.

Group Is Seeking Preaus Draft For Governor's Race

Fred Preaus, Louisiana state highway board chairman from Farmerville, who has been mentioned often recently as a possible candidate for governor, yesterday became the object of a draft movement spearheaded by a group of Ouachita parish businessmen and civic leaders.

The announcement of the action was made late Saturday by Fensky Terzia, prominent Monroe businessman, and spokesman for the group which, he said, had just wound up a session planning the draft strategy.

Terzia declined to name others in the group, but said that there were a number of important businessmen and civic leaders who would identify themselves with the movement later if Preaus reacts favorably to their plea.

Preaus has been mentioned as a possible candidate in the coming primaries, and at least one newspaper has predicted that he will enter the race.

The spokesman for the parish group said that the persons who are "initiating this movement felt that the people of Louisiana had no desire to turn the state. . .over to designing politicians, and that their interest was to secure an acceptable candidate for governor who would continue policies of good government."

Preaus, the spokesman said, is a native of Union parish, a graduate of Louisiana Tech, and has been in close contact with people in many walks of life, and ". .has been closely associated all of his adult life with the industrial, economic, agricultural and social development, and has been a fighter for good government throughout the state."

Annual Barbecue Slated Wednesday By Retail Group

The annual Bar-B-Q outing of the Retail Merchants Association will be staged on Wednesday, at Fink's Hideaway, Chairman David C. Silverstein announced yesterday.

The colorful retail outing has been one of the most enjoyable affairs staged in the Twin Cities for the past decade and over two hundred local business executives and their guests are expected.

Mrs. Herbert Fink will coordinate the overall event and will be in charge of preparing barbecue steaks.

"The usual king-size steaks, wop salad, spiced beans and hors doeuvres," Chairman Silverstein stated, "will take the spot light away from business problems and sports as our members congregate for the affair."

Tickets for the affair can be obtained at the Chamber of Commerce offices until Tuesday afternoon, according to Merchant association officials.

All retail members are requested to observe the Tuesday, Sept. 27th, deadline for obtaining tickets in order that the planning committee may plan for the guests.

Senate Probers Studying Army's Sale Of Surplus

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 —UP— Senate investigators are checking reports the military has been selling good equipment as surplus and then spending heavily to buy replacements.

The Senate preparedness subcommittee wants to know whether the taxpayers' money is being wasted and whether "the left hand of the armed services knows what the right is doing."

Informed sources revealed Saturday that the subcommittee staff already has been looking into the problem for some time as part of a broad study of the defense program.

They said the group, headed by Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, opened the inquiry after hearing of several alleged instances in which the military ordered new supplies while it was selling the same items as surplus.

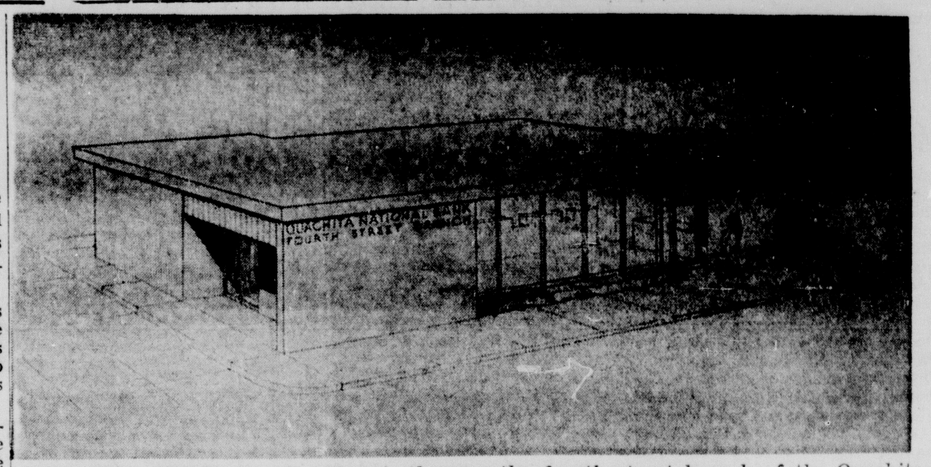

To evaluate these reports, subcommittee sources said, investigators have been checking military procurement records against surplus sales. Checks also are being made on the condition of used equipment which is being disposed as surplus.

Staff investigators are known to have been on hand at Pueblo, Colo., recently during the sale of surplus automotive equipment — cars, trucks, tractors and the like. A subcommittee source said it investigators were interested in the condition of the equipment being sold and whether it had fully outlived its usefulness.

They stressed that no findings have been drafted yet.

DRAWING SHOWS PLAN—Here is the way the fourth street branch of the Ouachita National Bank will look after enlargement work has been completed.

Plans Are Made For Enlargement Of Bank Branch

Plans for enlarging the Fourth Street Branch of the Ouachita National Bank were announced yesterday by R. L. Vanderpool, Jr., president of the bank. The branch was originally built in May, 1951. The customer acceptance was so favorable that the branch was first enlarged i.. the early part of 1952. The continued growth of the Louisville Avenue and Fourth Street area served by the bank has made this second enlargement necessary.

The expansion program will almost double the size of the branch. Additional teller windows will be added, the vault will be greatly enlarged, the lobby space will be substantially increased, coupon booths will be provided for safe deposit customers, and more work space for the bank's staff will be added. The building will be extended both on the north side towards Louisville Avenue and on the east side. The property adjacent to the branch on the east has been acquired by the Ouachita National Bank and will be paved to provide additional parking space for bank customers. Architect for the project will be L. Milton King and Charles E. Slade will be the general contractor.

Vanderpool stated "We are very pleased that the constantly increasing number of customers served by our Fourth Street Branch has made this second expansion necessary. The enlarged facilities will enable us to continue to provide the type of banking service to which our customers are entitled."

J. Herbert Walker, Assistant Cashier, has been manager of the branch since its opening and will remain as branch manager. Work is expected to start immediately.

District Legion Meets October 2 With Columbia

Local American Legion posts and auxiliaries together with all others in cities and towns of the Fifth district will meet in fall conference as guests of the Caldwell post No. 162 at Columbia on Sunday October 2.

Registration will begin at 9 a.m. in the Legion home in Columbia. The morning's program starts at 10 o'clock.

The call to order will be given by C. A. Barnett, Fifth district commander. Colors will be advanced and invocation will be pronounced by District Chaplain Mart Robinson.

There will be read the Preamble to the Legion Constitution and address of welcome will be given by Cameron C. Minard of the Caldwell post. Response will be given by Thomas Bass.

Mrs. Sherry Sherman will extend greetings from the Auxiliary to which response will be made by Mrs. Nellie Patrick, district president.

Distinguished guests introduced will be the following: Legion National Vice - Commander Leonard L. Jackson; Auxiliary, Mrs. Bessie Waldsworth and Fourth District Commander Ray Canus.

The formal address of the morning will be delivered by Department Commander Albert V. Labiche. After this talk the Auxiliary will be retired and a short recess taken.

At 11:20 there will be roll call of all posts. Panel instruction includes talks by J. H. Morris, department vice - commander; A. W. Rachal, district vice - commander; and Gilbert Hower, district vice-commander.

H. B. McClendon, of the L. B. Faulk Post, Monroe, will discuss Rehabilitation. For the good of the order will be the next topic after which the time and place for holding the spring conference will be determined.

Adjournment and lunch will next take place.

TEQUILA SALES UP IN U. S.

University Head Refuses To Reconsider His Firing Of Ex-Red Staff Member

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 —UP— Hurst R. Anderson, president of American University, said Saturday "no pressure under heaven" could force him to withdraw the firing of a professor who once belonged to three Communist cells in the government.

He said he felt that any relationship between the professor, Herbert Fuchs, and the university is "undesirable."

Anderson made his statement after Rep. Gordon L. Schrer (R-Ohio) said it would be a "terrible mistake" for the university to discharge Fuchs. The American Civil Liberties Union also came to Fuchs' defense.

Scherer, a member of the House Un-American Activities committee, said Fuchs had given the committee valuable information on Communist infiltration of the government. Fuchs is a former solicitor for the National Labor Relations Board.

Scherer said the committee has not received such important testimony "since the Hiss case." Anderson conceded that what he knew of Fuchs' testimony was "startling."

But he said that even though Fuchs had broken with the Communist party and is cooperating with the House committee, "I don't feel a man with that kind of background should be teaching in the university."

Anderson said his "first reaction was always to defend a man," but the more he learned of the Fuchs case "the more certain I was of the action to take."

"Scherer is just thinking of one thing," Anderson added. "He does not want to upset a witness who is talking.

"There is some merit in this position, but I have to think of the students at this university. This is no fly-by-night decision. We have taken three months to reach it."

Anderson said forcefully: "No pressure under heaven can force a college president to recommend a reappointment."

Actually, Fuchs is on leave until his contract expires next June. He is not teaching and his contract will not be renewed.

Town Attacked By Encephalitis, Fights Mosquitoes

FORT BRANCH, Ind., Sept. 24—UP—Townspeople and engineers battled swarms of mosquitoes Saturday as the death count here from "sleeping sickness" rose to seven.

Cases of the disease, a brain fever known technically as encephalitis, were reported from three southwestern Indiana counties and from one section across the Ohio River in Kentucky.

A check of health records revealed that two more persons have died of the disease. One victim listed previously, however, was found to have died of other causes.

At least 12 others were hospitalized, including three children. One person was reported in critical condition.

Dr. Arnold Brockmole, acting director of the nearby Evansville-Vanderbugh county health department who issued the casualty figurges, said he thought many mild cases of the disease were unreported.

A sore throat, he said, could be a mild form.

While professional exterminators sprayed marshes and ponds, health officials advised residents to brush house screens with insecticide in the battle against mosquitoes, believed to be carrier of the disease.

Officials also asked that rain barrels and other outdoor water receptacles be dumped out.

The outbreak, reported belatedly Friday by the Indiana State Health Department, was concentrated in this small town of less than 2,000 population. Five of the dead were from Fort Branch as were three of the hospitalized.

Dr. Raymond C. Geick, who treated seven of the victims, said his patients first noticed severe headaches and ordinary "flu" symptoms, then experienced a rise in temperature and became irrational and lost consciousness. He said he knew of no sure for encephalitis.

The cases appear to be identical, he said, with those of a sleeping sickness epidemic that swept St. Louis in the 1930's.

My Favorite Store Because:

. . . in addition to quality merchandise, The Palace offers: dependability . . . courtesy . . . convenience . . . and many other wonderful services!

I know that The Palace is the easiest, most convenient place to shop in Monroe. I like being able to shop for myself, my family and my home all in one store . . . and having my choice of ways to pay: Regular charge account, club plan, and lay-away for things I won't need for awhile (such as Junior's Christmas wagon). I like the convenience of parking just behind the store . . . just a few steps and at no cost to me. I like being able to have my purchases gift-wrapped free of charge, mail-wrapped and mailed right from the store. And when I'm through shopping, I like to know that the things I can't take will be delivered to my home. Those are just a few things that make me say, "The Palace is my favorite store."

A Sabbath Editorial

The vitality of the Christian religion astounded Rome under the emperors, when Christianity was a small and obscure sect inspired by a humble Galilean carpenter named Jesus, who, according to his followers, rose from the dead after being tried, condemned and crucified on a cross, between two thieves; having been found guilty of political crimes, with his accusers the scribes and pharisees of Israel. Pontius Pilot, a Roman, was his judge.

The doctrine of a Messiah, a Savior and Redeemer called Jesus the Christ, clashed violently with the prevailing religious beliefs, which visioned a multitude of gods with human attributes and human frailties, lusts of the flesh.

The Christians were persecuted and they found refuge in the catacombs, deep subterranean caverns, but their dynamic doctrine spread and found constantly new converts; and among these were thinkers and intellectuals, inspired by the teachings of Christ and his disciples, and particularly influenced by the eloquent St. Paul.

Under the rule of Constantine the Great, who lived from a probable 288 to 337 A. D., the persecution of the Christians ceased and Christianity became the favored religion of the Roman Empire.

Why was the Christian religion in three centuries able to rise from a position of obscurity to one of great power?

Why has it been able to survive as a tremendous living force through the centuries, despite occasional abuses and errors committed by some of its spokesmen and leaders?

Why is it today the most powerful force on earth in defiance of human enslavement to communist doctrines, that preach subserviance of the individual to the state?

Christianity, as embodied in Christ's teachings and those of the Apostles, glorifies the individual as a child of God. It establishes a covenant between the individual and the Deity. It teaches that man's first and foremost duty is to obey the terms of this covenant—to live a righteous life.

It places the individual above the state—although recognizing the rights of the state. It places conscience above expediency, and, above all, it establishes a code of moral conduct governing human lives.

The importance of this code cannot be overestimated.

It offers, and will offer to the end of time on earth, a meaning to existence; a challenge to all that is highest and best in human nature. It exalts the great virtues of faith, hope and charity. It places a premium upon goodness, that powerful dynamic human force that leaps international barriers and the restrictions of geography, race and creed, to blossom in strange places, and is awe-inspiring in many of its sublime manifestations.

Christianity provides a quiet assurance that the Marxist doctrine of economic determination is false; and that Marxism, far from being the ultimate and final state of society, is a troubled and sinful and transient state, born of confusion and misery and agitated by false prophets, and embodying worship of false gods; a worship of golden idols, a vast worldwide attempt to enslave human thought and fetter human ambitions and to substitute for God an incredibly dull and lifeless mechanistic universe, without known cause or effect; the reduction of man to a sodden mass of serfs and slaves cringing under the whiplash of dictatorship; a worship of stateism.

But Christianity provides far more than that: A challenge to every individual on earth, a clarion call to right living, under the Golden Rule; an inspiration in the present and a Divine promise of the future; a personal challenge to man, that he live nobly and unafraid; the eternal challenge and call embodied in the words of the Christ the Savior:

"Come unto me all ye that are weary and heavy laden, for I shall give ye rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls.

"For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light."

Verdict In The Till Case

A jury in Sumner, Miss., has acquitted two young ex-service men charged with the murder of a 14-year-old Negro youth from Chicago.

This "wolf whistle" murder case has been expanded into a national sensation, largely through the agitation of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. The NAACP, at the outset, charged that a "lynching" had occurred, and denounced, beforehand, the people of Mississippi and its machinery of justice and its newspapers.

Yet a Mississippi grand jury indicted the two defendants on charges of kidnaping and murder. The kidnaping case has not as yet been tried. Gov. Hugh White appointed a special prosecutor to aid the regular prosecutor, District Attorney Gerald Chatman. There was no delay in bringing the defendants to trial.

District Judge Curtis Swango, Jr., presided with dignity and fairness. The prosecutors made every effort to obtain a conviction, in line with their sworn duty.

A member of the jury stated after the verdict was returned that in the jury's opinion the State had failed to establish firmly that the body fished from the Tallahatchie River a few days after the youth's disappearance was that of Till.

This case developed at a time when tension over the U. S. Supreme Court order abolishing mandatory public school segregation is rife in land.

It has been exploited luridly in the press of the North and East, particularly in Negro publications.

It has brought a revival of bitterness between the white and colored races that had died gradually after Reconstruction. It has tended to obscure the real and vital issues involved in the segregation decrees.

Nobody in the South condones violence or private vengeance in the handling of such incidents. Every responsible official and white citizen in the South, and many Negro spokesmen, are working constantly to keep down racial friction and bring about better relations between the races.

The State of Mississippi has fulfilled its duty, insofar as the murder charge is concerned. The defendants have had a fair trial, and the jury has returned its verdict.

Let us hope that some of the agitation will die down, and the NAACP effort to inflame the negroes of America over this incident will be halted by whatever sense of responsibility that organization may possess.

Big Problems

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

I feel this is for a worthy cause since I read the article in your paper this morning in regards to the 260-acre tract offered for a new industrial site. I think it's a wonderful site as my family and I drove past it yesterday evening and commented on it before we realized what it was intended for. However I think there is more to getting industries there than just sites, for instance — the people who make up these industries are sure to come, partly at least, from other states. Also, they as I may love the state of Louisiana, however if they cannot make their homes here and pick their own kind of doctors, which at present isn't allowed they might move elsewhere.

That's a big problem to us as well as others. I know as my entire family use the chiropractors and as yet they cannot get a license to practice in this wonderful state. I think it is an insult to the state of Louisiana and especially to our beautiful city of Monroe. Our state and two others stand alone. I sincerely hope something will soon be done.

Religion Always Wins Out

Lafayette, La.

Editor, Morning World:

The ousting of President Juan Peron by the Argentine government shows that religion is stronger than any dictator or dictators' powers as they have God behind them, and they will win out and survive, no matter what the price.

Whether Jewish, Catholic or Protestant, each person has a right to his own religion and should be free to worship God in his own faith and choice.

Through past history religion always won out in the end, no matter how bloody the wars and how much the people were persecuted in following their faiths.

ERNEST L. CASTEL.

Not For Sale

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Much has been said and written about the citizens and down town Monroe neglecting to display the flag. To display the flag and not abide by the principles for which it stands is even worse.

This nation was founded on the principles of government, by and for the people and the individual rights of citizens. The right to worship as we please, the right to own our own homes and live in them as long as we please if we pay our taxes and are law abiding citizens.

We as taxpayers elect a school board to represent us in the administration of the school system, support them with our tax money and depend on them as intellectual citizens, to deal with each problem with fairness and justice to all.

Are we as American citizens going to stand by and see the Ouachita parish school board force two widows who reside in the 700 block of St. John street from their homes? Both of them need their homes, their property and the present locations as a source of revenue. These people have paid taxes on this property for nearly forty years; supported the schools and the school board and now the school board wants to take their property at their own price and not at what the owners would ask if they wanted to sell.

Is this America the land of the free and the home of the brave? Are we going to let this take place in our own fair city of Monroe.

And prior to that, as a staff member at Louisiana State University, part-owner and managing editor of The West Carroll Gazette, Oak Grove, as well as a staff member of several Louisiana and other-state metropolitan daily newspapers — following attendance, as a youth, at L. S. U. and the University of Missouri. And, too, as a director for several terms of the Louisiana Press Association and as president of that association in 1947-48.

I am a native of West Carroll parish, and have spent the major portion of my life there and in Franklin parish, where I have been a reasonably successful newspaperman-businessman and a reputable and responsible citizen.

The nature of my work throughout most of my adult lifetime has necessarily kept me in close touch with the agricultural, business, industrial, civic, cultural — and particularly, governmental — affairs in, and affecting, our Northeast Louisiana area. And during the period since last January, my current work has placed me in an unsurpassed position to observe and study the legislative branch of our national government in action.

On the basis of that background, I am impelled to comment that the letter published in your "Public Forum" in the issue of September 18, signed by "A. R. Scott," whom, incidentally, I do not know, is, in my opinion, representative of a great deal of biased, prejudiced, uninformed or ill-informed expressions of opinion of a type in which many people indulge—frequently in attempts to grind some of their personal or political axes.

It is not my purpose to "answer" Mr. Scott's assertions, most of which were so obviously irresponsible. But I do want to point out that, on the basis of the record, we here in Northeast Louisiana are rather fortunate in the quality of our congressional representation.

Furthermore, on the basis of careful, open - minded personal study and observation, I am completely convinced that our own member of Congress — Representative Otto E. Passman — and the majority of members of Congress are conscientious, hard - working and high-minded men, dedicated to the effective performance of their manifold duties.

Frankly, many of our people have some curious attitudes toward the men and women we elect to Congress. We entrust them with perhaps the major share of the national destiny. We expect them to be as wise as Solomon and as accommodating as the corner druggist. Yet, at the same time, many people — such as, for example, Mr. Scott — have an erroneous, distorted picture of a Congressman, and of his work.

It is certainly too bad that such a picture exists at all, because, of course, it isn't true. The fact is that your average member of Congress is not only as intelligent as the next man, if not actually more so on the average, and possibly a little more conscientious—but he is overworked by any standard, underpaid in relation to the responsibilities he bears, and considerably underappreciated.

The average member of Congress works long and hard, keeping up with hundreds of items, doing arduous committee work, meeting people, making difficult decisions, engaging in debate, and other important activities.

Congress is certainly no place for a lazy man. The vast extension of our national government has given Congressmen more work than there are hours in the day, or days in the week, properly to perform.

And the peculiar relationship of the Congressman to the public—which apparently expects him to be part statesman, part fixer, and always accessible — takes up a fantastic amount of his time.

I, myself, have no doubt that even the laziest Congressman in Washington works harder — and perhaps more conscientiously — than from at least 80 to 90 per cent of the people in private life.

Of course, the Congressmen are human — some of them all too human — and often they are wrong.

But our Congress is made up in the main — not completely, of course — of intelligent, serious, thoughtful and diligent men and women, who sometimes — more precisely, often times — give of themselves and of their means more prodigiously and more generously than they should. Certainly, our own member of Congress is in that category.

If I may be permitted to express the thought, it is my idea that it will be many, many years before we, of this area, ever receive more conscientious, industrious or generally better quality Congressional service than we are fortunately receiving now.

'I've Learned My Lesson'

Lake Charles, La.

Editor, Morning World:

(Editor's Note — The letter published below was received by a house father at Louisiana Training Institute. Due to its merits and the influence which the state school had shown over the author of the letter by making him a better citizen, the letter is being published for the benefit of the community.)

"Just a few lines to say hello. How's everybody at L. T. I.? Fine, I hope.

"Well, Mr. Walker, I am going to the Army tomorrow. I'm to be stationed at Camp Chaffee, Arkansas. I got the itchy feet to travel again so I signed up for the Army on the 6th and I'm leaving on the 13th.

"I told you I would never go to Angola and I won't. I've learned my lesson and now I'm going to try and make something out of myself. Nobody holds anything against me and I believe I'll make out okay. Hope so anyway. Hard work never hurt anybody and that's what I'm going to have to do to correct my wrong. If anybody can make it, I can. I only hope that the other boys that wear the same shoes I did, will come out of L. T. I. as I have. It helped me a lot. If L. T. I. could help the other boys like it has helped me the old world would be a lot better off.

"I just wanted to thank you for helping me get on the right path again. I respect a fellow like you, that tries to help others that have done wrong. Thank you from the bottom of my heart.

"ONE OF YOUR BOYS."

"P. S. Thanks again and I'll let you know how I make out in the Army later on."

Offer a Prayer

IF WE would give someone a gift . . . To show how much we care . . . The finest present from the heart . . . Is just to say a prayer . . . A prayer that God will bless that soul . . . And help it on its way . . . With health, success and happiness . . . To reach its goal some day . . . No gift of any worldly goods . . . Can be of equal worth . . . Not all the gold and silver and . . . The diamonds on earth . . . Such riches have no value in . . . The kingdom that is God's . . . (Against our chance of being saved . . . They may increase the odds) . . . But every little prayer we say . . . For someone else's soul . . . Will help that kindred spirit gain . . . Its great, eternal goal.

Capitol Quotes

Well Liked — "Our forces (in Austria) were apparently well liked . . . A ceremony was held marking the end of the occupation. When the American flag was lowered, there was practically no applause, showing that the people were not happy to see our forces leave, but the lowering of the Russian flag was greeted with wild applause." — Rep. William G. Bray (R Ind.).

Free Growth — "Our phenomenal growth since this government was organized has been due to the free enterprise system . . . Capital alone could not do it, and labor alone could not, but both working together did accomplish amazing results . . . Every advance made in the cause of labor can be attributed to the fact that the laborers became organized . . . it has been demonstrated, time and time again, that when capital and labor are willing to work harmoniously, each receiving its just and fair share, there is no substitute for free enterprise, and the public generally applauds . . ." Rep. Usher L. Burdick (R N. D.)

Everybody Talks — "It is so different when you walk along the street and everybody speaks whether they ever knew you before or not. That is one of the things that I can't get used to back East. Apparently you are not supposed to speak to anyone there unless you have been properly introduced. I don't always obey this rule, and you would be surprised at the number of people who return the greeting and then watch you for a block down the street trying to think where in the world they have met you." — Rep. Walter Rogers (D Texas)

Economy — "The national economy today is healthy and vigorous. This is a reflection of the ever increasing productive capacity of our industries, the favorable situation in the world market and the skill of our labor force. There are, however, various areas and industries throughout the nation where the general prosperity is hardly apparent. These areas must be of great concern to both the Congress and all our people, for, when one or more segments of the economy are in trouble a chain reaction may be started causing a recession throughout the nation."—Rep. Frank Thompson (D N. J.)

Disaster Control — "Secretary of Army (Wilbert M.) Brucker has publicly suggested that the warning net during Hurricane Diane did not function fully, and since the weather bureau appropriations have been cut, I think this entire problem should be reviewed in order to ensure the best possible warning system . . . I plan to introduce in the next session of Congress a resolution to create a Congressional committee to look into the questions of hurricane control through scientific means, increased attention to flood control along the eastern seaboard, more adequate warning systems and a possible federal reinsurance program to enable insurance companies to extend flood and hurricane coverage to small property owners." — Rep. Harrison A. Williams, Jr. (D N. J.)

Physical Fitness — "Something must have happened to us since the days of Davy Crockett . . . A report . . . shows that American youngsters from 6 to 16 years of age are far inferior in strength and muscular flexibility to children of the same group from Italy, Austria, and Switzerland . . . all of which should be enough to make us sit up and take notice . . . a flabby nation physically becomes a flabby nation mentally and spiritually." — Sen. George H. Bender (R Ohio)

Education—"Our education problem now is two - pronged: a shortage in teachers, and a disgraceful lack of proper classroom space . . . only about 6,000 classroom teachers in the entire country are paid as much as $6,500 a year . . . most states and school districts cannot cope with the increase in school population, a shifting school census, and a teacher shortage . . . it is a matter of federal government concern and obligation . . . it is a top - drawer job for Congress." — Rep. Earl Wilson (R Ind.)

Postal Service — "I think all members of Congress well realize that there are many matters in connection with the postal service which can and should be taken up at the next session of Congress . . . I certainly need not stress . . . the need for improved highways . . . Our present highway system is already inadequate and it is a matter of urgent necessity that we bring our highways up to the standards demanded by present and future requirements." — Sen. Edward Martin (R Pa.)

Quiet Revolution — "The . . . administration's emphasis on having the states and local communities assume more responsibility for their own affairs is working a quiet revolution throughout the country. Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell reports that more social legislation was enacted by the states this year than in any year since 1939 . . . This is a highly significant trend." — Rep. Frances P. Bolton (R Ohio)

Comics — "Much remains to be done in getting trash off the newsstands . . . against magazines which are not just trash, but are actually pornographic . . . there must continue a relentless police crackdown." — Sen. Alexander Wiley (R Wis.)

The Economy — "The collapse of farm prosperity and the fact that . . . millions are unemployed come as a direct result of the incapacity of the Republicans to comprehend the dynamic character of the American economy and the achievements of which it is capable." — Rep. John A. Blatnik (D Minn.)

IN WASHINGTON

1956 Campaign Speeches

The day of the smoothie in politics is at hand, if the suggestion of Republican National Chairman Leonard Hall that the GOP pick good-looking young men for congress becomes a matter of party principle.

T-V is for looks, though intelligence and personality have their part, too. But the question which concerns congressmen who have not been endowed with a modest share of masculine beauty, is whether Adonis, rather than Demosthenes, is to become the model for aspirants to the U. S. House and Senate.

It must be admitted that the halls of congress are filled with ordinary looking men of little more than average ability. But in one respect they are far ahead of the ordinary run of males. They can think of more ways to promote themselves for reelection than advertising men can conceive ideas to sell gadgets.

But next year presents new difficulties. Practically every member by now has appeared on T-V. Some love it, some hate it. Its cost takes a terrific wallop at any political campaign budget. Speeches can be recorded in a studio in the house office building, recorded by a competent crew, but the cost of the telecast, on a local station is not included. That may run from $10 to $100 a minute, depending on the size of the studio.

At the national political headquarters, the swing is all toward T-V. Their biggest budget items next year will be for evening T-V time. Both the Democrats and Republicans are lining up time a year in advance. They expect to spend, by present estimates, about $3,000,000 apiece for national T-V networks. Since the networks themselves will have to bear a good part of the cost of telecasting the two national conventions, their proposition to both political headquarters for campaign time will probably be cash on the barrelhead, which means intensified efforts to raise money.

As is usual with the party in power, the Republicans are moving ahead of the Democrats with their program of "Salute to Eisenhower" dinners on Jan. 20, 1956 at $100 a plate. Over closed circuit T-V, which means you can't watch for free, President Eisenhower will address approximately sixty of these dinners, with contributors lured by the probability that he may formally announce his candidacy then. The GOP expects to raise $2,000,000 from that occasion, something unparalleled in the financial history of politics.

The Democrats are pondering ways to compete but they simply can't figure any candidate with enough drag to raise $2,000,000 at a single stroke. A little quiet reflection would indicate how important that is to the future of politics. The popular candidate can raise a large part of the money for his T-V campaign on a pay-as-you-listen basis.

Where presidential candidates and some lesser aspirants used to surround themselves with newspapermen to advise on press relations, the trend now is toward public relations men, on the ground that they have more training in the T-V field.

Whether they like it or not, newspapers and radio will be taking second place to T-V on major campaign speeches. The old tiresome nationwide campaign tours, originated 60 years ago by William Jennings Bryan, will vanish from the American scene, and so will the "whistle stop," which Harry S. Truman employed in his 1948 defeat of Thomas E. Dewey.

The smarter congressmen, already alerted against the approach of opponents attracted by their $22,500 salary, are not worried by the encouragement given by Hall to the young Adonis type. They figure the old technique they have used on the stump will be just as compelling on T-V, on which they cannot be heckled.

It is too early to tell whether T-V, plus the $22,500 salary will produce a superior type of congressman. Recalling the exciting rallies, parades and the long trips taken by the voters to see their heroes in person, it may be assumed that the T-V will produce a lazier electorate.

CURIOSITY PAYS

ELKIN, N. C. (AP)—Curiosity paid off for 6-year-old Janice Marshall.

While playing in a smokehouse at her home, she saw a mouse run into a hole in one of the logs. She gouged at the hole and uncovered a small tobacco sack containing some money but couldn't get the sack out.

Her father sawed the log in two and found $160 in old U. S. currency. Marshall doesn't know how the money got there. He plans to redeem it and buy U. S. savings bonds in Janice's name.

MacLean Case

Police Net Was Closing On Spy British Report

LONDON, Sept. 24 (AP)—The British government announced yesterday that master spy Donald Maclean fled with fellow diplomat Guy Burgess just as a carefully woven security net began closing around him.

An official statement suggested that a shadowy "third man" possibly tipped off Maclean and Burgess at the eleventh hour.

But if such a man exists, he walks about as freely at this moment as he did on the night of May 25, 1951, when Maclean and Burgess slipped out of England to seek sanctuary behind the Iron Curtain.

The statement said searching interrogations were made to find out if they were tipped off but "insufficient evidence was obtained to form a definite conclusion or to warrant prosecution."

Britain now presumes Maclean and Burgess are serving as advisers to the Soviet Foreign Office. It has been noted here that their arrival in the Communist world coincided with introduction of a more subtle form of Soviet propaganda against the West.

The government statement was published as a White Paper. This little eight-page pamphlet told in restrained words the amazing account of a Soviet spy network stretching from the Kremlin to the upper echelons of the British Foreign Office, with Red agents operating in quiet English villages and amid the smoke and bustle of London's docks.

The White Paper devoted most of its space to the 42-year-old Maclean. He is pictured as the dominant one of the two. And it was to him that suspicion pointed when Britain discovered as far back as January 1949 that diplomatic secrets were leaking to Soviet authorities.

Except for biographical details very little is said about 44-year-old Burgess.

GEORGE FERRINGTON

Ferrington In Franklin Parish Sheriff's Race

WINNSBORO, Sept. 24 (Special)—George B. Ferrington, town marshal of Winnsboro, has announced his candidacy for the office of Franklin parish sheriff, subject to the action of the voters in the democratic primary January 17, 1956. He will be on leave of absence from his duties as town marshal from October 15, through January 17.

In announcing his candidacy, Marshal Ferrington, a native of Franklin parish, said, "I offer to Franklin parish voters 23 years of experience, guaranteeing a sheriff's department as good or better than we have ever had. I am making the race for sheriff as an independent candidate. If I am elected, I intend to be under obligation to the people only — not to a party or a political faction."

Ferrington began his career as a law enforcement officer in 1932 as night marshal of Wisner. In 1934 he was elected marshal of Wisner, serving in this capacity until 1936 when he became deputy sheriff under Sheriff Ed Randall. In October, 1945, he left the sheriff's force to finish the unexpired term as town marshal of Winnsboro vacated by C. L. Smith. He has been elected Winnsboro marshal for three consecutive terms.

The candidate issued a brief outline of his program as follows:

"If elected sheriff of Franklin parish, it is my intention to first divide the office into two departments, the civil and criminal. To the civil department I plan to assign one deputy, who will also supervise funeral processions.

"For the criminal division, I firmly believe that three good men can adequately protect the citizens of Franklin parish and enforce its laws. The best of the three men I propose to send to the Federal Bureau of Investigation academy for training in gathering, preserving and presenting evidence.

"In addition, it is my intention to keep complete records of every crime, solved or unsolved, committed in the parish. These records will include pictures, fingerprints and full descriptions when circumstances warrant them.

"I also pledge to you that I will reduce by a considerable amount the annual expenses of the sheriff's office."

Marshal Ferrington is married to the former Miss Mona Stephens of Wisner. The couple has one son, George, Jr., now a 1st lieutenant with the United States Marine Corps.

Communications Plan For Radar Net Again Rapped

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 —UP— Rep. John W. McCormack (D-Mass.) charged anew Friday that the Air Force signed contracts for a controversial $240 million-a-year radar communications system without first telling Congress.

The House Democratic leader said that put Congress in a position of having to pay the bills or subject the government to damages for breaking the contracts. The Air Force insists it gave Congress full details of the program.

McCormack, who earlier described financing plans for the "Sage" air defense system as a "bonanza" for private industry, renewed his attack in a telephone interview from Boston.

"You can be sure it's going to be investigated," he told a reporter.

The House Appropriations committee has begun a preliminary inquiry to see if a full-dress investigation is warranted.

The plans call for the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. to operate 25,000 communications circuits to tie the far-flung air defense system together. The Air Force then would lease the facilities at an expected maximum rate of $240 million a year.

It costs the Army $3,200 to clothe, maintain and train an inductee the first six months of his service.

TGT System Gets Authorization To Expand Facilities

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP)—The Power Commission yesterday authorized Tenn. Gas Transmission Co. Houston, Tex., to expand its natural gas pipeline system at an estimated cost of $56,001,000.

The expansion is designed to increase the system's daily capacity by 107,610,000 cubic feet.

It will permit service to new customers located along the company's system from Missssippi and Louisiana to Pennsylvania and New York. Additional supplies of gas also will be available for 22 existing customers.

At the same time the commission authorized two customer companies of Tennessee and one of the new customer companies to build new pipelines.

New customers Tennessee will serve include Walnut, Miss., and United Gas Pipe Line Co., Shreveport, La., to serve Coffeeville, Miss.

United Gas Pipe Line Co., a new customer, will build about one mile of line in Yalobusha County, Miss., to transport gas to United Gas Corp. for resale in Coffeeville. Estimated cost of these facilities is $12,544.

Traffic accidents will claim 55,000 lives a year in the U. S. by 1965 if the volume of cars increases the expected 50 per cent by that time.

GRILL MANAGER—H. E. (Speedy) Price, above will be the manager of the new Louisville Grill at 2400 Louisville Avenue, it was announced by J. L. Warren, owner. The new restaurant has its formal opening Monday. Price has had 15 years experience in the catering business, five of which he has spent on Louisville Avenue.

Nation's Business Hits Record Clip; New Peaks Predicted During Week

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (AP)—New peaks for the nation's business were forecast this week as the economy rolled along at a record clip.

Calling the tune was the U. S. Chamber of Commerce with a rash of buoyant predictions that dominated the financial pages. New heights in business activity, it said, are just ahead.

But there were plenty of other hopeful signs. For example:

Carloadings, highest since October 1953; soft coal production, greatest in nearly three years; business loans by New York banks at their highest level in 20 months; steel output 41 per cent ahead of the year-ago rate, auto output up 100 per cent.

Brisk autumn weather spurred retail sales in many areas. Auto retailers at long last were getting out from under staggering inventories that had all but overwhelmed them three months ago. Record September sales were reported by General Motors and Chrysler.

The construction boom was going full blast again after an early summer decline—housing starts in August showed a gain of 6½ per cent over July. Dun & Bradstreet said building permits issued in major cities during August were up 8.6 per cent from July in dollar volume, up 21 per cent from a year ago and higher than in any other August on record.

Corporate news was on the bullish side, too. Shareholders of General Motors approved a three-for-one split of the stock proposed by directors last July; directors of Sears, Roebuck & Co. proposed a three-for-one stock split and raised the dividend. There were rumors of a Chrysler stock split.

The stock market thrust to another all-time high. The Pennsylvania Railroad, one of the biggest U. S. corporate enterprises, reported that its profits for the first eight months of 1955 were three times greater than in the same eight months of 1954, when things weren't going too well for the railroads.

Best measure of the page of the nation's business could be found in the latest statistics on steel production. For two weeks now, output has been at the rate of 95.7 per cen of capacity. That's the highest since June.

The trade publication Iron Age said it's a good bet that 1955 will be an all-time production year for steel.

Women's Christian Assoc. Urgently Asks Aid

The sum of only $15,000 is needed to carry the Twin Cities Young Women's Christian Association through the present year and to October, 1956. This sum also will include the payment of the entire mortgage on the house, old colonial mansion at 1515 Jackson street.

This house, formerly the home of a governor of Louisiana, is the pride of all connected with the "Y." It is today worth far more than the purchase price back in the 1940's when it was sold to this group for $12,000.

The suspension of the Community Chest, several months ago, threw this worthy organization into financial need. The "Y" board, comprised of some of the finest women in the two cities, after a careful study, voted to seek to raise $15,000 to carry through this year and to October, 1956, inclusive of paying off the outstanding mortgage.

All familiar with the "Y" know full well that substantial, constructive work that has been performed here and which was stressed earlier this year when 25 years, the Silver Jubilee, was celebrated.

While some donations have been received, the campaign is not as some may erroneously think ended. It is still far from ended and will proceed until the funds are obtained to assure the carrying on for the next year, states Mrs. J. Norman Coon, Y. M. C. A. drive chairman.

Recently 500 letters were mailed to friends of the "Y" telling of the dire need of funds to carry on and also a "Gifts Day" was observed. These resulted in some contributions, but not anything like enough to meet needs. It is needless to say the "Y" depends solely upon the interest and financial support of individuals, business and professional men and woman club groups and business corporations.

To give a close up understanding of what the Y. W. C. A. in the Twin Cities is doing here are some of the groups that are benefitted thereby:

Y-Teens: eleven clubs for girls, 12 through 18 years. For these there are programs, hikes, picnics, and two clubs are for Negro girls in the colored high school.

Business Girls: Supper every other Thursday. There are book reviews, worship services, picnics, parties, dances and community service projects.

Young matrons: The Y-ves' club provides activities for young married women, demonstrations, socials, workshops and service projects.

Special groups: Classes in creative writing, interior decorating, flower arranging and parliamentary law.

The residence: Serves as a "home away from home" for ten girls and a house mother. Their club meets weekly for supper, devotionals, discussions and house business.

Civic groups are welcome to use the "Y" for meetings.

For nearly 15 years, the Young Women's Christian Association has been fortunate in having as executive secretary a remarkably well qualified, deeply devoted young woman whom all the girls at the home almost worship. Miss Bess Sharp has done a great work for the organization. She lives the life of the "Y" at all times. Well experienced in this line of activity, after she completed college with both a bachelor and master's degree, she has proved a highly valuable young woman. All who know her, and her activities that reach out into social and club life beyond the activities of the "Y," are eager to praise her deep sympathies, her kindly nature, and deep consecration to the activity that claims her time and life.

The Twin Cities, it is assured, will never permit the doors of its Y. W. C. A. to close on work so well rooted here, for it would be a black mark on the communities.

Not all can give at this time. There are, to be sure, other drives that are worthy, but where is one that is more worthy than this one? If it is more convenient make pledges to pay each month a fixed sum and it must be remembered that all such donations can be cancelled off when making the 1955 income tax next spring. In this way, no one will suffer great strain, and at the same time will be making a lasting contribution to a great cause.

Mrs. Norman Coon, drive chairman, asks that each club as a unit aid with a check as large as possible, to carry on this work. Money that is mailed in can be sent to the Y. W. C. A., 1515 Jackson street, Monroe.

Jes' Ramblin'

some months ago, a Silver Anniversary, the crowning event for 25 years of local service. Now through the suspension of the Community Chest, this fine project is left way out on a limb.

One of the first and most urgent needs is to pay off the mortgage on the fine home they occupy at 1515 Jackson street. They bought this home at the sacrifice price of $12,000 and now all but $3,500 is paid and it was planned to pay this sum this year. The home, a fine type of colonial mansion, is worth today more than $25,000 and is a credit to the group that occupies the structure.

But there is also needed money to run the institution for the next year. A budget of $15,000,—includsive of the final home payment—has been adopted by the board of the "Y". This sum is to carry all expenses to October 1956. The public that has in the past through the Community Chest supported this home, is now asked to pledge this needed sum.

Surely Monroe and West Monroe can not allow a fine institution to be closed when it is so badly needed. Money can be donated direct to the home or to Mrs. J. Norman Coon, director of the drive. Funds donated can be deducted when making the next income tax report to the government. Your dollars invested here will surely do more good than you can ever estimate. Don't let the "Y" down at a time like this!

Two men chanced to have the name of Harris. One lived in West Monroe, the other on South Seventh Street, Monroe. Both were in need of refrigerators and each went to the same company to make purchase. Both men had the same initials but these stood for different first names. And here caused all the upset. The Monroe man failed to get the prompt delivery of the refrigerator he had ordered. Several days passed and still he had not heard from the store where purchase had been made.

Then in the mail came a bill for more than $500, the purchase price of the new machine and he had not received it.

Very greatly disturbed he rushed to the place where he had made purchase and asked why he had not received the kitchen appliance and why he had instead received a bill for it.

The woman in charge of sales was in turn perturbed.

"Why, you have your machine all installed. It went out four days ago," she smilingly replied.

"But if I got it I am a liar. I still have the old machine which is to be replaced, I was told, by the new one!"

There was a rapid consultation of order slips. Then it was found that two men by the name of Harris, and with the same initials—but with different first names—had been involved in the transaction.

A quick exchange was promised. 'But I don't want the refrigerator that was put in that man's West Monroe home. It is a USED article by now. I want a NEW one as I had ordered," the disturbed man urged.

During the day the mistake was rectified and both parties concerned were happy again.

The member of a certain law firm carried his lunch painstakingly each day to his office. At noon he unwrapped the sandwiches, inspected the contents, and then ended by throwing them away.

Day after day the same performance was gone through with and a staff member could not restrain his curiosity further.

"Mr. Jones," the man asked, "why do you throw away such good sandwiches?"

"Don't like marmalade or peanut butter," was the reply.

"If that's the case, why don't you tell your wife and she won't use these items in making up your lunch," was the response.

"Can't do that," the attorney replied. "I'm not married and I make up my own sandwiches each day by myself."

It doesn't appear now so often as it used to, but on Saturday, we observed Miss Emily Jones serenely driving her Model T Ford, of the vintage of about 1928 down Jackson street near the postoffice.

Some years ago when the Ford Automobile company was collecting old cars to replace with latest model ones, this car was offered by friends of Miss Jones. For some reason it failed to be desired, perhaps its age then was too young. Anyway, we'd like to see it given recognition for we know of no car in the Twin Cities and with so great age.

Mother Claims Eye-Witnesses In Till Death Jailed

CHICAGO, Sept. 24 (AP) — Mrs. Mamie Bradley contended today that "no effort was made to find an eye witness" to testify in the trial of the two men accused of murdering her son, Emmett Louis Till, 14.

She added she believed two important witnesses were being held in the Charleston, Miss. jail to prevent them from testifying.

She said that one of them, whom she identified as Leroy Collins, about 20, was spirited away to the jail by Leslie Milam, brother of J. W. Milam, 36, one of the defendants. She said Collins, who works on Leslie Milam's farm, could have testified that Leslie told him to wipe blood from a truck in which Till allegedly was taken to the farm after he was abducted from his uncle's house.

She said when she asked Tallahatchie County Sheriff H. C. Strider to go to the jail, he replied that he had made three trips but could not find Collins.

Another youth testified that he saw the Till boy on the truck and later heard sounds of a whipping and cries from the barn.

Mrs. Bradley said another Milam employe could have testified but no effort was made to reach him by the prosecution. She did not identify the man.

Concerning the verdict yesterday acquitting Milam and his half-brother, Roy Bryant, 24, of murder, she said: "I expected it. I knew it was going to happen."

Although she termed the trial "a miscarriage of justice" she said Dist. Atty. Gerald Chatham did the best he could with the evidence he had and that Judge Curtis M. Swango was very fair and courteous.

Mrs. Bradley said she will attend a protest meeting in New York City tomorrow afternoon. She will be accompanied by Till's cousin, Rayfield Mooty.

Mooty told a newsman a "mass rally" is planned "to protest" what he termed "this lynching."

He said the meeting may call for federal intervention in the mysterious case of Till, who disappeared and allegedly was slain while on a vacation in Mississippi.

The meeting is being sponsored by the New York division of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, with the cooperation of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People. Mrs. Bradley was to attend a similar mass meeting in a South Side Chicago church Sunday afternoon but said she by-passed it to attend the New York meeting. She told a reporter the only other meeting definitely on her schedule is planned for Oct. 2 at 165 W. 131st St. in New York by arrangement with the NAACP.

Lincoln Wildcat Is Being Tested For Completion

The Wheless Drilling Co. and Hudson Gas and Oil Corp. W. E. Dowling No. 1 wildcat, Sec. 19-18-4, Lincoln parish, is being tested for completion, according to Friday's weekly report of the Shreveport District office of the State of Louisiana Department of Conservation. Hole was made to 8,310 feet on the venture.

In the Hico - Knowles field of Lincoln, the Atlantic Refining Co. Larance Gas Unit No. 1, Sec. 33-20-3 was drilling in shale and lime at 5,978 feet, and crew was fishing after drill stem twisted off at 9,286 feet on the Atlantic Refining Co. G. R. Green No. 1, Sec. 30-20-4.

Southwest Natural Production Co.'s Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children No. 1 Sec. 7-18-2, Ruston field, is still waiting on pipeline connection.

The Southwest Natural Production Co. Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children "A" 1, 13-17-4, Simsboro field, has been plugged and abandoned at 6,776 feet.

NEW TOOL

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Add to the imposing list of scientific tools and complicated equipment of a wild game biologist: gummed tape.

Roy Hunt of the Conservation Department's Mason game farm was brought a clutch of wild turkey eggs that had been run over by a mowing machine. Several had been broken, but Hunt fastened the shells back in place with tape.

And five of eight eggs, including two of those taped, hatched into healthy poults.

Coates, Nelson To Head Negro Unit In Fund Campaign

James Coates and Anthony Nelson, newly - named co- chairmen of the Colored Division of the Salvation Army Financial Appeal, met with Capt. Louis Mockabee Friday to plan their drive.

Radio publicity was being considered and kick - off plans checked for an appeal which will be made in the near future.

The Salvation Army has contributed to the colored families through its welfare program during the past year, having 106 families on its active welfare rolls. Seven of these families whose homes were destroyed by fire were furnished furniture and utensils and others received payments on groceries, rent, medicines and for clothing.

Many of the Ladies Societies are assisting in this undertaking and the Colored Chamber of Commerce has approved and is supporting it.

Farm

which economic hardships should figure in making selection.

As a preliminary to the screening committee's work, W. B. Aycock, Jr., associate county agent in charge of the program, said that ,660 rural families in the parish had been sent letters explaining the farm and home development plan. Inclosed with each letter was a short questionaire which can be filled out and returned by those interested in possible participation in the plan.

Further information and application forms will be supplied to persons presenting requests to the county agent's office in West Monroe. When completed application forms are received the screening committee will go into action to consider merits of the various cases.

Aycock and County Agent J.J. Joyce, Jr., said that no specific quota had bee.. established, but it was believed that from 30 to 40 families would provide a full workload for the first year.

The program, they explained, is designed to consider the farm and family as a unit, working toward the improvement of soils, crops, livestock, and elements involved in production of agricultural commodities, while seeking to improve the living conditions of the residents of the place.

Aycock, who was named last June as agent in charge of the program after the parish police jury agreed to appropriate funds to supplement financing by state and federal governments, will lock after the overall operation. However the plan calls for Agent Joyce, and Home Demonstration Agent Euna Spielman being available to help when called on by Aycock. The agents will advise on all phases of farm work.

In matters concerning children in the families, who are eligible for 4-H Club work, Mrs. Audry Dawson, associate home demonstration agent, and Aubry Mophett, assistant county agent, assigned to club work will give assistance when desired.

Range of work in the farm homes will run the gamut of assistance now offered through the home demonstration agent, including such things as food preservation, canning, clothes making, budget planning and many other items vital to the household.

An effort will be made to make the various phases of farm work complement one another instead of tending toward disunison. And where constructive recommendations are ignored to the detriment of the farm operations, a family will be dropped from the program, Joyce said.

When one type of farm operation proves to be economically unsound, the agents will study the problem and advise on other means of building income. Recommendations will be based on such factors as soil conditions, financial status of the family, suitability of various practices to existing conditions, and so on.

Th' plan has been carried on in the past on experimental basis, and seven parish families enrolled during that time will be retained on the program, it was decided by the advisory committee.

They include in Ward Four, Sam Taylor and Sons; Ward Four J. H. Lee; Ward Three, John Mason; Ward Four, James Ponder; Ward Eight, James Larch; Wards 10 and Five, Joe Dixon (who does not live on the land); Ward One-D. E. Dowe (who is operating on a short lease).

In the latter sent out to parish farm families, eight points were stipulated on which preference would be given to those seeking enrollment in the plan. They were:

(1) Farmers that live on and secure the major part of their income from the farm.

(2) Farm families with a progressive attitude; a love for the land; a desire to improve their present living conditions and live on the farm.

(3) Preference will be given to farms not already completely developed; with crop and livestock yields average or below.

(4) Farms may be selected in all wards in the parish, and preference may be given to families with children.

(5) Special preference will be given to families with farm background.

(6) The number and type will be selected in accordance with the economic importance they bear to the parish's agricultural income.

(7) Average size of different types of farms selected will be based on the acreage required for successful operation of the agricultural enterprise engaged in.

(8) Farm families will be approved by a farm and home development advisory committee. (The screening committee was selected by the advisory committee from its membership.)

Agent Joyce told members of the advisory committee that contrary to rumors that had been circulated, the new program would not invade the privacy nor individual rights of participating families. Enrollment and participation will be on a voluntary basis, he added, and agents assisting will advise on problems and call on specialists from various sections of the agriculture department for assistance wherever necessary.

Progres will be reckoned, he said, by comparing results obtained before and after initiation of the program.

Twenty-one members of the 25-member advisory committee took part in the meeting which also was attended by Home Demonstration Agent Spielman and Associate Home Agent Mrs. Dawson.

Advisory committee members include:

George Rorex, Ouachita National Bank, Monroe; A. C. Ransom, Federal Land Bank, Monroe; Ray McEachern, Farmers Home Administration; Grayson Guthrie. Central Savings Bank, Monroe (not present); Marvin Ramsey, Sterlington Bank (not present); Ward One, Bruce Gregg (not present); Ward Two, Fred Huenefeld; Ward Three, Everett Zeagler (dairyman); Ward Four, J. B. Holly; Ward Five, Arthur Sager; Ward Six, Earl Garland (not present.)

Ward Seven, Harry McDonald; Ward Eight, R. N. Johnson; Ward Nine, Glen Jones; Ward 10, Paul Ransom, president of parish Farm Bureau; Joe Wellerman, poultryman; Robbie Rutledge, forester; Mrs. Fred Riser, president of Ouachita parish Home Demonstration Council; Ike Hamilton, cattleman; Mrs. L. J. Bower, Mrs. Hilton Owens, Mrs. Marvin Shipp, farm women; Frank Noonan, press; W. O. Roberts, police jury, and Chester Holloway, school board.

AT UNION MEETING

Dennis O. Spears, special representative of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters, Joiners of America, Indianapolis, met with members of local 1811 in Monroe Friday night at a special call session to discuss the union's activities in the area.

Anything less is an old-fashioned truck!

New Chevrolet Task-Force Trucks

They're the most modern trucks on the road. If you don't get all the advantages they offer, you stand to lose money on the job today . . . and again at trade-in-time!

Most modern power—V8 or 6
In most new Chevrolet truck models, you have your choice of V8* or 6. Chevrolet's new truck V8's have the shortest stroke of any V8 in any leading truck! That means less friction and wear per mile. The valve-in-head sixes are new editions of the engines that have long been famous as the "work horses" of the truck world! And all Chevrolet truck engines have a modern 12-volt electrical system for quicker starting, better ignition and a greater electrical reserve.

The truck driver's "dream cab"
That's the closest we can come to describing the new Flite-Ride De Luxe cab. What truck driver wouldn't go for features like these: panoramic windshield for wider, safer vision; concealed Safety Step that stays clear of snow, mud and ice; High-Level ventilation that provides a more constant supply of outside air in all kinds of weather.

Most modern truck styling
We call it Work Styling—and you get it only in new Chevrolet trucks! Two fresh, functional styling treatments are offered—one for light- and medium-duty models, another for heavy-duty models. Your Chevrolet truck will do your job better—and look better doing it!

Most modern features throughout
Advanced suspensions, more rigid, ladder-type frames! Tubeless tires standard on ½-ton models! Come in and see all the ways you're way ahead with new Chevrolet trucks!

*V8 standard in L.C.F. models, an extra-cost option in all others except Forward Control models.

Branch Library Considered In Union Parish

FARMERVILLE, Sept. 24 (Special) — Union parish citizens are discussing plans for the establishment of a branch of the Louisiana State Library on a one year trial basis, if the police jury votes funds for overhead expenses of the demonstration at its October meeting.

"During the year of demonstration the state bears most of the expense, including the services of a professional staff, all of the books and periodicals and a bookmobile," said Miss Sallie Farrell, state library field representative in a meeting this week with the Marion Civic Club.

She noted local responsibilities saying, "The parish provides for overhead expenses, such as rental for headquarters, utilities and local assistants."

She stressed the fact that headquarters of the parish library would be located at the parish seat, but this central location would be merely a reservoir of books for the system, as all sections of the parish would equally benefit through bookmobile service.

In addition to providing over 8,000 books and magazines the state library services requests for books not in the local branch and lends individuals or groups educational films in its collection.

"Most of Louisiana's 42 parish libraries were established as state library demonstrations," Miss Farrell said.

She will discuss the project with the Bernice Lions Club, September 29 and the Union Parish Home Demonstration Council, September 30.

The project is contingent upon a police jury appropriation.

North Louisiana Cotton Festival Will Open Tues.

BASTROP, Sept. 24 (Special)— The North Louisiana Cotton Festival and Fair will get underway here Tuesday and officials report that the 1955 annual event will be the largest in the history of fair.

Exhibits will be entered from 1 p. m. to 7 p. m. Tuesday with the big opening day slated for Wednesday.

Lt. Gov. C. E. Barham will be present for the opening ceremonies at the Morehouse parish courthouse at 3:30 p. m. A large parade will get underway at 4:15 followed by a horse show featuring White Star, 1954 world grand champion walking horse.

On Thursday about 20 contestants will compete for the title of Cotton Queen followed by a second horse showing.

Friday gubernatorial candidates Mayor Morrison, of New Orleans, and James McLemore, of Alexandria, will speak on the courthouse square at 10 a. m.

A cotton picking contest, cotton fashions, and concerts will also be a major portion of the program.

THIS PHOTO IN SOVIET-U. S. DISPUTE—Rep. Joe Holt (R-Calif) says this picture, which he took in Moscow, is the one involved in an official note from Russia to the U. S. Home Owners By Thousands Switch To Natural Gas

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP) — Around 800,000 home owners will be heating with gas this coming winter for the first time, the Natural Gas Assn. estimates.

It figures 15,212,000 homes will use gas for heat in the 1955-56 season as compared with an estimated 13,400,000 last winter. The estimates include a comparative small number using manufactured gas.

The gas people say there are ample supplies of natural as to meet the authorized requirements of pipeline companies and retail distributors.

But they point out that several hundred thousand prospective gas heating customers cannot be served because natural gas is not yet available to them. Many applications for authority to build new pipelines to supply additional areas are pending before the Federal Power Commission.

The gas association estimated there will be around 16½ million customers for gas by the 1957-58 heating season.

Meanwhile, an ample fuel oil supply for home heating this fall and winter is forecast by various oil industry spokesmen.

Tom Pickett, executive vice president of the National Coal Assn., called this week for governmental action to halt "excessive imports" of foreign oil. Unless such action is taken, he said, "There can be no sound growth for the coal industry toward the minimum production necessary to national defense and security."

Pickett so reported to a meeting of an industry - agriculture - labor committee on import-export policy.

Fishermen Offer Fleet Of Boats To Aid Flood Areas

AUSTIN, Sept. 24 —UP— Commercial fishermen at Port Isabel, in a telegram to the Texas Good Neighbor Commission, Friday offered their fleet of boats to transport supplies to flood-stricken Tampico, Mex.

It was announced simultaneously that the Lower Rio Grande Valley Chamber of Commerce, through its inter - American relations committee, is sponsoring a cash fund as well as stockpiling donated supplies for relief of flood victims.

Meantime, headquarters of the Texas Defense and Disaster Relief office revealed food supplies are being moved from the United States to Tampico under direction of the American Red Cross.

William L. McGill, director of Texas' defense and disaster relief operations, said the Mexican Red Cross reported to American authorities the need in Tampico "was of staggering proportions."

Ouachita Woman To Go On Trial Mon. For Murder

RAYVILLE, Sept. 24 (Special)— Mrs. Helen McClain, 24-year-old Ouachita parish woman, will go on trial here Monday on a grand jury indictment of murder.

Mrs. McClain is charged with the fatal shooting of George Graham, 35, on June 2.

The Ouachita parish sheriff's office arrested Mrs. McClain. She was later released to Richland parish authorities after she allegedly told officers the shooting occurred just over the parish lin in Richland parish near Girard.

Mrs. McClain is reported to have told officers she shot Graham in self defense. "I shot Graham because he was making advances toward me and I couldn't repulse him," she is quoted as saying.

Graham was picked up on the Richwood road, south of Monroe, after the truck in which he and Mrs. McClain were riding, went into a ditch. He died shortly afterwards at the Charity hospital in Monroe. The weapon with which Mrs. McClain allegedly shot Graham was found in an open field near where the truck went into the ditch, officials said.

Mrs. McClain was reported to have been attempting to turn around when the truck went into the ditch. She asked a man, who was a witness nearby, to pull her out because she had a "sick baby who needed medical attention," according to the sheriff's office.

The witness told the sheriff's office that he saw a man who was bleeding profusely at the head in the truck. The witness called the Ouachita parish sheriff's office.

She told Ouachita and Richland deputies that she was hired by George Graham to "drive him home" because he claimed to be too drunk to drive. She stated Graham was directing her which way to drive.

Mrs. McClain told deputies, "My husband knew of this."

She further told deputies that she had taken the gun with her when she left home and had placed the automatic in her bosom and later transferred it to a position on the truck seat under her left leg.

Graham, Mrs. McClain told deputies, spent the night with her and her husband after all three had been on a "party" the night before at a local tavern.

Judge J. Vernon Sims will hear the case when court opens at 9:30 a.m. Monday.

Mrs. Milton's Mother Dies In W. Monroe Sat.

Mrs. Mamie Easterly, 79, died at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. W. D. Milton of West Monroe, early Saturday morning.

A native of Denham Springs, Mrs. Easterly made her home with Rev. and Mrs. Milton in West Monroe for the past three years. Rev. Milton is pastor of the First Methodist Church of West Monroe.

A short funeral service for Mrs. Easterly was held in the Mulhearn Funeral home chapel at 10 a.m. Saturday and the body was then carried overland to the home of another daughter in Denham Springs.

Funeral services will be held in the First Methodist Church at Denham Springs at 5 p.m. Sunday with Rev. Fred Schwinderman officating. Interment will be in the Denham cemetery under the direction of the Rabenhorst Funeral home of Baton Rouge.

Mrs. Easterly was a member of the First Methodist Church of Denham Springs, and of the W. O. W. circle there.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Milton and Mrs. George M. Davis of Denham Springs; two sons, L. S. Easterly of Baton Rouge, and John W. Easterly of Gonzales; one sister, Mrs. Louis F. Harris of Denham Springs; two foster children, Mrs. Donna Wilhelm of Tampa, Fla., and Ernest Webb of Baton Rouge; and five grandchildren.

Army Studying Plan To Replace Military Rifles

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 —UP— The Army has about decided to replace its four types of shoulder-fired weapons with a single new lightweight rifle, it was learned Saturday.

But after testing two rifles—one Belgian and one American—for three years, it still has not decided which one it wants to produce for the prospective changeover. A decision was planned by December but now may not be reached for an additional six months.

The shift to a standard rifle, which would take place over several years, has important political implications. The Army's moves have been eyed throughout the North Atlantic Treaty Organization where there has been intermittent wrangling over a standardized rifle for NATO troops.

In January, 1954, Britain adopted the Belgian FN rifle after earlier losing out in efforts to sell its own newly developed .28 caliber weapon.

But the British moved slowly on production pending American tests, modifications and decisions between the Belgian and American rifles. Both fire the new, lighter American .30 caliber cartridge adopted as the NATO standard last year.

The rifle selected here would replace the .30 caliber M-1 Garand adopted in 1936, the Browning automatic rifle (BAR), the carbine and the submachinegun which is no longer in production. It would be selectively fully and semi-automatic.

Army ordnance officials said troop tests conducted since last March in Arctic, tropic and continental stations indicate the wisdom of shifting from the four weapons to a single rifle. The shift, it was said, would result in greatly simplified troop training and large savings.

Ordnance officers said both rifles can be produced for about the same cost as the M-1, which averages $90. A heavy barrel version also would be built at costs somewhat under those for the BAR.

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

Golfers of the Monroe area are getting ready for two big shows—the 27th annual Louisiana Women's Amateur championship, scheduled here in another week, and the special appearance of Julius Boros, winner of Tam O'Shanter's "World" tournament this year, for an exhibition date October 26. Both shows are set for Bayou DeSiard Country Club.

The Women's Amateur, held for so many years at New Orleans, Shreveport or Baton Rouge, will be coming to Monroe for the first time and the ladies of the links in this area are planning to make the tournament so interesting that the state contenders will welcome any future opportunities to return the meet here. The tournament first broke away from the "big three" locations of New Orleans, Shreveport, and Baton Rouge when the meet went to Lake Charles in 1949. Since then the tournament has returned to Lake Charles once more (last year) and was held at Alexandria once, in 1952.

Also to the golfers, McVea Oliver, secretary of the Louisiana State Golf Association, has advised that the 36th annual Louisiana Amateur Championship Tournament for men, with Shreveport's Jimmy McGonagil defending, will be held at the Lake Charles Golf and Country Club October 13 through 16 with championship qualifying set for the 13th. Thirty-two low qualifiers will make the championship flight, and flights will be arranged for all entrants. The men's amateur is open to Louisiana residents of at least a year and who are members of clubs affiliated with the Louisiana State Golf Association.

SHORT SKETCHES on the sports front:

Bob Ledbetter, the ex-pro ball player of Monroe and dad of Bobby Ledbetter, the young golfer, was remembered in a "25 years ago" story in the Anniston (Ala.) Star. Said the story recalling Anniston news of the past: "President E. C. Loyd of the Anniston baseball club announced today that "Cheese" Goggins, catcher, and Bob Ledbetter, right-handed pitcher, and George Hockette, lefthanded pitcher, of the Anniston Nobles have been sold to Buffalo, N. Y., of the International League." Ledbetter, now a portly salesman for a wholesale establishment here, has long since retired from baseball, but we remember he still had a lot of his old stuff for a short stint in an "oldtimers" game here a couple of years ago.

We hear that the West Monroe High football Rebels are to be guests at a "hospital party" where their cripples will be entertained by "doctors" and "nurses," drawn from the ranks of Rebel supporters. The program will run in reverse from the usual proceedure of the patient footing the bill. The Reb attendants must pay for the privilege.

While on the subject of football injuries, the Ouachita Lions get our nomination as sorest hit. We've followed Ouachita football fortunes for around 25 years and believe Coach Jim Hodgins' current club has been the hardest hit of all Lion productions. If he gets his squad anywhere near full strength at any time this season it will be a miracle. There's Bastrop, Haynesville, Fair Park, Byrd, West Monroe, Rayville and Neville—the toughest part of the schedule—still to meet.

Clarence Cook is on the card again, and Promoter Gus Kallio is primed for another big turnout of the boxing gentry tomorrow night. Kallio, basing his observations on advanced ticket sales, declares he'll have a sellout crowd. They say this Pete Sanchez, Cook's opponent, is a ring-wise scrapper capable of giving the Oak Grove dandy a worthy fight.

The World Series starts Wednesday for the New York Yankees and the Brooklyn Dodgers. Last year it was the National's New York Giants winning in four straight from the Cleveland Indians, and when it was all over the grandstand experts were blaming Cleveland's collapse on lack of competition, winning the pennant too easily, while the Giants had to fight under pressure all the way to nail down the National League crown. This year the situation was reversed to the major leagues. The Dodgers breezed in and the Yankees couldn't be sure earlier than Friday night with Cleveland pressing close. And a couple of weeks ago the White Sox and Red Sox were still making it tight. The arguments that prevailed last fall, is still good, should make the Yanks a shoo-in.

Lumberjacks Get All Their Points In Opening Half

NACOGDOCHES, Tex., Sept. 24 (Special)Stephen F. Austin's husky Lumberjacks got in their licks early early tonight to open their football campaign with a 15-6 conquest of Northeast Louisiana State's Indians.

It took a safety to start the Lumberjacks rolling in the first quarter, and they came through with a pair of touchdowns by Bailey Marshall in the second quarter.

Stephen F. Austin couldn't score against the scrappy Tribesmen during the second half, and the invaders used a pass interception by O'Neal to count their lone touchdown in the last quarter. The Redskin interception came at the line of scrimmage, and a 64-yard run-back saved Northeast from being shut out.

The Indians had the ball on their own 15 and fought down in the opening quarter when Aubrey Wade, back to kick, got a high snap from center. The ball rolled into the end zone before Wade could recover it, and he was nailed by end Roy Bush of Austin to hand the Lumberjacks two points.

A 48-yard drive brought Austin its first touchdown with Marshall going over from the one. Marshall kicked the point. A few minutes later Marshall broke away on a punt return for 69 yards and pay dirt.

The huge Lumberjack line, averaging nearly 220 pounds per man, found fast charging lighter Redskins hard to handle on a soggy field made muddy by a heavy afternoon rain. However, the rain had stopped by game time.

Jackets Pressed To Squeeze Past Florida, 14 To 7

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Sept. 24 (AP)—Georgia Tech has in Toppy Vann the kind of rugged, steady quarterback who gets the football job done — and he did it today for a 14-7 victory over Florida.

Thus Tech won its second straight game of the season, opened its Southeastern Conference schedule on a winning key and upheld the verdict of the sports writers who voted the Yellow Jackets No. 2 in the nation.

The Florida Gators were supercharged for high ranking Tech and swept through to an early touchdown on a 39 - yard pass from Richard Allen to Jim Rountree.

Then Vann took over the Tech reins, guided the Jackets in a 72-yard touchdown march that tied the score at halftime. And he came back again in the final period to conduct a 30 - yard tour to the goal after Wade Mitchell intercepted one of Allen's passes.

Vann sent George Volkert on a four - yard plunge for the first score and dove the last yard himself on the winner.

Mitchell kicked both Tech conversions and Allen made Florida's

Downpour Sends Sponsors' Event Into Extra Day

NEWTON, Mass., Sept. 24 (AP) A heavy rain inundated greens and fairways at the Charles River Club today washing out third round play in the $43,000 Sponsors Golf Tournament.

It first was announced that the final 36 holes of the 72 - hole medal competition would be played tomorrow. However, when the downpour continued through late afternoon the 50 - odd touring P.G.A. pros agreed to play only 18 holes tomorrow and remain over an extra day for the windup round Monday.

The only withdrawal from the tournament came from Julius Boros, winner of the rich Tam O'Shanter last month. Boros said he could not remain the extra day because of previous commitments.

Fred Haas, New Orleans and Claremont, Calif., holds a two - stroke lead at the half mark of the rich tournament. The 39 - year-old veteran, a big money winner on the P. G. A. circuit, has seven-under- par 137 for 36 holes.

Gene Littler, Palm Springs, Calif. and National P. G. A. titlist Doug Ford, Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., are tied for second place with 139s. Art Wall Jr., Pocono Manor, Pa., and Bill Nary, Wayne, Mich. are tied at 140.

Sooners Rally Late, Trip Battling Tar Heels, 13-6

BY REESE HART

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Sept. 24 (AP)—Third-ranked Oklahoma, held scoreless the first half by a scrappy North Carolina team, came from behind today with two touchdowns in the last half on the running of halfbacks Bob Burris and Tommy McDonald to whip the Tar Heels, 13-6. The victory extended Oklahoma's winning streak to 20 straight games.

A crowd of 35,000 saw North Carolina score in the opening period when tackle John Bilich recovered a fumble in the Oklahoma end zone during the first six minutes of the game.

Five times during the first half frustrated Oklahoma moved to the Tar Heel 30 or beyond, but the aroused Tar Heels hurled back each threat.

The hard charging Tar Heels recovered three Oklahoma fumbles during the first half.

A 15-yard clipping penalty set the Sooners back on their two soon after the opening whistle. Quarterback Jim Harris, a junior of Terrell, Tex., fumbled in the end zone, and Bilich slashed through to pounce on the ball. Halfback Ken Keller's attempted placement went wide.

Oklahoma, showing a flock of shifty backs, caught fire early in the third period and swept 74 yards for a touchdown. The 183-pound Burris took a pitchout from Harris and rammed over from the eight.

Harris converted to send the Sooners ahead 7-6.

Late in the last period Oklahoma clinched its victory with another touchdown. McDonald swept 28 yards around right end to the Tar Heel 11. Four plays later he scored from the two. Burris' kick was wide.

Oklahoma		0	0	7	6—13
North Carolina		6	0	0	0— 6

Oklahoma scoring: Touchdowns —Burris (8 end run), McDonald (2 end run). Placement—Harris.

North Carolina scoring: Touchdowns—Bilich (recovered fumble).

Phillies Keep Smith For 1956 Campaign

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies signed Mayo Smith to manage the National League club for the 1956 season.

The 40-year-old manager from Lakeworth, Fla., signed a one-year contract. Salary was not disclosed, but he was given a raise.

Fob James Saves Auburn In Scrap With Chattanooga

AUBURN, Ala., Sept. 24 (AP) — Fireball Fob James broke loose for touchdown runs of 76 and 61 yards and led a ragged Auburn football team to a 15-6 victory over Chattanooga today.

But without the churning power of the 170-pound halfback who gained 178 yards, there was a small margin of difference between the Gator Bowl champion Tigers and the invaders from Tennessee who were supposed to lose by several touchdowns.

It was an unconvincing start for the Auburn team that was rated 17th best in the nation before the season began. Erratic ball handling kept the Tigers fighting all afternoon to stay ahead.

High Gun Home First For Sysonby's Purse

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (AP) — The King Ranch's High Gun won the $106,700 Sysonby Stakes today in a close finish with Jet Action while the favored Nashua finished third in the slop at Belmont Park.

High Gun was ridden by Bill Boland, and clipped the mile and one - eighth in 1:49 - 1-5. He paid $11.00 and $6.30 with no show betting.

Durocher Quits Giants

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (AP)— Leo Durocher quit baseball today to go into private business and was immediately replaced as manager of the New York Giants by Bill Rigney.

The double announcement was made by Horace Stoneham, owner of the Giants, who said he accepted Durocher's resignation with "deep personal regret," but was glad to have a suitable replacement in Rigney, currently piloting the Minneapolis Millers in the American Association.

"Leo Durocher has been a fine manager for the New York Giants," Stoneham said, "and he has done some of his best work during the previous season, when injuries and some playing failures imposed many handicaps."

The retirement of the explosive manager after 17 years as a major league pilot, the last seven and a half with the Giants, came as no surprise to followers of the Giants. As far back as last May, he confided to several close friends he planned to quit after this season.

Last June 23, amidst rumors that Durocher was to be fired, the Associated Press wrote that Leo was sure to finish out the season but intimated he would not be back in 1956.

"My decision to retire is not a last minute one," Durocher explained to reporters summoned to the Polo Grounds for a press conference. "I have been thinking about it for a long time, going back to last year. I might have quit last year but I already had given my word to Mr. Stoneham that I'd be back.

"No, the performance of the team had nothing whatsoever to do with my retirement," Leo said, "I would have left even if the Giants had won the pennant."

The 49-year-old Durocher said he gave up his $50,000 a year job in baseball to accept an executive position in California "which would keep me at home most of the time with my family."

He did not identify his new job but it was learned that Leo has been offered a distributorship by the Anheuser - Busch brewery which supposedly will pay him as much as he earned as manager of the Giants. In addition, Leo has an offer to telecast the 1956 Hollywood games in the Pacific Coast League for an additional $12,500 per year.

At St. Louis, August A. Busch Jr., owner of the brewery and president of the St. Louis Cardinals, declared "there is no truth whatsoever" to the report Durocher has been offered a distributorship by the brewery.

Downey To Meet Riley In Finals For Trans Title

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 24 — (AP)—Co-favorite Mary Ann Downey, Baltimore, and Polly Riley, Fort Worth, came through with rain-splashed 1-up semi-finals victories today to reach the finals in the Women's Trans - Mississippi Golf Tournament.

Miss Downey, the tournament medalist with a 2-over-par 76, edged Grace DeMoss Smith, Miami, Fla., 1 up, while Miss Riley had to slosh through an extra hole to down fellow Texan Mrs. Pat Garner Stapler, Midland.

The battle for the championship will be over 36 holes with more rain in prospect tomorrow for the already drenched course.

The two veteran amateurs had their hands full all the way before they finally prevailed in the rainstorm which broke out over the Twin Hills Country Club layout after the players had finished the 12th hole.

However, they played near - par golf in the downpour and kept their galleries with them during the struggle down the stretch.

Miss Downey rolled in a 34 on the par-five 428-yard 18th hole to climax her triumph. However, she had two putts to win from six feet after Mrs. Smith hit her drive into the tree on the dogleg hole, wasting a shot to get out.

Miss Riley got down in two putts on the waterlogged extra hole after both players had hit the green of the par-4 hole in 3.

Mrs. Stapler then three-putted from 50 feet, missing a six-footer which would have kept the match alive.

Newellton Bears In 25-6 Triumph Over Crowville

CROWVILLE, La., Sept. 24 (Special) — The Newellton Bears churned through the mud and water to roll over the Crowville Bulldogs 25-0 Friday night to win the second game out of three starts in the new football season.

The first score came early in the second period when fullback Terry Head crashed over from the two, and Parnell Barfield booted the point after.

Just before the end of the half All-State end Jerry Don Head snagged one of twin brother Terry Head's passes good for 13 yards and a score. Point after was missed.

On the first play from scrimmage in the second half, halfback Parnell Barfield broke into the open for the longest run of the game for 75 yards and glory land. Point after was missed.

In the last period Jerry Head scored again from the two on a jump pass from quarterback Clark. Poin after was missed. The Bears rolled up a net of 266 yards on the ground and 72 yards via the air lanes, making a total of eleven first downs to Crowville's four.

Longhorns Drop Greenies In Scoring Duel, 35-21

AUSTIN, Sept. 24 —UP—Substitute quarterback Joe Clements staged a dazzling aerial exhibition Saturday night, pitching three touchdown passes and scoring one marker himself, to lead Texas to a 35-21 victory over Tulane before 30,000 fans.

Clements, a 175-pound sophomore, completed 17 passes out of 22 attempts to roll up a total of 215 yards in the air, as Texas scored in every period, including two successful fourth-quarter drives.

The 6-foot, 3-inch quarterback, moved up to the second string only this week, completed a series of eight straight passes in one string in one of the hottest aerial demonstrations ever seen in Memorial Stadium.

Tulane matched Texas touchdown until halftime, when the score was tied 14-14, but Clements proved too much for the Green Wave in the last half.

Quarterback Walter Fondren raced 16 yards to score Texas' first marker late in the opening period, but Tulane bounced back with a 66-yard march that saw fullback Ronny Quillian plunge over from the 1.

Clements, a 19-year-old lad from Huntsville, Tex., sparked the second Texas drive in the second period, clinching it with a three-yard pass to halfback Ed Hawkins.

Tulane evened the score as quarterback Gene Newton passed 24 yards to halfback Otis Gilmore.

But the Green Wave yielded the ball five times to Texas on fumbles in the second half, and that was all Clements needed. In his eight-straight completion drive, he accounted for 99 yards.

Texas Aggies Rush Over Louisiana State, 28 To 0

DALLAS, Sept. 24 —UP—Jarring Jack Pardee, six-man football's gift to the Texas Aggies, and sophomore John Crow ripped off two scoring jaunts apiece Saturday as Texas A&M bounced Louisiana State 28-0 with touch - downs in every period.

Pardee, a 202-pound fullback, from tiny Christoval, Tex., dove three yards for the first Texas Aggie touchdown and two steps for the second after setting it up with a 65-yard scamper that thrilled a slim crowd of 17,000 in the Cotton Bowl.

Crow, an athletic emigrant from Springhill, La., outran a horde of LSU Tigers for 77 yards for a third period score and spun eight yards around right end for another in the final period to complete the humiliation of a team that upset Kentucky a week ago.

The game was billed a toss-up, but the slow-footed Tigers from the bayou country never seriously threatened until the final minutes and then a stout Aggie forward wall held them for three downs inside the five-yard line.

Crow and Pardee between them accounted for the 211 of the awesome 386 yards Coach Paul Bryant's Aggies ground out against the team coached by his old pupil, Paul Dietzel, making his freshman start as a head coach at LSU. The 192-pound Crow got 130 of them.

The Aggie line was a unit without a standout star as it checked LSU without a first down for nearly 30 minutes and rushed the Tigers' would - be passers off their feet. The Tigers netted 75 yards on the ground, but got 115 on passes.

The sophomore-tinged Aggie outfit that may yet prove a surprise in a tight Southwest Conference race seldom seemed to lose its poise and bounced back from last week's 21-0 loss to UCLA with a swift vengeance that tore LSU's defense apart.

Southern Barely Shades Techmen By 7 To 6 Count

RUSTON, La., Sept. 24 (AP) —Fullback Lawrence Meeks' conversion in the second quarter gave Mississippi Southern a 7-6 victory over tough Louisiana Tech tonight.

Southern scored its touchdown in the second quarter on an 80-yard drive. The march ended on a 15-yard pass from quarterback George Herring to end Harold Clark.

Tech had outplayed Southern in the first period and got to the Southern 10, from where end Charles Anderson's field goal attempt was wide.

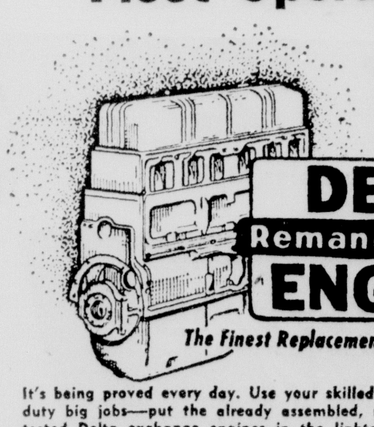

In the fourth period Tech drove to score, with quarterback Milford Andrews capping the march with a long pass from the Southern 40. Halfback A. L. Williams pulled it in on the goal for the score, but Anderson's placement try was no good.

Kallio Schedules Double Main For Wrestling Card

"This is the match the fans have been calling for," declared Promoter Gus Kallio last night as he announced a double main event wrestling card for Tuesday night with young George Curtis and the equally youthful Lee Fields billed for one half of the twin feature that also includes Jack Curtis, George's big brother, is a scramble with Joe McCarthy.

"Young Curtis and Fields have both won many supporters here with their clean, rugged styles of wrestling," Kallio said. "And I'm always hearing such requests as 'why don't you match those two?' Well, I've got them together and the folks who like fast, clean wrestling should find this match to their liking."

The battle between Jack Curtis and McCarthy should be quite different with a lot of rock 'em sock 'em action with the rugged McCarthy, who served hitches in both the army and navy, providing the former world's light heavyweight champion with a rough night's work.

McCarthy claims to be something of a judo expert, but Curtis has been able to supply some of the same when occasions demand.

Both matches have been assigned 90-minute time limits, two falls to win. Bill Barney, the West Monroe automobile mechanic, is listed as referee.

Block Bears Wallop Roxie, Miss., 34 To 0

JONESVILLE, La., Sept. 24 — (Special)—Roxie, Miss., High took it on the chin 34-0 here last night from bigger Block High of Jonesville.

The loss was the first of the season for the Mississippians.

Block meets Ferriday, defending Class A champions of Louisiana in Ferriday next Friday night.

Schedule Match Play Start For Tuesday, Oct. 4

The Louisiana Women's State Golf Association this week makes final plans for the opening of its twenty-seventh annual Louisiana Amateur Championship Tournament in a week of activity at Bayou DeSiard Country Club here.

Although match play won't begin until Tuesday, October 4, the tournament program actually starts next Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kellogg and Mr. and Mrs. George Miller giving a get-together party for the tournament's early arrivals.

The tournament program the rest of the way will be:

Next Sunday — Mixed two-ball foursome event, 9 a.m. start; buffet supper for all entrants, 7 p.m.; presentation of mixed foursome prizes, 8:30 p.m.

Monday, October 3 — Qualifying play begins at 9 a.m.; putts while qualifying will count in putting contest; Class A and B driving contest.

Tuesday, October 4—First round of match play begins 9 a.m.; annual association business meeting, 2:30 p.m.; cocktail party, 5:30 p.m.

Wednesday, October 5 — Second round match play, first round consolation flights, 9 a.m.; barbecue, 6:30 p.m.; with Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Woods as hosts at Woods Camp.

Friday, October 7 — Finals in all flights, 9 a.m.; field consolation, 9:30 a.m.; continupation of championship finals, 2 p.m.; presentation of awards immediately after title finals completed.

Mary Ann Villegas, New Orleans, won the amateur last year at Lake Charles and is expected here to defend her title against challenges of all of the state's top women golfers.

Leading contenders will be Mrs. Sam Israel Jr., New Orleans, a six-times-winner of the crown she last won in 1947; Mrs. George Miller, Monroe, association president and state champion in 1950; Mrs. A. T. Higgins Jr., New Orleans, the state golf queen in 1949; Clifford Ann Creed, the 16-year-old rising star of Opelousas and a very definite threat here; Mrs. Robert Monsted, New Orleans, a consistent threat who still seeks her first state crown; Mrs. Don Rogge, Shreveport, Palmetto Country Club women's champion; Mrs. Harry Henderson, Alexandria, club champ of Alexandria Golf and Country Club; Mrs. M. Q. Peterson, Shreveport Country Club champion; Mrs. E. J. Mittlebronn Jr., 1955 New Orleans city champion; Mrs. T. L. Morris, Shreveport, Querbes Park champion; Mrs. Dot Nash, Monroe, association secretary-treasurer and Bayou DeSiard's 1954 champion and Twin City champion.

Stanton Ramrods Maroons In 13-7 Conquest Of Vols

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 24 (AP)—Mississippi State, clearly handled by quarterback Jim Stanton, rolled to two early touchdowns today and hung on to defeat Tennessee, 13-7, in a Southeastern Conference football game in a steady rain.

Stanton, playing the entire game, maneuvered Mississippi State 55 yards for a score the second time the Maroons got possession of the ball. Halfback Art Davis plunged from the one to cap the drive. Bill Morgan converted.

Early in the second period, Stanton got State's split-T offense rolling again and in the nine plays netted 55 yards with halfback Jim Harness diving over. Harness' kick for the extra point was blocked.

A Stanton fumble, gobbled up by quarterback Stockton Adkins in midfield, set up Tennessee's lone score. With tailback John Majors and sophomore fullback Lon Herzbrun alternating with the ball, the Vols Buddy Cruze made a spectacular diving catch of Majors' pass in the end zone. Tommy Priest converted.

Scoring summary:

Mississippi State	7	6	0	0	—13
Tennessee	0	7	0	0	— 7

Mississippi State scoring—Touchdown, Davis (1, plunge), Harness (1, plunge). Conversion, Morgan.

Tennessee scoring— Touchdown, Cruze (22, pass from Majors). Conversion, Priest.

Texas Christian Runs Wild Over Texas Tech, 32-0

LUBBOCK, Tex., Sept. 24 (AP) — Texas Christian's boiling Horned Frogs turned loose a thunderous ground attack in which Jim Swink and Vernon Hallbeck tore huge chunks of daylights in a rain-soaked Texas Tech line for a 32-0 victory today.

It was the most crushing defeat ever administered by T.C.U. on its long-time football rival and the way the Frogs did it was to absolutely humiliate the Raiders. Texas Tech made only three first downs and netted just 12 yards while the Frogs romped and passed to 430 yards and 26 first downs. The Raiders, who beat Texas 20-14 last week, got past midfield only once.

Swink, who was a sensation as T.C.U. opened the season with a 47-14 victory over Kansas last Saturday, was even more devastating today. He ran for 134 yards and scored three touchdowns, one on a brilliant 59-yard dash.

Hallbeck, the big Frog fullback, shattered the Tech line for 79 yards and substitute Jimmy Shofner picked up 61 in blazing blasts.

Interest Keen For Cook-Sanchez Contest

Slate 28 Rounds For 5-Bout Card At Arena Monday

Clarence Cook, the Oak Grove welterweight with the stinging left jabs and the stun-bomb right, makes his first Monroe appearance since his knockout of Guy "Rocky" Guerrette last spring when he goes against the veteran Mexican battler from Houston, Tex., "Pistol Pete" Sanchez in a scheduled 10-round feature at Gus Kallio's Arena tomorrow night.

Cook, who recently kayoed Bebe Garcia at Lake Charles, and Sanchez, fresh from two knockout wins over Francisco Gaytan and Raymundo Munoz, have Promoter Kallio preparing for another sell-out crowd to match or better the turnout for the Cook - Guerrette thriller.

"Never have we had such good advanced ticket sales," Kallio said yesterday. "The fight seems certain to draw Monroe's biggest boxing crowd."

Kallio has secured 300 additional ringside chairs to take care of his customers.

The Monday night card, starting at 8 o'clock and with the main event set for 9 o'clock start, will present five matches, including a six-round semi-final, and three four - rounders.

The semi-final promises to be a thriller with Rex Thornton, Tallulah 147-pounder, swapping punches with Tony Gonzales, Houston. Thornton has proven himself a willing mixer, and Gonzales appears equally well known in Texas arenas.

The four-rounders are:

Ruhl Brumley, 128, Oak Grove, vs. Roy Hernandez, 126, Houston; Gene Sargent, 155, Bastrop, vs. Devane Garris, 157, Farmerville; and Marceleno Lozano, 145, Houston, vs. Don Ware, 146, Monroe.

Sanchez with his manager, Sol Moreno, and other members of the invading Houston camp, are due to arrive here today.

Tickets are on advanced sale at Don Quinn's, Bastrop; Pippin's Cafe, Oak Grove; and Kallio's residence office here, 1101 Jackson street.

Davidson Scores 33 To 0 Victory Over Jefferson

ST. JOSEPH, La., Sept. 24 — (Special)—Jefferson Military College of Washington, Miss., seeking its first action of the gridiron season, was defeated here yesterday by a more experienced Davidson High School team of St. Joseph, 33-0.

A downpour during the game turned the already soggy field into a quagmire and the going was slippery for the lighter J.M.C. team.

St. Joseph used a steady driving attack to down the Cadets.

SOLUNAR TABLES

The schedule of Solunar periods printed below has been taken from John Alden Knight's Solunar tables. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times, if you wish to find the best spot that each day has to offer.

A.M.	TODAY		P.M.
Minor	Major	Minor	Major
12:50	7:05	1:15	7:25
A.M.	TOMORROW		P.M.
Minor	Major	Minor	Major
1:40	7:55	2:05	8:15

The major periods begin at the times shown and last for an hour and a half or two hours thereafter.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 24—(AP)—Quarterback Paul Hornung ran 11 yards for the first touchdown and kicked a 38-yard field goal to lead Notre Dame to a 17-0 victory over Southern Methodist in the football season opener for both today.

Running like a fullback and calling signals like a veteran, the 205-pound Hornung scored the first Irish touchdown, kicked a 38-yard field goal for a 10-0 halftime lead and then kept stubborn S.M.U. on the ropes in the second half.

The breaks went entirely against the Mustangs from Dallas in this game which was televised throughout the middle west as they fumbled and had passes intercepted when it could have turned the ball game.

But, by and large, it was the same old Notre Dame chewing up yardage, blocking and tackling viciously and ball-hawking all over the field.

The clinching score, Notre Dame's second touchdown, came late in the third period on a bench-inspired play. Halfback Paul Reynolds, a speedy veteran, raced onto the field to replace Sherrill Sipes, with fourth down on S.M.U.'s 14.

Reynolds swept around S.M.U.'s right side on a delayed handoff from Hornung and raced unmolested to score.

The cruelest break of all to S.M.U. came in the fourth period when halfback John Marshall fumbled, for the third time, and Notre Dame recovered on the Irish four.

Scoring summary:

S. M. U.	0	0	0	0	0
Notre Dame	7	3	7	0	17

Wisner Bulldogs Beat Waterproof By 6-0 Count

WATERPROOF, La., Sept 24—(Special)— The invading Wisner Bulldogs punched over the only touchdown of the game on the third quarter here last night and turned back a below-par Waterproof Tiger eleven, 6-0.

Wisner's Roy Lee Shiver cracked over from the one in the fateful third period, and the point after touchdown failed.

Hard - socking Wisner outhustled Waterproof throughout the game and the home standing Tigers never threatened.

Waterproof will journey to Davidson High School of St. Joseph next Friday for an afternoon contest.

Unbeaten LaSalle Trips Farmerville

FARMERVILLE, La., Sept. 24—(Special) — The undefeated LaSalle High Tigers loomed larger in the district Class a conference race today after socking the Farmerville High Farmers, 25-7, for their fourth straight win and second in league play.

Julian Keene, on a 40-yard end sweep counted LaSalle's first touchdown in the opening quarter, and Kenneth Winberry tallied two, one with a 35-yard return of an intercepted pass in the first quarter and the other on a four - yard smash in the third quarter. Winberry, with 13 points for the night, also added the point on a running play behind Keene's TD.

Aubrey McCartney squeezed in a Tiger touchdown in the third quarter on a 30 - yard run.

Farmerville bagged its touchdown in the last quarter when Redden fired a payoff pass to Hodge. Redden also ran for the point.

Sub Fires Georgia In Last Ditch Win Over Vandy, 14-12

ATHENS, Ga., Sept. 24 (AP) — Dick Young, a senior who has spent most of his football career on the bench, took charge of a lifeless bunch of Georgia Bulldogs today and drove them to two fourth period touchdowns and a 14-13 victory over Vanderbilt.

Until Young took command, Georgia had shown nothing on offense and was trailing the underdog Commodores 13-0. But Young provided the needed inspiration with his aerial artistry. Vandy's dog-weary defense just couldn't stop the relentless Georgia advances.

Vandy had all the best of it until late in the third quarter, when the first-stringers began to tire. The Commodores' Tommy Woodroof tried a 45-yard field goal on the final play, but it was short.

A pass interception by sophomore halfback Joe Scales set up Vandy's first period score. Scales returned the ball 47 yards to Georgia's 34 and halfback Charley Horton chewed out most of the other yardage in short hunks, plunging over from the 2.

A 23-yard pass play from Don Orr to Joe Stephenson netted Vandy another touchdown in the third, climaxing a 68-yard march.

Young, subbing for starters Jimmy Harper, threw an 11-yard touchdown to end Cleve Clark early in fourth quarter. Then with 3 minutes and 20 seconds left in the game, Young fired a 27-yarder to sophomore Jimmy Orr at the Vandy 2. On the next play, Young drove over.

Sophomore quarterback Joe Comfort was called on to kick the game-winning conversion and he booted it true.

Scoring summary:

Vanderbilt	0	7	6	0	13
Georgia	0	0	0	14	14

Vanderbilt scoring: Touchdowns, Horton (2, plunge). Stephenson (23, pass-run from Orr). Conversion, Jalufka.

Georgia scoring: Touchdowns, Clark (11, pass from Young), Young (2, plunge). Conversions, Cooper, Comfort.

Vidalia Outlasts Mississippi Foe By 26-9 Margin

VIDALIA, La., Sept. 24 (Special) —Vidalia's Vikings scored their first victory of the season in three starts last night when they defeated Fayette, Miss.'s Bulldogs 26-19.

The visitors drew first blood, but Coach Walter Stampley's well-drilled Vikings roared back to tie the score at the end of the first quarter.

Scoring for the winners were Jerry Dickerson, on a 60-yard run; Billy Calvert, on a sneak play, and again on a 43 yard keeper, and Sonny Franklin, who made the final score on a plunge.

ON FAILING HORSEPOWER

By pressing a button, we take your car off a fast highway and into heavy traffic . . . then up the steepest grade . . . without leaving our shop. We do it on our dynamometer to measure the horsepower of your car under all road driving conditions. In no other way can you be sure of getting peak performance. These dyno-tests under load . . . before and after service work . . . show you exactly what work is needed and how well it is performed. "Trouble-shooting" with us is a science because guesswork is eliminated. Our dynamometer finds the exact trouble in a matter of minutes. When service is completed, our dyno-check report guarantees your satisfaction.

Rumors And News Dominate Prices In Stock Market

NEW YORK Sept. 24 (AP)—Rumors were a dime a dozen this week in Wall Street, and the stock market seemed to listen to all of them as it advanced to a new record high mark.

Some of the reports were denied quickly, others were brushed aside lightly, while still others were left hanging as though there might be some substance to them after all.

They fell into four categories—stock splits, company mergers, dividend increases, and higher earnings.

The most popular split rumor concerned Chrysler. Officials said they hadn't heard the reports. Nevertheless the stock gained 9¾ at 99⅜ on the week as Chrysler introduced its 1956 models.

Sears Roebuck directors came through with an official proposal for a three-for-one split of its common stock plus a better dividend. It gained 7⅞ on the week to close at 115¾.

Merger rumors of various companies were denied right right and left or just ignored by company officials.

The reports of possible dividend increases and estimates of higher earnings had firmer foundations. As a matter of fact, business this week was good and is expected to get better.

The stock market as measured by the Associated Press average of 60 stocks, reached a new record high mark of $181.50, up 90 cents on the week. The average now as concluded five straight weekly advances.

Excitement on the American Stock Exchange this week centered on three oil companies whose stocks roared upward in a blaze of trading as oil was discovered for the first time in the Holy Land. The oil strike was at Heletz, 30 miles south of Tel Aviv. On Friday, Israel-American Petroleum gained 1⅞ at 3¼, Israel-Mediterranean advanced 1½ at 2½, and Pan-Israel Oil was up 1⅝ at 2½.

The five most active issues this week on the New York Stock Exchange were Chrysler up 9¾ at 99 on 183,100 shares, U. S. steel up 2⅛ at 62⅛, Phillips Petroleum up 3¾ at 79⅜, Colombia Gas up ⅜ at 16¾, and General Motors up 3⅞ at 143⅞.

U. S. Treasury obligations firmed this week while the corporate bond market backed and filled without setting any discernable trend.

Lion Oil Merges With Monsanto; Made Subsidiary

EL DORADO, Ark., Spet. 24 — (Special)—The merger of Lion Oil Company into Monsanto Chemical Company, as agreed upon by the directors of both corporations on July 21, was approved by Lion shareowners and Monsanto shareowners at meetings held here and in St. Louis.

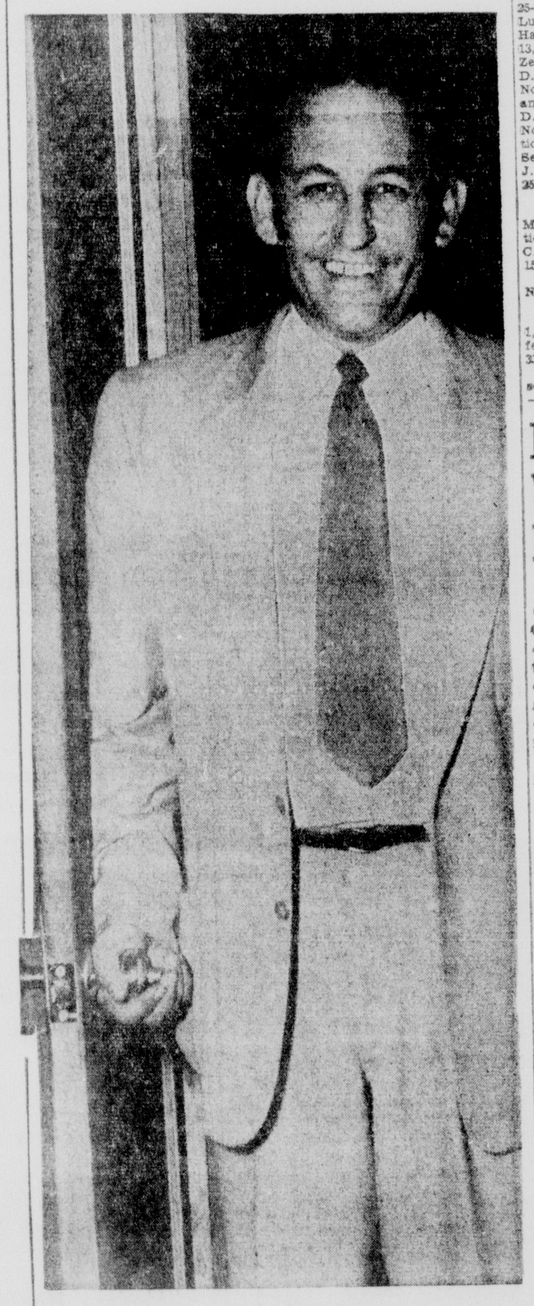

A joint announcement concerning the vote of both shareowner goups was made by T. H. Barton, chairman, and T. M. Martin, president, of Lion; and by Edgar M. Queeny, board chairman, and Charles Allen Thomas, president, of Monsanto.

The merger will become effective on September 30. A two-thirds majority of the outstanding shares of both companies was required to approve the merger.

Basis of the merger is the exchange of 1-½ shares of Monsanto $2 par value common stock for each outstanding share of Lion stock.

Martin and Barton have become members of the Monsanto board.

Lion Oil Company will be a division of Monsanto. Martin is to serve as president of the Lion division and, in addition, he has been elected a vice president of Monsanto by the Monsanto board. Jeff Davis of El Dorado, vice president and general counsel of Lion, has been elected an assistant secretary of Monsanto and E. W. Atkinson of El Dorado, vice president and treasurer of Lion, has been elected an assistant treasurer of Monsanto.

Dormitory Life

Monroe Morning World
September 25, 1955

Ellen Ruth Collins, Lulu Posey, Annette Hartley and Peggy Wingate

Lucy Turner — Lillian Gore

It's fun to live in a dorm—signing in under the deadline — studying together—even chatting and helping during a shampoo in the dormitory shampoo room — the excitement when the date arrives on the night of the big dance — the companionship of good company after classes. All these are typical scenes of dormitory life for Northeast State College co-eds.

League Of Women Voter's Board Is Entertained

Mrs. R. M. Troy entertained the board of the Monroe League of Women Voters for their first fall meeting with a buffet supper in her home on the Loop Road, Monday evening at 6 o'clock.

The business meeting which followed with Mrs. Troy, president, presiding consisted of plans for the coming year. The league is now enjoying a most successful year, with an increase in membership and interest in two important meetings to be held in the near future.

During the first part of November the Monroe League will sponsor a candidates meeting over TV. All candidates will be invited and it is expected to have wide interest for all voters. The date and time will be announced later.

On Monday, Sept. 26th at 10 a. m. an orientation meeting and coffee hour will be held in the home of Mrs. Troy for all new members as well as others who are interested in the League of Women Voters.

Girl State Delegate Makes Report

One of the most interesting topics discussed at the September meeting of the Wisner Garden Club was the report of Miss Sue Ann Kiper, on her trip to Girls' State. The Wisner Garden Club and the Daffodil Garden Club were co-sponsors. From her report, the club learned much of the far-reaching influence of Girls' State. This is a project the club is very proud to have a part in.

MRS. DOUGLAS GENE HANKS

Miss Etta Jean Masling Is Bride Of Lt. Douglas Hanks

Of widespread interest was the marriage of Miss Etta Jean Masling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond F. Masling, of Farmerville, to Lt. Douglas Gene Hanks, son of Mrs. Edith Hanks and the late Mr. Ed Hanks, of Shelley, Idaho, which was an event of 3 o'clock Sunday in the First Baptist Church of Farmerville.

The Rev. Luther B. Hall performed the double ring nuptials before an altar decorated with floor standards of white gladiolas, fuji mums and asters. A myriad of white cathedral tapers illuminated the ivy covered arch where the couple pledged their vows.

Mrs. Frank Yelton, organist accompanied Mrs. Robert A. Whitley, soloist as he sang "At Dawning," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a wedding gown of blush pink nylon tulle and lace. The long bodice of lace, edged in rhinestones, featured a portrait neckline. She wore long mitts of matching lace. Her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion fell from a bandeau of lace sprinkled with seed pearls and rhinestones. She carried a white Bible on which was mounted a specimen white orchid surrounded by white feathered carnations, blush pink velvet and lace leaves with white satin streamers.

Mrs. Edward Gummelt of Waco, Tex., was matron of honor and only attendant. She wore a floor-length gown of white tulle over skinner satin complemented by a headdress of white horsehair braid with red velvet streamers. Her bouquet was of red roses.

Lt. Olin W. Ince served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Lt. Russell M. Parsons, Lt. Norman Sparks Gillis, Robert G. Dawkins and Marc Corswell.

The bride's mother chose for the wedding an aqua lace dress with a light blue pearl and sequin trimmed hat. Her corsage was red garnet roses.

Mrs. Hanks, the bridegroom's mother, was attired in a blue lace with pink accessories complemented by a corsage of pink carnations.

A reception followed in the Blue Room of the First Baptist Church.

The bride's table, overlaid in a white satin cloth, was centered with a silver epergne of red roses. The three - tiered wedding confection topped with a miniature bride and groom was placed at one end of the table. The crystal punch service was placed at the opposite end. Alternating at the punch bowl were Miss Ileen Robinson and Miss Joye Aulds.

Among those serving and assisting with the courtesies during the reception were Mrs. J. R. Dawkins, Mrs. Dewey Barr, Mrs. T. W. Bairdst, Mrs. Emmylou Mashow, Miss Eileen Robinson, Miss Ann Nygaard, Miss Joyce Aulds, Miss Peggy Johnson and Miss Dorothy Futch.

Providing music at the reception were Miss Bertie Jean Ludwig, Miss Linda Malone and Miss Billie Jean Roan.

For a wedding trip to Galveston and Houston, the bride changed to a blue faille suit trimmed in white with navy accessories and the orchid from her wedding bouquet.

Upon return, they will make their home in Lake Charles.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. Eugenia Masling of this city and the late Mr. Frank Masling. She is a graduate of Farmerville High School.

Lt. Hanks is a graduate of Shelley High School.

Among the out - of - town guests were: Mrs. Edith Hanks of Shelley, Idaho; Mrs. Byrd Morgan, Mrs. Eddie Summelt, Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Whitley of Waco, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Corswell of Lufkin, Tex.; Marc Corswell of San Antonio, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. John Batten of Natchitoches; Mrs. Billie Permeater, Mrs. Rosilee Butler, both of Houston, Tex.; Miss Lois Derouen, Miss Ileen Robinson, Lt. Olin W. Ince, Lt. Norman Sparks Gillis, Lt. Russell M. Parsons, all of Lake Charles; Miss May Read, Mrs. S. F. Dunlap, Mrs. Grace Martha, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bradley, Miss Jo Ann Bradley, Mrs. S. B. Hancock, Miss Joyce Hancock, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Brothers, Montez, Ronnie and Patsy, Mrs. Alice Hurst, Miss Thelma Smith and Mrs. Frank Masling, all of Monroe.

Miss Stratford Is Entertained At Bridal Party

Miss Anne Stratford, bride-elect of Wayburne Farrar, was entertained at a miscellaneous shower hosted by Miss Vera Smith, Mrs. Fred Moore and Miss Arthuree Hall in the Moore home on Bres avenue Wednesday night.

Miniature hearts were placed at vantage points throughout the party rooms. The honoree's chair was decorated with pink and the traditional bridal white.

Centering the refreshment table, overlaid in an antique lace cloth, were figurines of a bride and groom surrounded by magnolia leaves and pastel pink and white blossoms. A pink and white motif was also used in the refreshments.

Receiving guests with the hostesses and honoree was Miss Shirley Zumbro.

Miss Vera Smith presided at the punch service and Mrs. Fred Moore assisted in serving.

Miss Stratford chose for the party a pastel blue faille suit with a corsage of pink carnations.

Guests sharing the occasion with the hostesses and Miss Stratford were:

Mrs. Louise Lockett, Mrs. Olivia Futch, Miss Shirley Zumbro, Miss Joyce Smith, Mrs. Matille Lindsay, Mrs. Johnny Grantham, Mrs. Reginald Futch, Mrs. Katie Greer, Mrs. Charles Stratford, Mrs. Fred Moore, Miss Vera Smith, Miss Arthuree Hall, Miss Lynn Womack, Mrs. R. C. Smith, Mrs. Arthur Hall, Mrs. Charles Bailey, Mrs. Barbara Davis, Mrs. Ben Farrar, Farmerville, Miss Melba Farrar, Farmerville, Mrs. Bill McGough, Farmerville.

Home Ceremony Unites Couple

FERRIDAY — Miss Shirley Ann Southern, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Southern if Ferriday, became the bride of Charles Dan Drummond, the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Drummond, of Ferriday, in a home ceremony Saturday at 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

The bride was given in marriage by Sgt. Doyle Gilbert of New Orleans, La.

Following a wedding trip to the Gulf Coast, the young couple will make their home in Ferriday. The bridegroom has just completed a tour of duty with the U. S. Army in Korea.

Former Monroyan Recites Vows In Baltimore

The marriage of Miss Rhoda Evon Browning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Griffin Browning, of Samarho on the Severn, former residents of Monroe, to William Kirkwood McWilliams, son of Mr. and Mrs. James O. McWilliams, of Baltimore, took place on Saturday, August 20, 1955, at the Starr Methodist Church in Baltimore.

Dr. Lloyd Keller, pastor of St. John's Luthern Church officiated at the ceremony. Altar candles for the ceremony, were lighted by Kenneth Wayne Henry, of Bernice, cousin of the bride and Gordon Ditman of Baltimore, cousin of the groom.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a gown of embroidered Swiss organdy. Her finger tip veil of bridal illusion fell from a matching crown. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis and orchids.

Miss Minnie Brooks Rainey, of West Point, Miss., was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Mary Draper Henry of Bernice, cousin of the bride, Miss Patricia Carol Hamersly, Mrs. Charles Benjamin Mitchell and Miss Elizabeth Elaine McWilliams, of Baltimore.

The attendants wore white organdy over rainbow - colored taffetas and carried cascade bouquets of asters and carnations and wore crowns of feathered carnations.

Mr. James O. McWilliams, father of the groom, was best man. The ushers were Bernard Anthony Schwab, III, of Charlottesville, Virginia, Robert E. Pogue, of Newport News, Virginia, Warren McWilliams, cousin of the groom, of Rhodesdale, Maryland, Charles Benjamin Mitchell III, and Charles G. Daugherty of Baltimore.

After a reception, held at the Broadview, the couple left for a honeymoon in Nassau.

Mr. and Mrs. McWilliams, will make their home in Charlottesville, Virginia, where the groom is a member of the senior class at the University of Virginia. The bride, who is a graduate of Mary Washington College, will be a medical technician at the University of Virginia Hospital.

Mrs. G. M. Baskin Hostess To Woman's Club

Mrs. Baskin, assisted by Mrs. F. E. Lyles, entertained the Baskin Woman's Club at its first meeting of the year last week.

Mrs. Whit Jones, the club president, called the meeting to order by asking the group to stand and give the pledge to the flag.

Mrs. Baskin then gave a very inspirational devotion using as her theme, "Prayer."

In closing she left with us this thought:

My Prayer no mountain has moved but as I prayed
I was glad to know that some one cared.
My Prayer no gold has brought
But warmth and peace are mine
My Prayer no wound did heal
But my feelings of loneliness and guilt were replaced with gratitude.
My Pryer no acclaim did bring but today a friend brought me her burden.
Dear God thank you for answering my prayer in your own way.

After this Mrs. Black, program chairman, introduced the speaker for the evening, Rev. Woodward D. Morriss, who gave a very interesting account of the life, travels, and works of The Apostle Paul, using the New Testament as his source of material, with the aid of a wall map of the Holy Lands.

After the reading and adoption of the minutes of the last meeting, there being no business transactions, Mrs. Jones, the club president, asked the group to stand and repeat in unison the club collect.

Members present were Mrs. Muri Platt, honorary member, Mrs. Eppinette, Mrs. Goforth, Mrs. Black, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Brand, Mrs. Shipman, Mrs. Roger Miller, Mrs. Pepper, Mrs. Lyles, Mrs. Wiggington, Mrs. Baskin, Miss Goforth, Miss Brothers, Miss Corley, Mrs. Frellsen, Mrs. Le Fevre, Mrs. Jarrette, and Mrs. Stewart.

Mrs. J. T. Tims was a welcome guest.

Sylvan Garden Club Hears Talk On Arrangements

The Sylvan Garden Club of Urania opened the fall club year with a meeting in the Community Center, Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Harry Nichols and Mrs. Irwin Dunlap as hostesses.

With the president, Mrs. R. L. Walsh, presiding the meeting was opened by reading the club collect in unison. The minutes were read by the secretary Mrs. W. C. Hicks and the treasurer Mrs. A. J. Sessions gave a report.

During the business session it was voted to make Mrs. Ed Blevins, former resident, now living in Lake Charles, an honorary member of the club.

Mrs. M. A. Tannehill was program leader on "Flower Arrangement Work Shop." She introduced Mrs. V. S. Garnett of West Monroe as guest speaker. Mrs. Garnett was one of the first accredited flower show judges in the state and at present is state chairman of birds. She had on display a dozen beautiful dried arrangements and as many dainty miniature arrangements.

After a short talk she directed the members in making arrangements. At the close of the meeting the hostesses served a salad course to Mesdames G. S. Walsh, W. C. Proctor, W. S. Higgins, O. F. Matthews, C. E. Tannehill, Otto Kees, Q. E. Cornwell, L. Volentine, A. M. Johnston, R. L. Walsh, Leon Brooks, W. C. Hicks, M. T. Sessions, Q. T. Hardtner, J. H. Glidden, Walton Hixson, A. J. Chief Tusquahoma Chapter, DAR, Plans Tea In October

Chief Tusquahoma Chapter of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution held the first meeting of the year Saturday at the Methodist Youth Building in West Monroe. Mrs. Archie Dickerson, regent, presided over the general business meeting. Highlighting the business session was a discussion of the tea which will be given October 15th at "Synope," the plantation home of Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Reynolds.

Reports were made by chapter chairmen, and Mrs. Dickerson reviewed briefly the points of the honor roll, expressing confidence in the ability of the chapter to fulfill the requirements set forth by the national and state societies.

A report was heard on the presentation of an American flag to the West Monroe Branch of the Ouachita Parish Public Library, which presentation was made at 10:00 a.m. September 17th, emphasizing Constitution Day. Accepting the flag on behalf of the West Monroe Branch, Miss Frances Flanders, Ouachita Parish Librarian, charged Mrs. D. C. Brothers and Mrs. John Lewis, of the West Monroe staff, with the responsibility of guarding and displaying properly this symbol of national freedom. Representing Chief Tusquahoma Chapter at the presentation were Mesdames Archie Dickerson, George Lawn, H. C. Ervin, Tom Rainbolt, Lela Cullom, W. B. McGee, W. G. Haynes, Jr., J. O. Miller and Roy E. Lee.

Mrs. W. G. Haynes, Jr., program chairman, introduced the speaker for the day, Judge Jesse S. Heard. Judge Heard spoke on the timely subject of the Constitution of the United States, bringing to mind the circumstances under which our constitution was written, and of the adversities encountered before the final drafting and signing of the Constitution.

Judge Heard discussed briefly each amendment which has been added to strengthen this timeless document, as well as discussing a few proposals which have failed to receive the necessary two-thirds majority vote in order to become a law of the land. In closing, Judge Heard stated, " . . . as long as the people continue to argue about, discuss and debate about our constitution, as well as go to the polls and vote, just so long will our government be a government of the people, for the people and by the people."

Co - hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. John O. Lolley and Mrs. George M. Lawn. Members present were: Mesdames Archie Dickerson, Roy E. Lee, Jesse L. Norris, Lela Cullom, H. C. Ervin, Lester Corley, W. G. Haynes, Jr., Tom Rainbolt, J. O. Miller, W. B. McGee, C. G. Wall, Jr., J. L. Harper, V. O. Allen and Misses Mary Louise Ellis and Katherine Averett.

MISS CAROLYN FLETCHER is engaged to Lloyd McManus of Holly Ridge. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Fletcher of Rayville. The wedding will be solemnized on October 16 at the Holly Ridge Baptist Church.

MISS PEGGY ELOISE JOHNSON'S engagement and approaching marriage to Billy Orten, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Orten of Lawrenceburg, Tenn., is announced today by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Elton Johnson of Farmerville. The wedding will be an event of December 20.

National B & PW Week Is Observed By Local Club

The Business and Professional Women's Club of Monroe began its activities for National Business Women's Week with a breakfast at the Rendezvous at 9 o'clock this morning. Forty members were scheduled to attend. In charge of the breakfast arrangements was Mrs. Edna Vaughan.

Lovely fall flowers of orange chrysanthemum and greenery were placed at intervals throughout the room. The clubs theme for 1955, "Aim High," was carried out in all the decorations, even in the programs placed at each place. After the invocation by Miss Maibel Hood, the president, Mrs. Inas Harrington gave a very interesting talk, using as her topic, "Aim High."

At the close of the meeting, prizes were awarded to various members present after which the club attended worship service, in a Body at Memorial Methodist church.

Members in attendance were as follows: Dorothy Blacketer, Edna Vaughan, Lela Breard, Marguerite Meek, Mary O'Kelly, Bessie Skinner, Laura Slator, Evelyn Pankey, Mary Gene Lea, Mamie Ober, Hazel Wakefield, Elizabeth Stenburg, India Calder, Edna Manley, Bettie Oxford, Gladys Miles, Agnes Krogmire, Sarah Kennon, Inas Harrington, Lucille Mathis, Faye Heard.

Also Zera Edwards, Irene Reid, Opal Creassy, Jewel Wise, Florence Powers, Johnnie Elbert, Lillie Mae Carroll, Myrtle Porter, Billie Harrell, Lela Wyatt, Maibel Hood, Flora Seaman, Alice Baur, Clara Dennis, Murl Hicks, Peggy Hemphill, Mae Modes, Mary Lou Garvin, Addie Lou Juneman.

Literary Club Begins Year In Mangham

Mangham Literary Club members started on a new year by holding their first meeting in the home of Mrs. Raymond Gieger. Mrs. Manning Boughton assisted Mrs. Gieger as co-hostess.

The president, Mrs. Yvonne DeVille, welcomed all the members and asked the support of each in making this another good club year. Mrs. Annie Boies, club secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting. Mrs. Marion Lyles then gave a treasury report.

Mangham Literary Club will again have a chicken spaghetti supper preceeding the Mangham High School's football homecoming game. Details will be made later.

Mrs. DeVille read the club bulletin from the state president, Mrs. Carl Stewart. She also read a letter from the national president, Mrs. Chapman. Mrs. DeVille introduced Mrs. Charles Tillman who was leader of the program for the night. Mrs. Tillman welcomed Mrs. Bud Murray, the guest speaker.

The club topic for the year is "Great Religions of the World." Mrs. Murray's topic was Hinduism.

Mrs. Tillman then introduced Mrs. Traylor Jones, the second speaker for the night. Mrs. Jones reviewed an article from the Clubwoman.

Hostesses for October meeting will be Mrs. Lois Barfield, Mrs. Annie Boies and Mrs. Gladys Jones.

Those present were: Mrs. Robert L. Bell, Jr., Mrs. Reese Boies, Mrs. John F. Boughton, Mrs. Manning Boughton, Mrs. R. B. Boughton, Miss Ola Cooper, Mrs. Odelle DeVille, Mrs. Raymond Gieger, Mrs. Theo Jones, Mrs. Traylor Jones, Mrs. L. Lyles, Mrs. W. T. Sartor, Mrs. Charles Tillman, Mrs. Edmund Williamson, Mrs. Sallie Bell Landrum and Mrs. Jo Ann McKay.

Grow basil in a pot on your kitchen window. Keep the soil moist and pinch off the small leaves so the herb will "spread." Basil is, of course, a must for tomato sauce; it is also delectable in green salads and in vegetable soups. If you use it in the soup, mince it and add at the moment before serving.

News From The Public Library

One of the most interesting and informative books that has been published recently is "The World We Live In" published by Life magazine. It is a compilation of the wonderful articles which appeared in Life every two months for a period from December 1952 to December 1954. It consists of thirteen different chapters, each one dealing with some feature of the world in which we live. The first one is called "The Earth Is Born." It has marvelous colored pictures showing the interior of the earth and its crust, the age of glaciers and the formation of the continents. The second chapter is called "The Miracle of the Sea" and depicts the influence of the sea upon the earth. The third chapter is "The Face of the Land" and shows how the different features of the land are formed. Part IV is called "The Canopy of Air" and explains the effect of the atmosphere upon our life. Part V is called "The Pageant of Life" and explains how the different forms of life grew upon the earth. The illustrations of the now extinct reptiles are wonderful and inspiring. Part VI is called "The Age of Mammals" and shows many wonderful and amazing mammals. Part VII is devoted to "Creatures of the Sea" in all their shimmering beauty, while part VIII is devoted entirely to the "Coral Reef." Part IX is called "The Land of the Sun" and is devoted to the deserts of the world. Part X is called "The Arctic Barrens" and describes the tundra around the polar sea. The pictures show the amazing difference between summer and winter in this region. Part XI is called "The Rain Forest" and is devoted to the moist tropic lowlands which hold a richer array of plant and animal life than any land area on earth. Part XII is called "The Woods of Home" and gives fascinating descriptions and pictures of the forests of the temperate zone. Chapter XIII is called "The Starry Universe" and is concerned with the wonders of the heavens and the other planets. The Ouachita Parish Public Library purchased four copies of this book, one for each branch. It is an expensive book and we are not going to check it out to children. It will have to be borrowed by adults who will supervise its use if their children look at it. This book should be especially interesting to men and we are happy that each branch will have its own copy.

A new mystery which will be popular at this time because of the recent trouble in Argentina is "The Call from Calle Moreno" by Marie Flores. It is based on a true incident and gives a shocking picture of conditions inside Argentine. A true story of fascinating adventure is "Arctic Doctor" by Dr. Joseph P. Moody. It tells the courageous story of a man who was responsible for the health of 2,000 patients who lived in a territory covering 600,000 square miles in the Canadian East Arctic. It is a book for those who are interested in medicine and for those who feel the lure of far places.

A romantic novel which will appeal to high school and college age readers is "Welcome to Dunecrest" by Frances Leigh Williams. It is the story of a young girl who succeeds in a challenging profession, that of hotel management. It is a story of real people and contains interesting sidelights on the hotel profession as well as the unusual problems of young girls. A book which will be eagerly read by men, young and old is "The Saga of American Football" written by Alexander M. Weyand with a foreward by Grantland Rice. It is a complete history of football and makes interesting reading for any fan of the sport.

Have you used the resources of the Ouachita Parish Public Library? Do you know what it has to offer you in pleasure, information and knowledge? If you are not a patron, do not delay, but register as soon as possible.

Ever add a little finely chopped onion to that cabbage slaw? It gives tangy flavor.

Savoie-Travis Vows Pledged In Dunn Church

MR. AND MRS. HERMAN MELVIN SAVOIE

Miss Georgia Lee Travis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Travis of Dunn, is the bride of Herman Melvin Savoie, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Eddie Savoie of Jennings.

The bridegroom's father officiated at the impressive double ring ceremony performed at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Dunn Baptist Church.

Miss Bertha Lou Travis of Dunn, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. She was wearing a blush-pink waltz-length gown of nylon crystalline with a matching ruffled net bandeau.

The bridesmaids were Miss Shirley Dixon of Dunn, Miss Audrey Loftin of Delhi and Miss Glenda Bates of Delhi. Their gowns were a replica of the honor attendants in a deep pink and matching headdresses. Their flowers were of pink and white asters.

William Steed of Baton Rouge served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers and groomsmen were the Rev. Wallace Huckaby of Alexandria, and Charles Jackson of Oak Grove.

The bride, escorted to the altar by the Rev. H. W. Freeman wore an ankle-length gown of white antique taffeta with a full skirt and fitted lace bodice. The high Peter Pan collar was of taffeta and accentuated the long sleeves which came to points over the wrist.

Her veil of illusion fell in cascading folds from a crown of seed pearls and rhinestones. She carried an arm spray of pink and white asters with her going-away corsage of white forming the center. She was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs. Stone Miller was pianist and accompanied Mark A. Tullos of Monroe, soloist, and the Dunn Baptist Choir.

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding a mauve and black lace model with black accessories complemented by a corsage of white mums.

Mrs. Savoie, the bridegroom's mother, was attractively attired in a charcoal grey frock with white accessories and a shoulder corsage of white mums.

The bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Travis, entertained at a reception following the ceremony.

The Travis home was artistically decorated with pink roses and pink and white asters.

Mrs. Travis received guests in a lilac lace dress with a matching bolero.

The reception table, overlaid in a crocheted lace cloth over a pale green, had as its centerpiece a picturesque display of pink roses. The three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom was also placed on the table.

Mrs. H. W. Freeman presided at the punch service and Mrs. Lottie Johnson of Dunn kept the bride's guest book.

For a wedding trip to Vicksburg, Miss., the bride changed to a dark charcoal gray wool suit flaked with mauve.

Upon return, they will make their home in Alexandria.

The bride is a graduate of Delhi High School and is attending Louisiana Baptist College in Pineville where she is majoring in home economics.

MR. AND MRS. KENNETH FIFE

Fife-Osbon

Miss Janice Osbon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erey C. Osbon of Delhi, and Pfc. Kenneth Fife, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Fife of Waverly, pledged their nuptial vows in an impressive double ring ceremony at 7 o'clock in the evening Monday, September 12 at the First Methodist Church in Delhi. The Rev. Don Wininger officiated.

The altar rail was entwined with English ivy. Baskets of white mums were placed in front of the greenery which was illuminated by tall candelabra with white cathedral tapers.

Frank McKay, organist, accompanied Mrs. Elizabeth Ballard who sang "Because," "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was wearing a white bridal gown of lace over satin with a high neckline and sculptured bodice. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held in place by a half-hat of lace over satin trimmed in seed pearls. She carried a white prayer book topped with a bouquet of tuberoses and satin streamers centered with a white orchid.

Miss Josephine Ragus of Pioneer, a cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Her dress was fashioned of yellow crystaline taffeta with a fitted bodice and bouffant skirt. She wore a matching half-hat and carried a bouquet of white daisies and satin streamers.

The candles were lighted by Miss Geraldine Osbon of Delhi, a cousin of the bride, and Miss Carolyn Fife of Waverly, sister of the bridegroom. Their dresses were identical to the honor attendant's. They wore wrist corsages of white frenched carnations.

James Lee Harper of Camp Chaffee, Ark., was best man. Ushers were Pat Lane and V. P. Dalrymple, Jr.

The bride's mother chose a mauve lace dress with matching hat and gloves. She wore a corsage of fushia gladiolas.

The bridegroom's mother was attired in navy blue and white model with navy accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

A reception folllowed in the home of the bride's parents.

The bride's table, overlaid in a white cutwork cloth, featured a three - tiered wedding cake topped with a bride and groom. The crystal punch bowl was placed at the end of the table. Centering the table was a bouquet of pink radiance roses and rose of Montana. Tall tapers in sterling holders were placed to each side of the centerpiece.

For a wedding trip to points of interest in the west, the bride changed to a navy blue fall cotton with a white linen trim. She wore white and blue accessories and the orchid from her wedding bouquet.

Upon return, they will make their home in Fort Smith, Ark.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Fife are graduates of Delhi High School.

Among the out - of - town guests were Mrs. Robert Hicks and daughters, Robbie Gale and Charlotte Ann, Mrs. Murl Ruddick, all of Monroe, Mrs. Hickman Hankins and daughter, Martha Anna of Darnell, Mrs. Joseph Ragus and daughter, Betty Lou also of Darnell, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Mangham of Jackson, Miss.

Girl Scout News

It's good to see the brown and green uniforms in evidence as troops resume meetings. It's fun for the girls, too, to be back to regular meetings, to share their summer experiences and to plan what they will do in the new Scout year. The most credit in scouting should go, we think to the leader who comes back to her troop in the fall and picks up where she left off in June. This continuity in leadership means ever so much to the troop.

With more and more girls wanting to be Scouts, it is gratifying to be able to tell you of a few new troops, the first of many we hope will be serving the girls of our community this year as a result of mothers' meetings, new troops for the third and fifth grades, and expansion of the existing fourth grade troop at Millsaps School have been assured. Can't tell you all the prospective names, but Mrs. W. E. Higginbortham will be leader of the fifth grade group, first year intermediates.

Mrs. J. H. Kelly and Mrs. Clell Thornton are securing additional leadership and opening membership in Troop 45 to all fourth grade girls at Millsaps School. Wish all of you could have heard Dottie Thornton tell the mothers what her troop had done last year and how much she had enjoyed being a Brownie Scout.

Mrs. Mrs. R. N. Goodwin as leader of Troop 51, second year intermediates, Millsaps will be able to take care of most of its girls. Several of these girls went to day camp at Pine Wood and to established camp at Wawbansee and have been teaching the rest of the troop the songs they learned. They'll be able to pass on more than songs and games, we venture to say. There's nothing like having campers in a troop.

Brownie troop 30 got off to a good start by electing officers as follows: president, Judy Branch, vice - president, Karen Younse, secretary, Sherry Edwards, treasurer, Donna Jo Renwick, and reporter, Patti Smith. As part of their plan for learning about their community, they visited the television station, where they were especially impressed by seeing color television.

First year intermediates of Troop 38, Mrs. I. L. Causey, leader, started their year by practicing a flag ceremony and making plans for working on second class rank. Their leader and several girls from the troop attended day camp, where they participated in a flag ceremony every day, and learned a lot more that they can share with their troop.

On Thursday and Friday mornings this week, leaders will meet at 9:30 for a refresher training session that should help them at the start of the school year — Brownie leaders, Thursday; intermediate leaders Friday, at the office, 416 Wood street.

Pierian Club Celebrates Federation Day

The Pierian Club met at Oak Ridge Community Hall Tuesday afternoon. In celebration of Federation Day, Mrs. J. C. Kenton of Mangham, first vice - president of Fifth District Louisiana Federation of Women's Clubs, spoke on "What Club Work Can Do For You."

Mrs. C. E. Shepard, year book chairman and one of the charter members of the club, presented the twenty yearbooks that have recorded the programs of the club since its organization. The current year book is ornamented wth a birthday cake and the programs follow the topics that have been used in the past years.

Mrs. A. B. Conger spoke on Radio and Television. Mrs. Norman McDuffie announced the celebration of Constitution week.

A donation was made to the fund for a proposed flag pole to be placed near the Oak Ridge post office.

Mrs. W. E. Conger, president, presided. During the business session Mrs. J. S. Carter presented the budget.

During the social hour the hostesses, Mrs. M. T. Limerick and Mrs. T. L. Smith served delicious refreshments to Mrs. E. M. Barham, Mrs. J. W. Barham, Mrs. R. E. Barham, Mrs. T. E. Barham, Mrs. J. S. Barr, Mrs. J. S. Carter, Mrs. A. B. Conger, Mrs. W. E. Conger, Mrs. C. N. McDuffie, Mrs. W. N. McDuffie, Mrs. Elmer McLendon, Mrs. James Rolfe, Mrs. C. E. Shepard, Mrs. T. L. Smith, Mrs. J. C. Smith, Mrs. E. B. Smith, Mrs. Shelby White, Mrs. B. E. Barham and Miss Queenie McDuffie. Guests from the Caddoan Club were Mrs. Joe Cabuk and Mrs. Will Rolfe. From Mangham, Mrs. J. C. Kenton.

Mrs. Wilkins Departs For Peabody College

Mrs. A. W. Wilkins, member of the faculty of Plum Street School of the Monroe city schools, is now on sabbatical leave and will enroll in the graduate school of George Peabody College for Teachers, Nashville, Tenn., September 26.

Several informal affairs have been arranged in her honor. Outstanding among them was a handkerchief shower with Mesdames R. E. Bedwell, H. B. Cruthirds, H. M. Davis and G. R. Younse as hostesses, at the home of Mrs. Davis. Guests were received on the lovely patio, where bowls of summer flowers artfully arranged and the soft glow of many hurricane lamps added charm to the natural beauty of the Davis' garden.

Following a conversational hour and the opening of the gifts, refreshments were served the 22 guests. The guest of honor's tray was unusually clever, featuring a figurine attired in cap and gown, proudly clasping the coveted diploma, while replicas of mortar board caps held mints.

Miss Fournet Will Judge Pantries

Let's Avoid Forest Fires

Each year forest fires destroy many of our young trees because some person was careless — hunters, smokers, trash burners, etc. From such carelessness California has and is now suffering from forest fires. Will Louisiana suffer because of one of us? Let's make our answer no. Ouachita needs the income it gets from its forests.

Farm and Home Development Program

Rapid changes in production technology and economic condition influence farm business operations. These changes must be met by the farm family if living standards are to be maintained or improved.

Through a survey made in four parishes in Louisiana, it was learned that many farm families in Louisiana want individual council and guidance on organizing their farm business. Others requested help with making decisions on the adoption of new methods and practices. Ouachita parish extension now is offering this type service to its farm families through the Farm and Home Development program. W. B. Aycock, Jr., associate farm agent, will devote his entire time working with families requesting this type service.

The home demonstration agent will cooperate and work with these farm wives on home management which includes management of time, labor and money. The county agents and agents in charge of 4-H work will also cooperate with the program as needs arise. This is another way extension can help farm families. Farm families desiring such assistance may make appuication now with Mr. Aycock at the agricultural building, West Monroe.

Mr. Aycock spent two weeks at L. S. U. taking special training for this work. The Home and County agents spent three days attending a workshop of this kind, also last week.

The Planned Pantry Contest

Since we were not sure until last week that the planned pantry would be included in the fair catalog, time will not permit the agent judging the pantry in each home. It will be judged by Miss Estelle Fournet, L. S. U. extension food preservation specialist, by the following score: (1) Filling the pantry to meet family needs (according to budget card); (2) Quality of products is shown by ones exhibited at fair. So select the best jar of each product you have in your pantry. Bring your budget card which shows the need of family and a record of what you canned, froze, dried, cured and preserved since October 1954. Bring these to the fair October 10th. Judging will be done October 11. You are invited to watch Miss Fournet judge and hear her comments.

Booths At Ouachita Valley Fair

Home demonstration club women will have twenty - eight farm and home booths at the fair showing some farm and home work done, and lessons learned by them from the extension service. Besides these booths they will have exhibits in food preservation, baking, house furnishing, and clothing. Do - it - yourself inspired the fair to offer prizes on many useful articles made by adults and young youth. Be sure to check the fair catalog and show "what you did yourself."

Don't Burn Leaves

Let's not even smell burning leaves in Ouachita parish this year. Let us be thrifty and put them in a compost pile. They are too good to provide humus to our soil. Let's save them for our gardens.

House Furnishing Leader

September 29 at 9:30 the house furnishings leader training meeting will be held at the agricultural building. Leaders please bring with you your (drawn to scale, 1 inch equals 1 foot) floor plan to your living room. Also place the windows and doors on this floor plan. Leaders let us make this a worthwhile meeting for you are responsible to your club for this demonstration.

REV. PAUL PUMPELLY

Lake Charles Evangelist Is Holding Meets

Rev. Paul Pumpelly of Lake Charles, is currently conducting revival services at the First Church of the Nazarene, 201 Thomas St., Monroe. Rev. Pumpelly is an outstanding evangelist and is regularly engaged in revival and camp meeting work over the nation.

Accompanying Evangelist Pumpelly are his wife and seven-year-old son, James, who render special songs with accordion and guitar accompaniment.

The meetings will continue through Sunday, October 2 at seven-thirty each evening. The public is cordially invited.

Week Of Youth Led Services Are Set In M'Guire

A youth - led revival gets underway today at 11 o'clock at McGuire Methodist Church. Reverend James Poole of Oak Ridge will be preaching each evening and morning at 7:30 p.m. and 10:00 a.m. respectively.

The youth service will begin at 6:45 p.m. in preparation for the evening service. The youth choir will be directed by Reverend Art Baker of St. Joseph Methodist Church. He will also lead the congregational singing throughout the week.

The public is cordially invited to attend these services and enjoy the gospel preaching and singing of these two fine young ministers. Brother Poole and Brother Baker come to us highly recommended for their deep and sincere ability in spiritual leadership in revival efforts.

U. S. To Purchase Flour, Cornmeal To Give To Needy

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23—UP—The Agriculture Department Friday offered to buy 12,238,670 pounds of flour and 8,237,670 pounds of cornmeal for donation to needy families in 27 states.

The flour and cornmeal will be distributed to state and local public welfare agencies who have requested the program for relief feeding. The distribution will cover persons hit by floods, hurricanes or drouth disasters as well as those in trouble for economic reasons—like unemployed coal miners in West Virginia.

The department asked that offers to supply the two products be in by Sept. 30 with shipment no later than Oct. 20. States eligible included Arkansas, New Mexico, Colorado, Oklahoma and Texas.

The average U. S. citizen will eat four more pounds of meat this year than in 1954.

Rockefeller's Gift Will Aid Christian Work

A gift of $260,000 from John D. Rockefeller, Jr., to the World Council of Churches, will make it possible to carry on an international study and appraisal of Christian responsibility in areas of rapid social change — notably in countries of Asia and Africa — during the coming three years.

Announcement of the gift was made yesterday by the Geneva and New York officers of the World Council of Churches. Dr. Samuel McCrea Cavert is executive secretary of the New York office at 156 Fifth Avenue and of the Friends of the World Council of Churches, Inc., the legal corporation through which the gift was made. Dr. W. A. Visser't Hooft is general secretary of the World Council of Churches, Geneva.

Director of the World Council's study division, which will direct the study, is Dr. Robert S. Bilheimer, of New York, who was the executive for the Second Assembly of the World Council of Churches which met in Evanston, Illinois, last year.

MY ANSWER by Billy Graham

QUESTION: I know a Christian shouldn't feel as I do, but since my wife died, life seems useless. How can I find courage to go on? E. S.

ANSWER: It is always hard for us to be separated from those we love. Don't apologize for your grief, or try to bury your loneliness. Go to an understanding friend and share your sorrow. You'll be surprised at how much better you'll feel. The Bible says: "Blessed are they that mourn: for they shall be comforted." (Matthew 5:4).

Jesus is the best friend of all. Open your heart to Him. He is always by your side. Listen to His words of reassurance: "Let not your heart be troubled: I will pray the Father, and He shall give you another comforter, that he may abide with you forever." (John 14:1, 16) If you ask Christ He'll tell you how to again find purpose in life.

I'm sure heaven seems nearer to you than ever before. Let this spur you to spend more time on those things which have eternal value. Meaningless activity will never cure your heartache. Find someone in need, and help him. Find someone who is lonely, and let him know he has a friend. The joy you bring into the lives of others will be reflected in your own.

People In Forty Lands Will Start To Read Bible

Led by citizens of the United States, people in more than forty countries will follow the twelfth annual observance of Worldwide Bible reading, sponsored each year by the American Bible Society.

Starting Thanksgiving Day, November 24, and continuing through Christmas, thousands of families will be reading identical passages of Scripture from the greatest chapters of the Bible.

Lists of chapters are provided by the Bible society, free of charge to all who want them. Also this year blind persons will be provided with Braille.

President Eisenhower, honorary committee chairman, urges the public to adopt the plan of family reading of the Bible for guidance and inspiration in the tasks of life.

Meat contains "high quality" or "complete" protein — that which includes all the essential amino acids needed for various body functions.

REV. H. L. KEAHEY

Rev. Keahey To Present Music For Revival

The Reverend H. L. Keahey will be one of the leaders in a revival to be conducted at the Highland Park Baptist Church. The revival begins Monday, September 26 at 7:30 p.m. and will continue through Sunday, October 2. In addition to the evening services, four morning services will be conducted at 7:00 a.m. each morning Tuesday through Friday.

Mr. Keahey will have charge of the music for the revival. He is a revival singer of considerable note. Those who attend the services will be blessed by his fine tenor solos. Mr. Keahey is well known for his singing with the New Orleans Baptist Seminary Choral Group and as the first tenor in the official Seminary Men's Quartet.

The preacher for the Revival will be the Reverend H. T. Sullivan. Mr. Sullivan is pastor of the First Baptist Church of Oakdale, La. He has lead this splendid church in a dynamic program of evangelism and missions for the past eleven years. The evangelistic fervor of the church under his leadership is evidenced by the fact that the church has sponsored several Missions through the years. Four of these are now full time self-supporting churches.

North Carolina 'Y' Congress To Be Explained

Dr. Roy L. Robertson, president of the Twin Cities YMCA, announced yesterday that the regular September meeting of the YMCA board of directors will be held Monday at 6:00 p. m., in the Twin Cities YMCA, 217 Breard.

Seven of the Hi-Y leaders along with Miss Bess Sharp, executive secretary of the YWCA, will give a report of the 1955 Hi-Y, Tri-Hi-Y leaders training congress held at Blue Ridge, N. C.

Dr. Dewey L. Anderson, chairman of the steering committee for building planning will also present a report at Monday's meeting. Samuel Nock a representative from the building and furnishings service from the National Council of YMCA's, will visit Monroe on October 11 and 12. Nock is coming at the request of the board of directors to assist in planning for a future YMCA building.

A complete report of the financial condition of the local association will be presented by Ivey Faulk, treasurer.

Every board member is urged to attend this important meeting.

The public is cordially invited to hear this distinguished minister.

Passman Slates Conference With India's Nehru

An important conference with India's Prime Minister Nehru is on Congressman Otto E. Passman's foreign - aid fact-finding schedule for Monday. Earlier during the week he had conferred with the prime minister of Pakistan and with officials at the U. S. embassies in both Pakistan and India. He had also visited projects in the Karachi, Lahore and Punjab areas, and has an inspection trip to Agra on his itinerary for Tuesday.

Rep. Passman, of Louisiana's Fifth Congressional district, is due to proceed to Bangkok, Thailand, on Thursday, and will continue his observations and studies in the Philippines, at Hong Kong, on Formosa, in Japan and the Republic of Korea.

He has already been in Jordan Lebanon, Turkey, at Geneva, in Germany and France, gathering facts upon which to obtain further reductions in the United States' vast foreign-spending program.

Chairman of the House Foreign Operations Appropriations committee and advocate of fiscal strictness in government, Passman has informed his Monroe office from the sub-continent of India that "if the public and the Congress will heed the facts, as I am currently being able to irrefutably document many of them, we will be able again next year to effect significant savings" in the huge foreign-aid appropriation. He led this year's successful effort in Congress to reduce the aid appropriation by more than $502 million.

Rep. Passman left New York for his out-of-session congressional assignment September 2. He is due back in the United States, at San Francisco, in October.

About eight per cent more butter and 13 per cent more margerine was purchased for household use in April, 1955, than in April, 1954.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST
No. 2nd at Auburn

"Reality is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, September, 25, 1955.

The golden text is: "The Lord hath brought forth our righteousness: come, and let us declare in Zion the work of the Lord our God" (Jer. 51:10).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson - Sermon is the following from the Bible: "O Lord, how manifold are thy works! in wisdom hast thou made them all: the earth is full of thy riches" (Ps. 104:24).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The spiritual fact, repeated in the action of man and the whole universe, is harmonious and is the ideal of truth." (page 207).

Listen to a 15-minute radio broadcast Sunday at 7:45 a.m. over radio station KNOE.

Today's YOUR GUIDING STAR Messages:

0. Matt. 7:12. Whatever you wish that men would do to you, do so to them.
1. Rom. 14:7. None of us lives to himself.
2. Mark 9:23. All things are possible to him who believes.
3. Rom. 15:2. Let each of us please his neighbor for his good.
4. Acts 19:36. Seeing then that these things cannot be contradicted, you ought to be quiet and do nothing rash.

THE HOME SHIFT—

With Mildred Swift

Dust For Mildew On Crepe Myrtles

Driving to Baton Rouge last week end I saw so many beautiful grasses for flower arrangements along the highways. Now is the time to gather these for your house during the winter months. The cattails are so attractive and can be varnished or painted to keep them from shedding and to carry out the color scheme you'll need.

The iron weed that Mr. Hunt mentioned in his column last Sunday is blooming now. There is a large plot adjoining KLIC's main studio on South Tenth Street that was completely covered with this flower, unless there's been some recent cutting done there.

Any flower will dry well by putting it in a box, covering it with borax, putting the lid on and leaving for about three weeks. Zinnas and blue salvia are especially suited to this type drying. Leaves such as magnolia, wavy leaf photinia, wax leaf ligustrum and pittosporum need to have an inch of their stems pounded then put in a solution of half glycerin and half water. They turn a beautiful bronze color. Some people have success with less glycerin, but it takes equal amounts for my processing. The stems should be in at least two inches of the solution.

Don't forget the old common dock bloom or seed bunches. They work well in arrangements. Also the seed pods of castor bean.

Carrie McKenzie had a wonderful idea. She took cyprus balls, cut the stem off close to the ball, wired this and wrapped the stem with green tape such as you use for corsages. Then she bunched these together like grapes and they are just beautiful. Serena Lewis used a bunch in an arrangement several weeks ago on "Open House." The coloring is a yellow green and some are touched with pink. Just send the husband out in the boat up Bayou DeSiard and tell him to climb a couple of trees. He'll find plenty of cyprus balls for arrangements. Guess that makes me unpopular with Mr. Husband.

Garden News

There's lots of mildew on crepe myrtles. Guess it's because we've done lots of watering. It surely can't be too much rain. This plant is less susceptible to mildew if it is grown in full sun and is not crowded against other shrubs. Continue using dusting sulphur for mildew.

Some gardens in Baton Rouge that have been planned by landscape — architects are pruning these crepe myrtles so they are very tropical looking. A few leader limbs are left and a very few side limbs are left on those. It's quite "twiggy" looking and not at all full. Of course you don't have as many blooms because you have so few limbs but they were really interesting.

Also the reclining juniper was pruned to look like a skeleton. Just a few limbs, and only a little greenery left on the end of each limb. Pruned in that manner they are very attractive for small houses. Otherwise they are too large except for an unusual placing.

Get ready to plant your small seed of hardy annuals in October. These are sown in open ground and bloom early in the spring. They're hardy and stand cold, but die when the summer heat comes. By getting ready is meant spading up beds and working in your complete fertilizer. I gave you a list of seed to plant several Sundays back.

Food News

The supplies of potatoes are reaching the markets. When selecting potatoes in the market, handle carefully. They're easily bruised and that is a loss to the groceryman. You will want potatoes that are uniform in size so all will cook in the same length of time. You'll want potatoes that are a good shape, and free from blemishes. Avoid those with green spots as this is a sign of sunburn which causes the potato to be bitter.

Cook potatoes in the jacket, either boiled or baked to save vitamins and minerals. If you must cook them without the peeling, cook in a small amount of water and use this water in a sauce or soups.

A variety of beef and lamb cuts are on hand to spice dinner menus this week and next. Now is the time for menus to feature beef and lamb stew, pot roast, short ribs, leg of lamb, chuck roasts and other lamb and beef items.

Announcements

Your programs for "Open House" next week are as follows: Monday, Ruth Gulley from Oak Grove will bring you "Care and Growing of Hibiscus." Tuesday will be Business and Professional Woman's Day with some beautiful clothes for the business woman; Wednesday, as usual Mary Margaret will bring the flower arrangements from the Fifth District Garden Center and Mr. C. W. Blackman from Northeast Louisiana State College will give you "Lawn Grasses." Thursday, our Food Preparation Specialist, Irene Turner will bring you some fine food preparation on the week's best buys. Friday is Marketing Day.

See you next Sunday.

Bastrop Flower Show To Open On Sept. 28

The Springtime Garden Club of Monroe presented a beautiful flower show at the Garden Center this week. The exhibits were judged by an accredited judge. In the horticulture section a blue ribbon was awarded to Mrs. John G. Smith for Stapelia cactus. Mrs. Alton Cooper was awarded a blue ribbon for a specimen of Giant Elephants Ear (Caladium Esculentum). This is sometimes listed in catalogs as Colocasia. Mrs. Kent Womack was awarded a ribbon for a large specimen of watermelon pink crepe myrtle.

In the arrangement section Mrs. Jack E. Murphy was awarded first place. Mrs. Murphy designed a beautiful mass arrangement using a flat green pillow container. Green canna leaves were used in the back ground and furled maroon canna were skillfully placed forming a frame for the center of interest, bright red celosia cristata (crested cockscomb). The combination of materials and colors was most pleasing. Mrs. A. J. Tippit was awarded second place, for a triangular arrangement in shades of yellow, orange and green. Mrs. Tippit's container was a rectangular bowl of shaded green. The symmetrical triangle form was created of branches of orange-berried pyracantha. Two - toned marigolds, orange with yellow centers were massed in the foreground. The arrangement was placed against a chartreuse background. Mrs. Marie Madden was awarded third place. A dark green bowl, round in form was used for the unusual arrangement of spider lilies (lycoris radiata). A beautiful linear pattern was created with the spider lilies and airy broom sage was used in the background.

Dates for your calendar. The Cotton Carnival, Fair Exhibits Building, Bastrop, September 28, 29 and 30. Flower Show opens Wednesday, the 28th, and the Franklin and Richland Fair, Winnsboro, La., October 5-6-7-8. Flower Show in connection at the VFW Building, October 6, the theme is "The Flower Fair." In case you missed it earlier I will repeat the dates for the Flower Show School III in Ruston on the Louisiana Tech campus. November 2, 3 and 4. Instructors will be Mrs. Ione Talbert, Fort Worth, in Flower Arranging and Mrs. Walter Colquitt, Shreveport on horticulture. Mrs. Talbert will give a special flower arrangement lecture and demonstration on Tuesday, November 1, at 2 p.m. in the Tech Little Theater. The theme is "Contemporary Arrangements." The Garden Center has on order all the required books on the reading list for these schools. The latest arrivals are: A History of Flower Arrangement by Julia S. Berrall, Flowers: Their Arrangement by J. Gregory Conway, Color in Flower Arrangement by Adelaide B. Wilson, Contemporary Flower Arrangement by Rae L. Goldson, Christmas Lighting and Decorating by Theodore Saros, Wild Flowers for your Garden by Helen S. Hull, The Care and Feeding of Garden Plants published by The American Society for Horticultural Science, and Hollies by H. Harold Hume. All questions for the reading examination will be taken from these books. Use your garden center library.

Have you heard about the Louisiana Flower Arrangement Calendar? All clubs are urged to send in flower arrangement pictures. We surely do want to see the fifth district represented. Send your pictures to Mrs. John Lewis, 610 Mill Street, West Monroe. The deadline is October 15.

Plant Anywhere If Soil Is Right

With the children back in school and leaves turning every day on the trees, you will be getting the urge to dig in the ground if you have not already got it and started. In order to be ready to plant anywhere you please — even where the soil is "perfectly terrible" — you have better get a load or two of some kind of humus and have it dumped near the spots where your planting is to be done. With humus on hand and some bone meal and fertilizer, you can simply plant anywhere your fancy dictates. The basic soil just anywhere is good stuff if you will put with it what nature puts with it to grow plants: decayed vegetable matter.

Compost from your own pile is perfect. If you have not made any, then you will have to look to thoroughly decayed saw dust, leaf mold, peat moss and the like. Rub the saw dust between your fingers to be sure it is rotten. If it has not completely decayed, you will feel the little hard undecayed parts between your fingers. You can spread out any that comes to you not completely decayed and mix it with dirt and a liberal dousing of complete fertilizer to hasten its decomposition. By spring, it will be in good shape unless it is fresh saw dust. Fresh saw dust is dangerous in the garden except as a one or two - inch mulch over the beds as a dust mulch in summer. It is not "poison" at all, but keeps the soil too dry when mixed into it. Sometimes undecayed saw dust is delivered to gardeners because it is brown when moist and really looks decayed, but a bit rubbed between your index finger and your thumb will tell you in a second whether it is decayed or not.

If your soil is pure clay, do not feel hopeless about it. Remember that one third humus, one third coarse (never fine) sand and one third of your clay is the perfect soil to dig in for the rest of your life. The sand will never disappear from it. The humus will in a few years, but your mulch which ought to be kept on top all the time to keep down weeds and labor will decay and get turned into the soil and keep it supplied with decaying vegetable matter just as nature is doing all the time.

It is surprising to see how plants will grow when just any kind of decaying humus is incorporated in the soil. The Congers at Arcadia, La., started a garden in a location with many gulleys and ravines. Mrs. Conger, Senior hit upon the idea of building dams with old newspapers across the ravines. In a few years, she had not only conquered the washouts, but nature had filled in the bottom of her ravines, and when your columnist was there, the plants in the old ravine were the lustiest things in the garden.

Norwegian fishermen landed 123,000 tons of cod in the first half of 1955, compared with 81,000 tons in the same period of 1954.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. A psychologist studied 180 couples, most of them married ten years or more. Of these, thirty-six showed marked resemblance in appearance, posture, facial expression, voice, etc. Similar couples showed much higher degree of happiness than those showing no particular resemblance. Whether married couples realize it or not, people who look alike tend to select each other.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Until the Industrial Revolution, no doubt statesmen influenced the world most, but since then they pale into insignificance compared with men of science. All life — its very philosophy — has been changed by the internal combustion engine, just as it had previously been changed by steam and electricity. Chemistry and biology have revolutionized medicine and lengthened life and made it more abundant. Inventors are masters of the future — even masters of statesmen. Statesmen have often shortened life and made it less abundant.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Yes, although it is probably not one special gift but a combination of qualities — sympathy, love of others, self - sacrifice, tolerance of other people's opinions, firmness in decisions coupled with wisdom, knowing when to let a child alone, knowing how to teach him to make his own decisions, stimulating creative impulses, teaching him as early as possible to assume responsibility. After all, these are the qualities that make up a well - balanced man or woman. Most of these are latent qualities and can be developed.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

The woman who wishes to make a quick transformation from secretary to an after dark charmer should keep a second pair of shoes at the office.

Women Should Take Care To Select Right Shoes

A recent survey shows that there are 19,000,000 American working women and that these women buy about 25 per cent of all shoes sold during the year.

This survey also highlighted the fact that a great many of these women wear the wrong shoes on the job.

All of these statistics boil down to a lot of aching feet. No matter what your job is, whether in an office, factory or store, there are good looking shoes which are fashionable AND comfortable.

For office wear the ideal shoe is a leather pump with a medium heel. One current version which is made by several manufacturers is called the "Sweater Pump." It has elasticized goring at the top which makes it hug the foot.

Popular Varieties

Other popular varieties are: (1) the smooth, suede leather pump with a mid-heel, high enough to be fashionable but low enough to be comfortable. (2) The so-called "walking shoe" with a smart, flexible, leather upper perched on a slim leather sole. In many models this year the heel is on the varied stacked leather type, consisting of shining leather in varied shadings. (3) The wedge or low platform shoe in supple glove leather. This is a happy compromise between style and comfort and is wonderful for the woman whose job keeps her on her feet most of the day.

Leather shoes, tops and bottoms, are best because this material is supple but gives the support necessary for healthy feet. It also has tiny pores which allow the air to circulate.

A great deal of fatigue can be blamed on the wrong kind of shoes or poorly fitted shoes. When you have to be on your feet a lot high heels are killing. These throw the body out of line and place strains on muscles and ligaments. You can imagine what this in turn does to your personality and facial expression. You can get lines between the brows from aching feet.

The woman who wishes to make a quick transformation from secretary to an after dark charmer should keep a second pair of shoes at the office. A quick change from low heels to high, an added ornament, long leather gloves, a dressier bag and a wisp of a hat will give you that party look.

M'Sween To Head Morrison Forces In 8th District

ALEXANDRIA, La., Sept. 24 (Special) — Gubernatorial candidate deLesseps S. "Chep" Morrison announced today in Alexandria, that he has appointed Harold McSween, Alexandria attorney, his campaign manager for the Eighth Congressional District.

Morrison said that intensive organization activities in this area will begin immedately. "I feel fortunate in obtaining Harold McSween to coordinate the work of the leaders in the eight parishes in the Eighth district. McSween has the knack of getting along with people and that is an important asset. I feel that he will do an excellent job and ask the cooperation of my supporters."

McSween has practiced law in Alexandria with his father, John H. McSween, since receiving his LLB degree from L. S. U. in 1950. He is 29 years of age and a life long resident of Alexandria. He is a member of the Rapides Parish School Board, member of the Alexandria Kiwanis club, and a member of the Board of Stewards of the First Methodist Church.

McSween said he intends to put the district headquarters at the complete disposal of the Morrison leaders in the district's eight parishes. "As soon as possible, I shall personally contact Morrison leaders in each parish in this Congressional district to offer my wholehearted cooperation and assistance. I welcome any suggestions from Morrison supporters and intend to see that Chep Morrison's campaign in this area is vigorous and intensive."

Will Open Bids October 12 For Shopping Center

Quentin McLemore and J. W. McLemore, Jr., of Winnsboro, have approved plans for their proposed shopping center for West Monroe which have been prepared by W. King Stubbs, architect, who is announcing that bids will be opened in his offices, Bernhardt Bldg., October 12 at 2 p. m.

The plans call for facilities for eight stores and in all there will be 60,000 square feet.

The site that the McLemores have purchased has street frontage on three streets, Cypress, Crosley and Trenton streets, well located for the West Monroe clientele.

The building will be of solid masonry and will have all modern facilities.

In Hollywood

By Jimmy Fidler

Over 400 Films

By GEORGE MARSHALL
(Guest Columnist)

HOLLYWOOD, September 24 — I am a director who is refusing to be clobbered by cliches.

"Cliches?" you ask. Yes, stereotyped stuff.

I stopped using this one at least 200 pictures ago: The Frontier Colonel's door opens. In staggers a messenger wheezing, "Colonel, I was sent to tell you that . . ." The messenger sputters, coughs and dies.

This puts the Colonel in one heck of a spot and I have been putting Colonels on spots for more than 400 films in a career which is 42 years along. I hope I'm still going strong.

What was the messenger about to say? Is the enemy just over the hill or does the Colonel have time to fill his canteen? It posed an interesting question which kept up suspense as long as necessary. But a director who uses it today is sticking his neck out. It's old hat and audiences are wise.

There will be no such cliches in our current megging effort for Universal - International's "Pillars of the Sky" co-starring Jeff Chandler Dorothy Malone, Ward Bond and Keith Andes on location near La-Grande, Oregon.

It's a story based on absolute fact about the Christianized Indians of the Oregon territory turning in bloody war on the U. S. Government when they face the loss of their hunting lands. History itself holds too much suspense to resort to trickery.

So I refuse to use the cliche technique whether I am dealing with history or not, though not every Hollywood megger can say the same. Sure, I used them all before they became cliches. I recall one which held audiences spellbound for years: The hero stands majestically gazing into space with a clenched fist and says: "If we can find the man who knifed the fellow who stole the horses from the horse thieves who broke into the old Bar-Mitzvah corral, we'll have the man we're looking for."

Such scenes spell suicide for a picture today. The audience reaction is — go ahead and search and when you find him call us, we'll be back.

The director who uses old hat techniques is taking the worst of all chances. The audience will beat him to the punch. Nowhere is this more obvious than in the mystery drama.

An example of this point: The only man with the key to the crime is mortally hurt. He raises up as the hero and heroine wait tensely for him to divulge the name of the murderer. He says, "It was . . ." gasps, falls back and dies.

The natural tendency of today's audience is to finish the sentence, hollering, 'It was Joe,' and go on home.

The American moviegoer is sharp and the director who gambles against that intelligence by using the cliche to solve a story problem is not going to be around very long.

In your western, filled with gunfire and endless chases, you come on another wounded man. The audience knows about the killer. The audience wants to tell the sheriff—and now, at last, the law will learn the name of the blackguard. But, no the wounded man is fatally hurt. He checks out, and the audience sighs, not in disappointment, but in disgust.

Ever meet up with the fellow who has an old one for you, no matter what? His way of telling it will just simply slay you. So he thinks. There's the tall man—the seven-footer. You gazed upon high to see his eyes and watch his mustache flicker. You reach up to shake hands — which is good comedy. You almost totter backwards as you look up into his nose. But you spoil everything by asking: "How's the weather up there, old chappy?"

You see what I mean?

I've always liked that one told on Randy Scott. The western star was stalking the villain, but could not see him. The audience was more fortunate. Just when the mustached killer was about to get the upper hand, a kid in the audience hollered: "He's behind the barn, Randy!"

Good for a laugh, of course, but one of the oldest tricks in picture-suspense making. Keeping the menace hidden. Well, in doing it don't let your purpose be so obvious.

And there's that old one of stretching the robe across the road. It has spilled heroes as well as villains. Worked to death, I'd say. And the daring leap from the tree to the villain's horse.

What I meant in the beginning of this yarn, Jimmie, that in my pictures I'm trying to avoid all the bewhiskered cliches. I believe the picture fans are tired of them. Don't you?

Bell To Spend $500 Million On 2-Year Expansion

Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co. expects to spend approximately $240 million for new facilities in 1955, Fred J. Turner, president of the company, has revealed.

This will be the biggest one-year service improvement and construction program in the company's history, comparing with $188 million spent in 1954, Turner said.

More than half of the facilities for the 1955 program have already been installed and the remainder will be put in between now and the first of 1956, he added.

The company expects to spend $250 million more in 1956 for new equipment, Turner pointed out, bringing its two - year investment in the south to almost $500 million.

About three - fourths of the construction will be for the purpose of providing telephones to fill pending and anticipated orders and to provide higher grades of service to party - line customers, Turner explained.

General Manager W. K. Boardman, Jr., said $35,500,000 will be spent in Louisiana for new facilities in 1955 and that an expenditure of $46,000,000 in the state in 1956 is now contemplated.

Boardman said the new equipment will augment "tremendous growth that has already taken place over the state."

NOT THE SAME JOE

The Joe Messina who was indicted by the Ouachita parish grand jury for operating a gambling house is not the retired merchant by that same name who resides at 318 North Sixth street.

The average annual income of Michigan's families is more than $6,000, well above the national average.

Next attraction — "Female on the Beach," starring Joan Crawford and Jeff Chandler.

BRIGHT LIGHT

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—City police were summoned to the grand opening of a new North Broadway service station after an Air Force pilot complained that he almost landed on the station's apron.

Mistook the searchlight's beam for a ceiling light at McGhee Tyson Air Force Base, he said.

"That's okay," said the station owner when police ordered him to douse the light. "I had more business than I could take care of anyway."

'THE M'CONNELL STORY'—Alan Ladd and June Allyson co-star in "The McConnell Story," Warner Bros.' CinemaScope and WarnerColor production about America's first triple-jet ace. James Whitmore also stars. "The McConnell Story" was produced by Henry Blanke and directed by Gordon Douglas from a screenplay by Ted Sherdeman and Sam Rolfe. It starts at the Paramount next Sunday.

Ladd, Allyson Star In Triple-Jet Ace's Story

The heroic and romantic personal story of Capt. Joseph McConnell, Jr., is dramatized by Warner Bros. in "The McConnell Story," which will open next Sunday at the Paramount Theatre. Alan Ladd and June Allyson co-star in the CinemaScope and Warner-Color film. James Whitmore also stars.

"The McConnell Story" is an intimate account of America's first triple jet ace, one of the nation's great flying heroes. McConnell was known as a tiger in the sky and the film reportedly depicts the drama and happiness of his life on the ground as well as his moments of flying glory. The film story moves from an army camp in New England, where Pvt. Joe McConnell dreams of being a pilot, to the skies over Korea, where Capt. McConnell flies the most advanced aerial weapon of the day—the Sabre Jet. The story shows McConnell as the impulsive young man who falls in love with and marries the girl he called "Butch."

Simultaneously with Warner Bros.' decision to film "The McConnell Story," it is reported, Alan Ladd became the first and only choice for the role of McConnell. The actor, whose increasing popularity has landed him at the top of movie fan polls, seemed to have the McConnell measurements physically and temperamentally. He was quite anxious to play the role of a man whose dual dedication to his home and country Ladd greatly admired.

June Allyson, Warner Bros.' decided, would make the ideal Mrs. McConnell, the beloved "Butch." Miss Allyson came to the Burbank studio at the peak of her career which has been busy with starring roles in such films as, "The Glen Miller Story," "Strategic Air Command," and "The Shrike." It was Miss Allyson's natural warmth and ability to provoke laughter and tears which won for her the role of the woman who placed her husband's happiness before her fears of his flying.

The third principal of "The McConnell Story" is portrayed by James Whitmore. He is seen in the role of Ty Whitman, an ever-loyal friend to the McConnells.

"The McConnell Story" was produced by Henry Blanke. Gordon Douglas directed. The screenplay was by Ted Sherdeman and Sam Rolfe.

The bidding:
South, 1 diamond; West, Pass; North, 2 diamonds; East, Pass.
South, 3 no trump; West, Pass; North, Pass; East, Pass.

Opening lead: Three of spades.

Simple arithmetic was employed dramatically by East in the successful defense of today's contract. South's bid was perhaps somewhat irregular. After North raised the opening diamond bid to two, South decided to brazen out the club situation and jump to three no trump, for which he had sufficient high card values. The more orthodox procedure, of course, would have been to show the heart suit.

West opened the three of spades and East's nine forced declarer's queen. The diamond suit was attacked at once, and when West followed with the eight East was convinced it was a singleton, for at this point in the proceedings there would be no reason for West's playing high-low to show two of the suit. On that basis East made a survey of the exact distributions of both concealed hands, marking South with a singleton club, with what to the uninitiated must seem like clairvoyance. His reasoning was neat.

West's opening lead of the three of spades marks him with four of that suit since the deuce appears in dummy. If West has a singleton diamond he must have four hearts and four clubs, because if his hearts and clubs were distributed five-three he would no doubt have selected the five card suit for his opening lead. Now if West has four clubs South can have only one.

On this line of reasoning, East shifted to the king of clubs. While the normal lead from East's holding would be the five (fourth best), East took the added precaution to guard against South's holding the singleton queen, though if his singleton is one of the smaller cards, the lead of a low club would be equally effective.

With the lead of the king of clubs declarer felt that it would be impossible to bring in his contract without resort to the heart finesse. So he tried it at once and was defeated two tricks. It was true he could have cashed eight tricks immediately but he was not interested in minor economies.

'Moonfleet' To Begin At Jim Next Saturday

"Moonfleet," M-G-M's action-filled drama in CinemaScope and color centering on an intrepid adventurer and smuggler of England's 18th century, will be shown starting Thursday at the Jim Theatre.

The picture is based on the novel by J. Meade Falkner, a best-seller when first published in 1889 and a best-seller again on its second publication in 1953. It was produced by John Houseman, producer of such film hits as "Executive Suite" and "Julius Caesar."

A cast of international favorites stars Stewart Granger, George Sanders, Joan Greenwood and Viveca Lindfors, who followed her role in the picture with an outstanding hit on the Broadway stage in "Anastasia." Jon Whiteley, England's leading child actor, and Melville Cooper head a large supporting cast.

Granger, who has become Hollywood's top personifer of two-fisted adventurers, plays the smuggler who is pursued by three beautiful women, the Swedish-born Miss Lindfors, England's Miss Greenwood, and Liliane Montevecchi, Parisienne ballerina. The role follows his recent hits in "Beau Brummell" and "Green Fire."

Miss Greenwood, a favorite on the British stage and screen, made her Broadway debut in the T. S. Eliot play, "The Confidential Clerk," and now makes her first Hollywood appearance, following roles in such British pictures as "Kind Hearts and Coronets," "The Man in the White Suit" and "Tight Little Island."

Miss Montevecchi, a member of Roland Petit's Ballet de Paris, made her screen bow in "The Glass Slipper." In "Moonfleet" she enacts a tempestuous gypsy and during a wild gypsy dance is accompanied by the world-renowned guitarist, Vincente Gomez.

Ten-year-old Jon Whiteley has been hailed for two of the screen's outstanding juvenile performances in "Stranger in Between" and "The Little Kidnappers."

A record total of 54 sets were required, among them a full-scale reproduction of an 18th century British Army prison camp. Location scenes along the Southern California coast duplicated the rugged and desolate English coast, headquarters for the smugglers.

"Moonfleet" was directed by Fritz Lang, who has directed some of the screen's biggest successes, among them "M," "Fury," "Clash By Night" and "The Big Heat."

STARTS TODAY AT JIM—Piper Laurie makes her singing and dancing debut in Universal-International's Technicolor musical comedy, "Ain't Misbehavin'," in which she co-stars with Rory Calhoun, Jack Carson and Mamie Van Doren.

SIREN SILENT

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Fire Bureau officials here pride themselves on their efficiency, but they had red faces after the regular Monday noon air raid siren test got lost in the shuffle.

They simply forgot about the test and by the time someone remembered, it was too late. The sirens couldn't be sounded late for fear the public might think it was a real attack.

Nobody seemed to miss it because no one queried civil defense officials to find out what had happened.

"WHEN THE PHANTOM SHOT IT, IT COLLAPSED LIKE THE FALSE THING IT WAS -"

SOME SORT OF BALLOON!

"AND BY SOME MAGIC, IT BURNED INTO ASHES!"

NOW - WHO COULD HAVE BROUGHT THAT HERE?

WILSON McCOY 9-25

HE WASN'T AFRAID! CALL THE SHIP TELL THEM THE TEST FAILED, ROOG.

THEY KNOW. THEY'RE WATCHING ON THE SCREEN. WAIT FOR INSTRUCTIONS FROM THEM, GOOG.

"AND FROM THE MIGHTY SHIP OF THE STAR DEMONS, HIGH IN THE SKY - CAME THE ORDER".

CONT'D.

AW, FER TH' LOVA MIKE! THAT'S BOB FELLER, TH' GREAT PITCHER.

NOW THE OTHER TEAM IS GOING OUT TO PLAY AWHILE-HMM-WHY DO THOSE TWO GENTLEMEN WEAR THE MUZZLES, KAYO?

THAT'S TO KEEP THEM FROM BITIN' EACH OTHER.

ISN'T THAT THE FELLER CHAP GOING OUT THERE TO TOSS THE BALL AGAIN?

YEH... COME ON, BOB! PUT SOME SMOKE ON IT!

WELL, COME, KAYO. LET'S GO. THIS IS WHERE WE CAME IN.

WELL, OF ALL TH'—!

ZOK!

OH, BOY! HE'S GOT A KNOT ON HIS KNOB AS BIG AS A APPLE.

IS THERE A DOCTOR IN THE CROWD?

GEE! I'M SORRY.

HE'LL BE OKAY NOW.

WAIT A MINUTE. WHOA! IS THEY A FOUNTAIN PEN IN TH' CROWD?

OOOH - MY HEAD!

OH, BOY, ARE WE LUCKY!

TAXI

HEY! COME TAKE A SQUINT AT LORD PLUSHBOTTOM. HE GOT BEANED BY A BALL THAT BOB FELLER PITCHED.

OH, MY STARS!

WELL, HIS HEAD'S PURTY HARD SO IT COULDN'T OF HURT HIM MUCH.

IT MUST HAVE MADE QUITE A BUMP, KAYO.

DIAL SOAP AGAIN OFFERS YOU THIS WONDERFUL OPPORTUNITY

WIN AN OIL WELL!

HAVE MONEY FLOWING IN FOR YEARS

HOW TO WRITE WINNING JINGLES

2-line jingles are the easiest kind to write! Just start your jingle with "I'm glad I use Dial." Make the last word in both lines rhyme (as in samples at right). Read our "Hints" and just tell us your own reasons for liking Dial Soap. Mail today—you may win an Oil Well!

HINTS TO HELP YOU WIN

Dial is the only leading soap with AT-7 (Hexachlorophene). There's nothing else as good at removing skin bacteria. Dial stops perspiration odor before it starts, so you have that Dial feeling all day. Dial protects complexions, even under make-up. And Dial helps prevent infections following minor cuts and bruises.

Millions have changed to Dial faster than to any other soap. It's mild, and it smells good. Users say they just don't feel as clean with any other soap. Tell us your reason for liking Dial—it may win Cash or an Oil Well!

LAST YEAR'S GRAND PRIZE WINNER

Miss Virginia M. Davis, 4121 Fontainebleau Drive, New Orleans, as she learned she was the Grand Prize Winner in Dial's 1954 Oil Well Contest. Miss Davis is a bookkeeper in a sugar broker's office. She says she kept a pad and pencil with her to jot down ideas. And Miss Davis sent jingles in regularly.

DIAL'S 1953 GRAND PRIZE WINNER was Mr. Donald Parkinson, of 6027 Ellsworth, Dallas, Texas.

Grand Prize

Full operating income of a producing oil well (subject to usual farmer's royalty). Independent petroleum engineer estimates winner's first year's income at $12,000—gradually less yearly income for as long as 10 to 20 years. Total may eventually run as high as $35,000. Or—winner can take $25,000 cash.

206 cash prizes every week for 6 weeks!

First Prize	$1000	Cash every week
5 Prizes each	$100	Cash every week
200 Prizes each	$10	Cash every week

Imagine becoming rich overnight! That's your opportunity in Dial's 6 weekly contests. 1,236 cash prizes—and an Oil Well as Grand Prize—all for winning jingles on Dial Soap. Enter often every week! Increase your chance of winning!

★ DIAL SOAP JINGLE CONTEST ★

Just finish a 2-line jingle starting with

"I'M GLAD I USE DIAL_____

SAMPLE JINGLES

I'm glad I use Dial, I wish everyone would,
For Dial stops odor in a way that is good!

I'm glad I use Dial, its lather so creamy,
Helps my complexion in a way that is dreamy.

6 Big Contests! Enter often every week! 6

Enter this week and every week!

Follow these easy rules

1. Finish a 2-line jingle that starts "I'm glad I use Dial . . . . ." Last word in both lines must rhyme.

2. Send in as many entries as you wish. Write each on a separate piece of paper. Print your name and address plainly. Attach to each entry a Dial Soap wrapper—either Bath or Regular Size. Mail to DIAL, BOX 7199, Chicago 77, Ill. (Be sure to use enough postage.)

3. There will be 6 weekly contests, each with its own set of prizes each week. Dates are:

Contest	Opens	Closes
1st	Now	Oct. 1
2nd	Oct. 2	Oct. 8
3rd	Oct. 9	Oct. 15
4th	Oct. 16	Oct. 22
5th	Oct. 23	Oct. 29
6th	Oct. 30	Nov. 5

4. Entries received before midnight, Oct. 1, judged in first week's contest. Thereafter, entries received judged in the then current week's contest which will close midnight each successive Saturday. Entries for 6th and final week's contest must be postmarked before midnight, Sat., Nov. 5, and received by Nov. 12, 1955.

5. Grand Prize awarded at end of final contest will be full operating income of a producing oil well (subject to usual farmer's royalty) or $25,000 cash. Armour and Company will furnish independent petroleum engineer's estimate of oil well's present and future earnings to help winner decide whether to choose oil well or $25,000 cash. Also, following Cash Prizes will be awarded each week: 1 Prize, $1,000 Cash; 5 Prizes, each $100 Cash; 200 Prizes, each $10 Cash. Grand Prize winner selected from among six weekly $1,000 winners.

6. Entries judged on originality, uniqueness and aptness of thought by Reuben H. Donnelley Corp. Duplicate prizes in case of ties. Judges' decision final. No entries returned, no correspondence entered into. Winning entry not published. Entries, contents and ideas therein become property of Armour and Company for any and all purposes. Not responsible for entries lost or delayed in mails. Entries with inadequate postage disqualified. Armour and Company reserves right to disqualify any entry which was not personally composed by contestant or members of his immediate household. (This right reserved to disqualify entries prepared by professional "ghost" writers, schools and contest writing services). You accept conditions of these rules when you enter.

7. All persons in U.S., its territories and possessions may enter, except employees of Armour and Company, its advertising agencies and their families. Contest subject to all Federal and State regulations. Winners notified by mail. List of winners mailed to anyone sending stamped, self-addressed envelope approximately eight weeks after close of sixth contest.
